UNIVERSITY MEN WRITE ARTICLES

Two Contributions to Recent Number of Iowa Journal of History

The January number of the Iowa Journal of History and Politics contains two interesting articles by Iowa University men. One is by Prof. Lewis Protein who writes on the migration of the French and German in Louisiana. The other is an account of Captain James Allen's Delaware voyage. These articles will be very interesting to persons interested in the French and the Delaware people.

MUCH FAVORABLE COMMENT
There has been a very gratifying response to the campus offering of the lectures and the campus offering of the classes, which are being conducted by the university. The men who are taking the courses in two or more subjects in one place are finding that the advantages of this plan have been realized, and the amount of work which has been done is considered very good.

RELIGIOUS CAMPAIGN
Now that the University of Iowa has announced that the biggest campaign of religion that has been held in Iowa City for hundreds of years, with the several churches uniting in the business, leaders of Iowa City working hard. The last session of these three-weeks meetings ought to mean the greatest revival of Christian living in our city has seen.

There will be five professional evangelists and no stay on these special meetings but everyone will be welcome to the local pastors. The following special committees have been appointed by the minister's union to arrange for the campaign: personal recruiting, Rev. W. C. Flaherty; advertising, Rev. E. E. Ellis; music, Rev. W. E. Westervelt, prayer meetings, H. E. Williams. The idea that the campaign of Iowa City is being spread is due to Rev. Sylvester E. Ellis and at Marshalltown, where the plan was the meetings. The plan is such that the project will be a whole week to himself and may be able to carry on a complete line of thought throughout the week. The plan ought to be fought out hereafter by a differential speaker each week.

LANTERN SLIDE LECTURE
GIVEN AT IDA GROVE
Large Crowed Interested Lectures were on the University Last Night

Last night at Idga Grove, E. L. Glazer, 121 of the State University and principal of the Idga Grove high school gave the last lecture in the series of lectures given by the high school students and the public of Idga, orally.

The students of Idga Grove high school had heard a great deal at these lantern slide lectures through this time, and has had the good fortune to become city editor of the Daily Bulletin, which position he assumed next Monday morning.

Mr. Bell has had a great deal of business in the university, both as a student and requiring a large number of friends through his ability as a man who could do things.

Mr. Bell has been very much interested in all through college course and through his ability this is also associated with the Daily Iowa as a reporter, but today when his ability as a newspaper man has a place as he has done and he held that position for almost three years. Last fall when the management of the university was held by the people therera, however, it is understood that Mr. Bell will be in the university next fall be-cause of his master's degree.

EXCEPTIONAL SHOW ON AT ENGLERT'S THEATRE

Aeronauts give great Spring
human drama in marvelous—other acts good. "Billie" Englert has appropriately made the hit of the season's run in lining up the bill which he is presenting to the public the latter part of this week. The first act, performed yesterday afternoon,
was a fair sized crowd in the afternoon but it is evident that the value of the exceptional play spread for in the evening
there were one of the largest crowds that has attended the first act this year.

Caroline, the human dragon opens the show. Most everybody has, at some time, seen a contortionist but Caroline is one of the greatest men in this line. The aeronauts give Vandervelde's newest acts made the hit of the evening, singing a few songs to lead up to her feature, she called out over the audience in a minute aeronautian. Dancing gilt-ing in her apparently unstable seat, brilliant and gay costuming. There seemed to take exceptionally well, since the audience was spell bounded

SAVE A DOLLAR—TWO

From Factory to Foot

THEE papers carry much news of the farmers' revolt against the present methods of reaching market with their commodities. Potatoes costing the people of New York City eighty million dollars, netted the producers but sixteen millions. The middleman got the difference.

PERSONALS

Miss Hazel Thornsby of Woodward, Iowa, has been pledged in Alpha Chi Omega.

Madge Porter, N. I., who underwent a serious operation Tuesday, is recovering and will be able to be about again in a week or two. Marble Parrish, N. I., is able to be about again after an operation, and will go to her home at Marshalltown Saturday for a few weeks rest.

Clara Larson, N. I., will leave for her home at Griswold-Tuesday, after being confined in the hospital over two months following an operation.

Hypertion will dance tomorrow evening at elastic hall.

The engineers will dance this evening at Hoeppel's auditorium. Prof. and Mrs. P. O. Hughes will chaperone.

THE SPRING MAD COMING

Although it is now in its second successful season, Webs & Looetleh will present for the first time in this city the Wisconsin musical minstrel piece, "The Spring Mad," at Elgin's theater. For nearly 890 performances New York applauded the saucy little Princess Bosua as she danced the Love Waltz with Prince Aladur in this joyous opera. Crowded houses nightly enjoyed her bumbling "Porcelain Porcelain" song and the romantic "Two Little Love Bears" duet. The seductive walk "Day Dreamer" awoke her audiences in this musical with the laughing prince hidden in the garden below, won a thousand encore. Chaperoned by her comedy father Prince V uptalm an deserted her amours. Deserted hence her royal lover a merry chase and keeps her audience convulsed with laughter at every performance.

In Its Heart, the story tells the romantic love affair of the saucy little Princess Bosua and the gallant Prince Aladur, and how she masquerades as one of the fair attendants at Carlsbad Springs. She wins the heart of the prince, and when he proposes, casts him aside, only to learn that her heart has gone with him. Only a comic opera libretto knows how to treat the love story and bring about the happy ending for all the characters.

A record-breaking triumph has been the history of this latest European importation. Little Marguerite Wright, with her pretty face and unconventional, the prime demand, has won a 'two-season's' success that places her among the best light opera stars.

Miss Wright has returned from Budapest, where she created the title role abroad, to sing again the part of Princess Bosua, while Charles McLaughlin, an international comedy favorite, will handle the role of Roland, the laughable tragedian, and Cecil Ryan, the Australian baritone, will sing the role of Prince Aladur.

The Fredericks Bankers will give a mineral water ball at the Hotel Tinsdale next Tuesday night. Tickets $3 cents.

Any student who sings "Chase Boys' Chase" at the University of Nebraska will be expelled from school.
