IOWA TRIMS COE BY BIG SCORE

FIRST TRIAL OF ABOLITION OF TWO SPORT RULE PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Visitors Made Three Baskets During Whole Game—Everybody Scored For Iowa—Hawkeyes Played Good Game—Dick Out For Iowa.

The wisdom of the abolition of the two-sport rule was amply demonstrated last evening when Iowa defeated Coe on the local floor 43 to 12. Strengthened by the appearance of Dick, the football star, who came out for the first time on Saturday and broke into last night's game with one day of practice, the Hawkeyes showed the first real form of the year. Dick himself played a grand game, and his fast work speeded up the whole team. Leo and Gardner got going, and with Dick ran up a big score in the first half. Coe failed to get a field goal in ths period, Stookey throwing two fouls and the half ending 21 to 2. In the second period Stookey did better with his foul goals and when Weaver replaced Dick, also got three from the field, thus making all of Coe's points.

The Hawkeyes played with precision and finish from the start. Dick got the first field goal in short order, and with the help of Gardner and Leo kept the big ring warm. Berry and Maiden played strong floor games, and in the second period the captain, who made his initial appearance at forward, got the most of Iowa's field goals. Two of these he sent in by beautiful shots from directly in front of the basket.

The game got rough in the second half, and the Coe athletes did their full share of this work. Berry dropped in six fouls in eight tries, while Stookey of Coe got the same number in thirteen trials. The visitors were weakened by the loss of Verink, their star forward, who is kept out of the game by injuries.

Numerous spills marked the encounter, six men being piled on the floor on one occasion in the second half. Stookey of Coe played a clever game, while Dick, Gardner, Leo, and Captain Berry were the right lights of the Iowa team. Dick repeatedly showed his worth to the team, and the work of the varsity promises to improve greatly as the result of his presence in the game. Other additions to the team from the ranks of last fall's football squad are expected. The Hawkeyes go to Mt. Vernon to play Cornell on Wednesday, and meet Ames on the home floor Saturday night. The line-up:

IOWA: Berry, (c), Trexel R F; Gardner, LF; Leo, C; Maiden, Berry RG; Dick, Weaver, LG.

COE: Stookey, (c), RF; Bailey, Roberts, LF; Balcar, Bailey, C; Gus-

ENGINEERS IN CONSTERNATION

St. Patrick's Day Same Date as Birth Of Ames Engineering College

The engineers are grieved. They are pained; their faces, severally and collectively, are seamed with sorrow. They have found something; they have unearthed the fact that during all these years that they have been celebrating the day of "Ye St. Patrick"; they have also been commerating the day of "Ye Ames college of engineering; for it seems that ever and ever so many yeargs ago on the seventeenth of March 1492, or whatever year it was, Ye obtreperous college of engineering at Ames first began to draw the breath of life.

Hence and therefore, every seventeenth of March celebrated by the Iowa engineers since then might be taken on the light of a joy fest over the existence of the aforesaid obstrepous college of engineering at Ames. The engineers are grieved; the thought gives them a pain. There are rumblings and mutterings of discontent over in the college of applied science because of these things. They have half a notion to change the date of the forthcoming celebration. They may too. The thing is undecided, as yet, but it seems not at all unlikely that some action will be taken.

HERBERT M. HARWOOD TO LECTURE TO CONVENTION

Third Annual Convention of Ad Clubs Convenes at Waterloo This Week

The third annual convention of the Associated Ad Clubs of Iowa will be held at Waterloo,, next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Herbert M. Harwood, secretary of the association will reliver an illustrated lecture taking for his subject "What Iowa Has to Advertise". There will be many interesting pictures of the various manufacturing plants and many industries of Iowa shown together with three fine pictures of the university. Professor Weller of the State University will also be present at the convention.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

At a meeting of the Political Science club held last night at the home of Prof. and Mrs. F. C. Ensign, Professor Pierce of the economics department read a scholarly paper on "Recent Child Labor Legislation". He reviewed the progress of legislation relating to the employment of children and outlined what he believed to be the tendency of law making along this line. More uniformity in child labor legislation is the slogan of the National Child Commission. Along with this suggestion, Professor Peirce noted another idea of the commission, namely, that of establishing a child welfare bureau at one of the departments at Washington.

HAWKEYE ORDERS ARE TAKEN TODAY

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD WILL SOLICIT ORDERS FOR JUNIOR ANNUAL

Book to Representative of all Colleges of University—Big Humorous Department—Seven Colored Pages.

Beginning with today, the members of the Hawkeye staff will solicit among students for orders of the junior annual. Each member of the board and representatives from every college of the university will be assigned definite territory so that every student will have an opportunity to subscribe for the book.

This is the announcement made by the editor and business manager of the annual, and they will follow the same policy as that of last year in regard to extra copies. No more books will be printed than are ordered, therefore they urge that everyone who wishes a Hawkeye to place his order with one of the solicitors or at the office.

"The actual work on the book is well under way", say the members of the board. Plans for the best Hawkeye yet are now worked out in detail and many new features are contemplated. The border design, which adds much to the beauty of the printed page is a new design executed by an artist of skill and experience. There will be seven colored "frontices", or colored pages, to mark off the different departments of the book. The names of O'Brien, the art editor, Fiske, a student in the fine arts college and Powers, whose work on last year's annual called forth so much favorable comment, assure artistic workmanship of the highest order.

If there is anyone who is not represented in the joke department, it will be the fault of his friends or himself.

Campus, class rooms, fraternity house, boarding house, every corner of the city is being rummaged for bright and witty sayings and accounts of practical jokes.

An all-university annual is the ideal of everyone at work on the book. Each college of the university is guaranteed a certain number of pages, while all student activities will receive due notice. In this way, an annual becomes not only a book of entertainment but a real encyclopaedia, a handy reference book of the university without which a student cannot know his alma mater and its activities thoroughly.

FIRE AT PHI BETA HOUSE

A fire at the Phi Beta Pi house was the cause of considerable excitement for a time, but was extinguished before any serious damage was done. The fire started in a waste basket anr spread to some nearby curtains before being put out.

REV. LOWE TO GIVE ADDRESS WED.

Iowa's Greatest Preacher to Speak at Mid-Week Meeting of Y. M. C. A.

The men of the university are to have the privilege of hearing "Iowa's greatest preacher", Wednesday evening when Rev. Titus Lowe will speak at the mid-week meeting of the Y. M. C. A. The association is bringing Mr. Lowe from Cedar Rapids, to deliver an address, and thus they are going to start out their second semester of religious meetings with this one which is especially good. Rev. Lowe who is pastor of a Methodist church at Cedar Falls, is recognized as the greatest preacher in Iowa and one of the greatest in the west. At his church people have to go fifteen minutes early to get a seat. At present they are building a new church there to accomodate the enormous crowds, and while this church is in the course of construction, Rev. Lowe is preaching in the opera house. He fills this with a crowd that is larger than ever attends a play there.

Rev. Lowe is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity and is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university. For five years he was pastor of Thornburne church at Calcutta India, the largest English speaking church in the orient. He will take as the topic for his address Wednesday evening "The World Around." All those who wish to talk with Rev. Lowe on work in the ministry or concrening work in the orient can do so after 3:30 Wednesday afternoon by making arrangements ith secretary Williams. The meeting, which will be held at Close hall, will start promptly at 7:00 so that those who wish to may attend the Union religious meeting at the Congregational church afterwards. Special music has been provided for the meeting.

SIGMA XI LECTURE IS POSTPONED

Professor Keyser of Columbia University Cancels Date on Account of Sickness

A real disappointment for scientific students of the university appears in the cancelled date for the Sigma Xi lecture.

Professor C. J. Keyser, professor of mathematics in Columbia University, who was to have delivered the lecture before the Sigma Xi society Feb. 22, sent a message yesterday that he would be unable to fill his engagement on account of illness. He has undergone an operation for appendicits and therefore has been forced to cancel all his lecture dates.

DO WE WANT STUDENT SELF GOVERNMENT

BURNING QUESTION BROUGHT UP BY GREATER UNIVERSITY COMMITTEE

The Time is Ripe For the Consideration of This Problem—Loyal Support of Every Student Needed For Success.

We print here a letter received from "An Iowa Man" in which the question of self-government is placed before the students:

Do we want student self-government? This should be the question uppermost in the mind of every live Iowa student at the present time. It is a big question, one of great importance, and one that must not be decided without careful deliberation. Futhermore, it is a question which the student body alone can answer.

I venture to say that on first though every student at "Iowa" will say, "Certainly we want self-government, who does not want a voice in governing himself?" But that is not enough. How badly do we want it? Are we ready for it in every sense of the word? Does the student body as a whole feel the need of self-government sufficiently to make a success of it? Is our demand for it measured simply by our being willing to give it a trial, or do we feel the need of it strongly enough to be willing to get behind it and boost? Usually a student activity will flourish if it has the support of only a few of the more energetic students, but not so with self-government. The Greater University Committee, no matter how enthusiastic, cannot make this a success without the support of every student in the university? If the members of the G. U. Committee are the only ones who feel the need of self-government for the students then are not ready for it at all.

There comes in the history of every people a time when it craves the opportunity to show its capability of governing itself. The same thing is true with the individual. Every young man and woman comes to a point in his life when he wants to be his own master. And I believe it is true of every student body; there comes a time in its career when self-government is impossible of accomplishing the best results, when there is a crying demand for it on every side. The question is, has this time come in the history of the Iowa student body. Are the Iowa students not only desirous of governing themselves, but are they capable of doing so? Many of the Iowan readers will resent this last question. If so, come out and show that you want to be self-governed. How is any one to know that you want to govern yourself if no more than a handful of "representative students" are making the demand? Come out; make a noise, let people

WHAT IS IOWA'S SPIRIT?

At the vesper services Sunday afternoon this question was brought to our mind very forcibly. It happened at the opening of the services when Prof. Fullerton got up to lead the audience in the singing of "OLD GOLD". To our great surprise only two men students had spirit enough to rise to their feet. To us this seems to be an inexcusible occurrence, and we think that decisive steps should be taken that such a thing does not occur again. Students and alumni should learn to love the university hymn, "OLD GOLD", so that whenever it is sung they would rise to their feet spontaneously and join in singing it with all the spirit and enthusiasm possible.

STUDENT SELF GOVERNMENT

The time is now here for every student in the university to decide for himself the question of self government. To be progressive we must keep up with the times and provide methods of government which will be for the best of all concerned.

We believe that student self government is the one necessary thing for the students of the State University of Iowa and it will come sooner or later, however, the word latter is not in our vocabulary concerning this question. Watch the Daily Iowan, learn all details of this question and when the time comes for decision of the question there will be but one result, namely SELF GOVERNMENT AT IOWA.

IOWA COMES BACK

It seems that the abolition of the "Two sports" rule has had the desired effect of the Iowa basketball team. Last night the "Old Gold" bunch played rings around the Coeites and we are glad to note that we have swung into the game at last and hope that this is the beginning of no little success in this sport. Iowa has been seriously handicapped thus far this season but they are now on their feet and prospects are bright for victory in some of their major games this year.

CAMPAIGN ON RELIGION AT IOWA CITY THIS WEEK

Meetings Will be Held at the Congregational Church all During the Coming Week

Addresses for the first week of the campaign of religion in this city promise to be very interesting. Rev. C. C. Rowlison, who is to be the speaker of the week announces the following subjects and special meetings: On Sunday evening, the opening union meeting in the Congregational church he will speak on "The School of Jesus." "A Christian Church," the address for Monday night, will be of special interest to the church members. On Tuesday night Rev. Mr. Rowlison will speak on "The Christian's Secret." An address which will particularly draw the women will be the one for Wednesday night on "Women's Glory." The men will be specially interested in the Thursday night address, "A Man's Christian." In his closing address on Friday evening Mr. Rowlinson will speak on "The Marks of the Man Christ Jesus.

Previous to his coming to Iowa City, where he has been the able pastor of the Christian church for five years, Rev. C. C. Rowlinson was president of Hiram college, Ohio, for almost three years. The speaker for this coming week graduated from Eureka college in 1891 and from Harvard Divinity Schoool in 1895. He took high honors in scholarship and represented his college on the commencement program at Harvard. Even now in his strenuous work as a pastor, Mr. Rowlinson is continuing his interest in scholarship by taking some advanced graduate work in the university. As a speaker he is interesting and forceful and ought to draw good audiences throughout the week.

The meetings begin promptly at 7:30 in the Congregational church and will, began Sunday night and will last throughout this week, excepting Saturday night.

PROFESSOR WELLER TO WRITE FOR MAGAZINE

New Archaelogical Magazine to be Published Soon—To Be Non-Technical

The first of next March there will be issued the first issue of a non-technical magazine, which will be called "The non-technical archaelogical journal". The Iowa society of the archaelogical institute of America has been prominent in promoting this new journal, in fact it is the result of a suggestion made by Professor Weller of this university and the society has seen fit to act upon that suggestion.

Professor Shipley of Washington university is chairman of the editorial board. The contributing editors are as follows: Professor Egbert, Columbia university; Professor Clay, Yale university; Professor Hodge of the Smithsonian Institute; Professor Robinson of the McCormic Theological seminary.

Professor Weller is to write an article for the first issue.

know that we want to govern ourselves, and that we consider ourselves capable of so doing. Unless we do this all the work of the G. U. Committee will be fruitless, and this agitation for a real student council will go down in the history of the university as one more possible reform that failed for lack of support from the student body.

Every student in the university who feels that he is ready to take a hand in governing himself, who wishes to see the majority rule here in the student body as well as in the outer world, who wants his university to be on a par with the other big institutions of the country, who wants to see a stop put to all petty graft and "political finance" should feel it his duty to go on record one way or the other in support of this movement. He can do this either by submitting his opinions for publication, or by prevailing upon any organization to which he may belong to draw up resolutions to that effect, and by stirring up interest in the matter among his friends.

If this is not done it must be taken for granted that "IOWA" is not ready for self-government, and more than that, that we are incapable of it. If the little flame that has been kindled by the G. U. Committee is not fanned into a strong blaze by the student body it will be just that much effort wasted, and it will result in nothing. Students of "Iowa" are we capable of self-government or not? Are we inferior to the student bodies of our sister universities, or are we their equals? This is for us to answer, let us wake up and realze our responsibility.

"An Iowa Man".

POST-EXAM JUBILEE COMES NEXT THURSDAY

All Colleges in University to be Represented on Program

Examinations are over and everyone is feeling in need of a big relaxation. This will be provided at the big post-exam. jubilee which will be held in the natural science auditorium Thursday evening at 8:00. Final preparations are being made for this affair, which promises to outclass anything of its kind ever held here. All the colleges in the university will be represented on the program which will be given as will also several of the fraternities and organizations. The complete program will be announced tomorrow.

DENTS VS. PHARMACEUTS

The next game of the interdepartment series will be played at 2:30 next Saturday by the dents and the pharmacists. The following Saturday, Feb. 15, the big game of the series will be pulled off when the dents and the engineers clash in a struggle for the interdepartment championship. Without a doubt this will be one of the best games ever seen on the armory floor. Both teams are keyed up to a high pitch and will be in excellent shape for the game. Almost as far back as can be remembered there has always been a bitter rivalry existing between these two schools and there does not seem to be any probability that this rivalry will cease at this stage of the game. A small admission will probably be charged. The pharmics will play the L. A. team on that day and the double bill wil be well worth seeing.

For the first time in its history, Dartmouth university will have a gymnasium team. It is probable that it will soon compete with other universities.

SOME FINE STUNTS AT ENGLERT THEATRE

New Line of Stunts Put on This Week—Makes Fine Show All Around

Adding a new line of acts to his vaudeville this week "Billy" Englert has succeeded in scoring another hit with the public. Although the anticipation of "The Spring Maid" this evening cut down the attendance a little last night, there was a fair sized crowd who left the show well pleased with what they had seen and heard.

Joe Kennedy, the "roller skates" comedian opens the bill and has a new line of stunts on the skates which are a wonder to the public. Currie and Earle "the singing and piano entertainers" are there with the goods when it comes to handling the piano and their pieces. They made good last night and were enchored several times. Rogers and McIntosh, put on a pleasing little playlet entitled "The Green Mouse". They are both clever actors and their mirth provocing escapade is highly acceptable in a good bill like the one now on. Harry Gilbert, sure does go to a party alright, and the time he has is an eye opener to most people. This is a unique act which is well worth seeing.

The bill closes with the three dixie girls, singing southern songs. These girls have exceptional voices and they know how to use them. The class of singing they do is the sort which makes one want to hear them again and again.
