RIFLE TEAM IS CLIMBING HIGHER

Team Makes a Score of 947 in Shoot With Minnesota This Week

The Iowa rifle team is improving each week and in the last shoot totaled a score of 947 points against the marksmen of the Gopher institution. This is the best score that the local men have shot this year and the chances of winning the western shoot are exceedingly well based. In this week's shoot the team shot a better score standing but fell down on the prone. Mr. Chapman shot a fine score in the standing score and but for the failure of his gun to work properly the total points would have been several points higher.

Following is the score:

	Stand'g	prone	total
Arnold J. Oehler	95	98	193
Bernhard Reinsch	93	97	190
Fred Boerner	94	94	188

GLICK IS WINNER IN N. O. L. CONTEST

SIX MEN TRIED FOR THE HONOR OF REPRESENTING IOWA AT OBERLIN THIS YEAR

Contest Held in Natural Science Auditorium Last Evening—Gabriel Gets Second Place—Small Crowd Attends Program.

George G. Glick of Muscatine, champion and intercollegiate debater will be the representative of Iowa in the final contest of the Northern Oratorical league at Oberlin, Ohio this year. The judges awarded him first place in the preliminary contest held at natural science auditorium last evening.

The second place was awarded to John Gabriel, a junior in the college of liberal arts from Waterloo. C. H. Fishburn of Muscatine a senior in liberal arts received third place in the contest. The decisions were close and not until the announcement of places was given by J. Howard Anderson, presiding officer, did the crowd know who were the winners.

"Slaves of Tradition"

Mr. Glick won the contest on an oration entitled "Slaves of Tradition" which dealt with the life of the Jewish race. He brought out forcefully the fact that America was the promised land of the sons of Israel and that the United States was the only nation granting these people a real chance to develop and show their true characteristics.

"America's True Imperialism" was the title of Mr. Gabriel's oration. He showed that altruism and not egotism will be the dominating influence in the new imperialism or the American people. The third place was gained on the oration "The Culture Beds of Crime". Mr. Fishburn forcefully pictured the conditions where criminals are made in the large cities of the country.

Three Other Contestants

Adrain Foley opened the program with a well prepared oration on "Self Interest and the World's Peace". The oration showed how in the interests of commercialism universal peace should be established. Merrill J. Curtis followed Mr. Foley and spoke on "The Class and the Mass." The tendency of the American people toward class distinction was brought out. Clarence B. Isaac presented the cause of "Our American Womanhood." The oration showed plainly the glory of the woman and contrasted it with their needs.

Five Judges

The orations were ranked by the judges on the basis of general effectiveness at the time of delivery. The judges for the contest were Professors G. M. Kay, A. C. Trowbridge, Louis Pelzer and Samuel Sloan and Postmaster H. G. Walker.

Iowa now stands tied with Oberlin college for fourth place in the oratorical league. The university of

NEW DEPARTURE IN EDUCATION

Lectures Given to Students of Education by Various Members of Faculty

A series of lectures was begun yesterday of unusual interest to prospective teachers in its bearing on all the phases of the high school curriculum. These lectures are given by representative members of the faculty and are based on the educational value of subject matter. This is a new idea of Professor R. M. Stewart of the department of education, who instituted this series as special lectures in the "Principles of Education."

The addresses are non-technical, and are of interest, not only to prospective teachers, but also to those who wish to obtain a general knowledge of subjects in which they are not specializing. The purpose of these addresses is to give every teacher an idea of the different phases of the high school curriculum. In order to be able to give competent advice in the secondary schools it is necessary to have a general knowledge of the subjects on the curriculum. The addresses are given from the point of view of the content discipline, and expression of subject matter.

Practically all of the students of education in the university heard Miss Geyer's excellent lecture yesterday afternoon on "The Mother Tongue". Seldom have students of education heard a more practical explanation of the practical application of the modern methods of teaching the English language in its many phases. Stating that there had been a vast change in the methods of teaching English during the past ten years, Miss Geyer entered into the discussion of the present methods used and forcefully presented the modern view taken of the English language.

This afternoon Professor C. F. Ansley will deliver a similar lecture to the students of education taking for his subject "Fine Arts".

The following is the series of lectures as arranged by Prof Stewart:

1. The Mother Tongue, Thursday, Feb. 20.—Miss Ellen Geyer.
2. Fine Arts, Friday, Feb. 21.—Dean C. F. Ansley.
3. Mathematics, Tuesday, Feb. 25.—Professor A. G. Smith.
4. The Physical Sciences, Thursday, Feb. 27.—Professor G. W. Stewart.
5. The Ancient Languages, Friday Feb. 28.—Professor C. H. Weller.
6. The Modern Languages, Thursday, March 6.—Professor C. B. Wilson.
7. The Biological Sciences, Thursday, March 11.—Professor B. Shimek.
8. The Social Sciences, Thursday, March 12.—Professor P. S. Pierce.
9. Manual and Industrial Arts, Friday March 14.—
10. The Earth Sciences, Tuesday, March 18.—Professor G. F. Kay.

IOWA PLAYS WITH GRINNELL TONIGHT

HAWKEYES WILL TRY AND GRAB FIRST HONORS FROM SCARLET AND BLACK WARRIORS

Entire Squad Will Make Trip—Victory Will Keep Championship From Grinnell—Sherman Out of Game—Greenwood Pivots For Foe.

The Iowa basketball team will journey to Grinnell this afternoon for a game with the strong quintet, representing the institution by the name. This contest will decide the state championship and the best that the Hawkeyes can hope for is a tie which would come about only by the defeat of the Grinnell team.

Grinnell has already won two games from Ames and Drake and the first of the series of two games with the locals. While the Scarlet and Black will be favorites before the game, it would be up against a real snag if the home boys play as good a game as they did against Ames.

Grinnell Waiting

Grinnell has been looking forward to this game for weeks and it is not taking any chances that it will be a walk away. Sherman, the star guard has not been in the game since the team played down here, having contracted a case of blood poisoning shortly afterwards but in his place will be seen Greenwood of football fame.

The entire squad will be taken by Coach Thomas which includes eleven men, and the management is making further arrangements to accommodate a crowd of rooters.

The teams will line-up as follows:

- Iowa:
- Gardner, LF.
 - Berry, RF.
 - Leo, C.
 - Parsons, RG.
 - Maiden, Dick, LG.
- Grinnell:
- Thrape, LF.
 - Compton, RF.
 - Greenwood, C.
 - Eagan, RG.
 - Loper, LG.

WIFE OF LAW DEAN IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. Henry W. Dunn Reported to be Very Ill at Her Home on Johnson St.

Mrs. Henry W. Dunn, wife of Dean H. W. Dunn of the university's law college, is seriously ill at her home on South Johnson street. Mrs. Dunn has been a resident of Iowa City but a short time. Since her stay here, however, she has made many friends who will sympathize with the law dean and his wife in the latter's affliction. It is understood the illness has not yet reached a critical stage but much fear has been expressed as to Mrs. Dunn's immediate recovery.

CONVOCATION

Tomorrow twenty more sons and daughters of Iowa will receive their degrees from the university of their choice. Tomorrow twenty more people from the great commonwealth of Iowa finish their preparatory training and go out to battle with the world and show what they are capable of doing. As you see these young people leaving for other fields to conquer remember when you will wear the cap and gown and march down the line to receive your diploma. Remember that they have fought and worked for Old Iowa and are now going out to put to practical use the theory that they have obtained from the walls of grey stone and brick. Remember that you too some day will leave the State University of Iowa with its stories and traditions. Soon these graduates will be gone, fighting for their ideas. They will give place to others who will work for Old Gold, while they are here and will strive to work harder when they go from under the shadows of their old school, and are meeting the victories and defeats of life like the twenty that leave tomorrow.

PUBLIC SPEAKING RECITALS

The series of recitals planned by the department of public speaking are very welcome to all followers of dramatic art at Iowa. The faculty now intends to apply its talent to the public interpretation of the masters in drama. This is a department here which deserves commendation and support.

The student body and university public will now have an opportunity to hear literary interpretation from the dramatic authors by the best talent that the university affords.

FUNNY THINGS HAPPEN IN SINGLE DAY'S TIME

YESTERDAY WAS A DAY OF LAUGHS ON THE IOWA CAMPUS

Library Scene of Great Search for "Ibid"—Man Dictates Letter on Car—Other Queer Things of the Day.

Did you ever live in a day of laughs?

Iowa students did yesterday, or if all of them didn't lots of them did. One fellow rushed into this office last night about midnight and said he was just goin' home—said he'd been laughing ever since 8 o'clock yesterday morning and was afraid he couldn't stop. He seemed to have had more fun than anybody else, although several of the brethren scribes contributed to the experiences of twelve hours.

Look For "Ibid"

Our midnight friend said he saw a great joke over in the library yesterday morning. Said somebody came rushing up to the desk and asked for a book by Ibid. Then the assistant started to look for it. Must have looked an hour and then gave it up. Said if he'd come back in the afternoon she would look again. Our midnight friend stuck around in the afternoon and pretty soon the Ibid man came in again. The search for Ibid started again—all over that library. But they couldn't find Ibid.

We all laughed about an hour on that one.

Law Student Sees One

One law student found a "nut" yesterday. Anyway that was his contribution to this story. He declares it was an actual fact. Said he was coming down on the interurban from Cedar Rapids yesterday and he saw a former university graduate who is now in business for himself—not working for the university any more—got on the car and took a dictaphone from his pocket.

"Well sir" said the law student, "he took that there dictaphone out of his pocket and unscrewed an electric light bulb from the car ceiling and began to dictate letters. Dictated them all the way down to Iowa City, too. And then unscrewed his dictaphone as the car rounded the Burkley corner and put it back in his pocket.

That was a good one and we laughed again.

Visited the Profs

The last story beat 'em all. We all knew about this, however, and so related it together. There was a freshman in school last semester who was just like the occasional raw one that comes. He was green and said he wanted to find a purpose in the world. So the upper classmen who roomed near him told him the professors didn't have anything to do on Sunday—that they got awfully lonesome. The freshman, straightway, went to visit them. Saw five of them in one Sunday and stayed for dinner at the last house. Then it was 1 o'clock and we went to press.

HAMILTON CONTEST TOMORROW NIGHT

Six Students Revive Old Oratorical Contest For Which Valuable Prize is Offered

The Hamilton contest will be revived tomorrow night for the first time in many years and with the present array of orators the preliminary contest should prove of unusual interest to those interested in oratorical work. This contest is held in Chicago where six colleges and universities of the middle west will compete for the first and second prizes of one hundred and fifty dollars, respectively. The forensic league will pay the expenses of the winner of the preliminary contest here. An unusual interest has been created by the liberal prizes given the winner, and every entrant has been putting forth the greatest efforts to prove successful in the preliminary.

The orations concern a subject relating to good government. The length is to be measured by the time consumed in speaking, twenty minutes being allowed for the delivery of the oration. The interest aroused in this contest together with the unusually low price of admission should be the means of filling the natural science auditorium when the contestants appear tomorrow night.

ENGINEERS WIN BASKETBALL RACE

DENTS ARE UNABLE TO SOLVE TEAM WORK OF THEIR AGGRESSIVE OPPONENTS

Stevenson Brothers Star For the Engineers—Qually, Jacobson and Cobb for the Dentists—Best Game of the Series.

Once more have the engineers proved their claim to the interdepartment basketball championship by defeating their old-time rivals, the dents, by a score of 23 to 15. The game was by far the fastest and most exciting that has been played in the interdepartment league, the score remaining even until the closing minutes of the first half, when Captain Stevenson shot the basket that broke the tie. In the second half successive baskets by E. Stevenson and L. B. Stevenson gave the engineers a lead which they held until the end of the game.

The engineers were the first to score, Stevenson dropping in the first basket a few minutes after the game started.

Qually tallied the dents first goal and accurate work on the foul line by Cobb kept the score even until the end of the half.

In the second half the dents, aided by baskets by Qually and Jacobson, took a brace, but the engineers soon regained their winning form and pocketed the game beyond the shadow of a doubt, when Stevenson dropped in three baskets in rapid succession. The defeat of the dents lies in their inability to solve the puzzling team work of their opponents as well as in their own failure to shoot several easy baskets under their goal. The dents tried desperately to overcome the engineer's lead toward the close of the second half but were unable to get past the aggressive guarding of L. Stevenson and Wills. Stevenson stood out in the limelight for the winners; while Cobb, Qually and Jacobson showed to advantage for the less fortunate five.

The intense rivalry existing between the two teams caused a large number of fouls. Reichelt and Wills being forced to leave the game by the personal foul route.

RABIES INCREASE THROUGHOUT IOWA

Dr. Alberts Reports an Increase in Cases—Patients Come From Southern Iowa

A marked increase in cases of rabies over the state is reported by Dr. Henry Albert, head of the Pasteur institute conducted at the state university hospital. Eight patients are receiving treatment at the institute at the present time, and several have just been discharged. There are seldom more than one or two taking treatment at once.

A regular epidemic has struck Eldon, Iowa. Seven residents of that town are taking treatment here, and a message states that two more have just been bitten by mad dogs, but are unable to pay their expenses to Iowa City. They are trying to make arrangements to have the treatment given there. The Eldon people at the Pasteur institute are J. E. Hoagland, Mrs. Ruble, Ed. Michael, Mr. Burkholder and four year old son, a fifteen year old boy named Hem, and Milo Heing, aged 12.

Several patients have been here from Clarinda. The last, a little girl left this afternoon. Residents of Keokuk and Red Oak have also been bitten. None of the patients have developed hydrophobia.

Little Scare Here

A rumor was prevalent yesterday that a mad dog was loose in Iowa City, and had bitten a horse and some other dogs, but the story does not appear to be well founded. It probably originated from the ompounding of a rather refractory canine by Officer Burger yesterday.

SOME REAL ARTISTS AT ENGLERT'S THEATRE

Excellent Bill to Finish up Week—Large Crowd Well Pleased Last Night

Notwithstanding the fact that "The Chimes of Normandy" attracted a large crowd at Englert's theatre last Wednesday evening there was a gratifying crowd at the theatre last night to witness another excellent vaudeville bill. There is some real clever stunts in the vaudeville line being staged the latter half of the week.

Wagner and Leo the acrobatic jesters break the ice and get away with a fairly good line of talk and some novel work in the tumbling game. This act is followed by Grace Armond, who styles herself "The foolish Liz of Vod-vil". She is good, there is no way to get out of it. She gets away with a line of foolishness which pleases any audience. Gruber and Kew, the two hop scotchers, put on a stunt which has a breezy scotch twang and was cordially received by the public. The De Rossi Duo offer to the public a novel scenic art which adds wonderfully to the general bill. An act of this type is seldom seen here and would be very acceptable in any vaudeville bill.

The bill ends with perhaps the best act of the show. Fees Bros. & Co., in a trick mechanical novelty act, presenting Happy Hooligan's troubles at the freight yards. There is some fine comedy in this act and the actors are first class artists.
