At Y. M. C. A. MEETING

State Secretary Talks To Men on Responsibility of the College Men

Dr. G. H. Aldrich of Des Moines gave a very interesting and valuable talk at the mid-week meeting of the campus Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening. He spoke on 'The responsibility that is held by the college man.' He said that only one per cent of the men of the college are going on to college. Every college man represents the potentiality of the one hundred men. Seventy per cent of the successful business and professional men of the country are college graduates.

He next showed that the college man is expected to compete in the world after he graduates and what will be expected of him.

McGREGOR SPEAKS

At the next meeting of the Baconlan Epworth Club, Irving McGregor, the local Epworth Lewis, was introduced and spoke on 'The decision made the night before.' This was followed by a good knowledge of the game and how the contest turned out.

The writer's contest knowledge of the game made the decision. Bryant and McDuff were both given a good exhibition for thirty minutes before Reeves Smith was given a decision. Reeves Smith worked on the margin so consistently that the referee called for an extra ten minutes and told Smith to stop and make a decision.

CHORAL SOCIETY GIVES STATEMENT

President Pratt of Organisation

Letter About Socieies

Finances

President W. E. Pratt of the Iowa City and University Choral Society has written a statement in which he gives the receipts and expenses of the "Chimes of Normandy". The letter is complete below and shows clearly the present condition of the University Music Council.

On behalf of the university and Iowa City Choral Society I want to thank the people of this city and their liberal patronage to the "Chimes of Normandy" created and produced by the choral society. Because the choral society is a public institution, benefiting the public through education and uplifting the moral tone of the community, but dependent upon the people for its support, the directors feel that the public who make it possible see the society to continue in this good work should know how its funds are expended.

The receipts from the sale of tickets for the "Chimes of Normandy" was $757.00. The expenses were approximately $149.90. Therefore we made about $607.10 clear which amount will be held to the music fund of the university which stands high at the men's glee club, the R. U. I. orchestra, and the choral society.

Three years ago the music council was turned a profit of $120.96, and for spring 1913, which of came from the men's glee club on a tour through the state, and $300.96 from the choral society May festival. The money cleared on the "Chimes of Normandy" will be paid on the few hundred dollars deficit and we hope to have an equal amount or more for the same purpose from the proceeds of a similar production next year.

All the work in connection with the production of the "Chimes of Normandy", including director, music, chorus, coach, orchestra and management was gratifying, and while the work was strenuous at times, yet I know everyone thoroughly enjoyed the rehearsals and were really sorry when it was over.

The direction of the society want everyone to feel that the University and Iowa City Choral Society belongs to the public. It is a public institution the use of which belong to the community and the University, benefiting the public through education and uplifting the moral tone of the community.
