DENTISTS from all parts of Iowa will be present at the Grand Parade of 1913. The parade will be held at 11 a.m. on Monday, May 3, and will be followed immediately by the Opening of the New University Year. The parade will consist of a hundred different units, each representing a different school or college within the university. The parade will be led by the University Band and will conclude with a speech by the President of the University.

MONSTER SUFFRAGE DEMONSTRATION

GRAND PARADE FROM ARMY UNDER INSPECTOR OF IOWA COUNTY FAIR

March 8 will see Sufferage Demonstration—Delegations From All Countries Where Women Is Still in Bondage.

Suffrage agitation will culminate at Iowa in an immense demonstration to be held in the university on March 8. Representatives from all the societies and organizations of the university will have places in the parade, each portraying a different phase of the movement.

The parade will start from the assembly in the morning at 11:00 o'clock sharp. The order of marching will be as follows: Grand marsh, then four sides, preceded by a bugle. The parade has been announced officially that the most beautiful girl in the university is to be crowned as grand marshal. This will, of course, be a difficult choice where the committees on arrangements but will definitely settle before Friday, when official announcements will be made.

Following the grand marshal will come ten others with the Old Gold banner of the associations, followed by the symphony orchestra. These marches will all be dressed in the latest and most admired gay attire. A few of the groups will, of course, resemble a slow marsh.

Below these preliminary groups will come representatives of the various foreign countries whose women have been a progressive influence on the world. These students will all be dressed in the latest and most admired gay attire.

The Triangle club will serve ice cream to the tired and thirsty following the clausel ceremony on the plat.

ALUMNI DENTISTS HERE FOR CLINIC

Over 200 Are Expected to Register Today—Big Crowd at Reception at Iowa Irving.

Dentists from all parts of Iowa have gathered here for the tenth annual convention of the alumni association of the university of Iowa of college of dentistry. No attempt has been made yet to keep a register of these persons, but the attendance has been so large that a register of the alumni will probably be made.

The program for the day will consist of classes conducted by alumni dentists in the morning, and essays and papers, followed by discussion meetings in the afternoon.

President A. R. Prince of Cleveland, Ohio, one of the leading dentists in the United States, will speak at this meeting. The president of the American Dental Association, Dr. J. W. White of Des Moines, secretary of the Iowa State Board of Dental Examiners, will explain legislative policies before the present general assembly.

Dr. Richard H. St. Louis, president of the National Dental Pro- protect Association, has been invited to speak on the decision of the well known Noyes case. Dr. J. H. Strode of Milwaukee, a of the American Dental Association, will deliver a lecture.
most courses offered by the sciences in the department of future, and every student, scientifically inclined, can be expected to attend the work because of its great educational value.

In the course of Accessory Taxonomy is taught the student the original methods of making wildlife, feathers, leaves, and grasses, in water form nature. At first glance, the work is taught not only in connection with the museum, but it was designed with that purpose in mind. Aside from that, its cultural, educational, and sex-ual values are more pronounced. The up-to-date teacher of science must place concrete examples before his students, to give them an opportunity to see the real thing just as it occurs, in certain circumstances.

In the two days following this demonstration, you will see Curle's stamp's soldiers preparing to invade Mexico and blows of good things all the latest trends of great interest.

E. T. LEACH TO SPEAK ON SCANDINAVIAN ART

Secretary of American-Scandinavian Foundation to speak at Physics Building Tonight

Mr. Henry G. Leach, secretary of the American-Scandinavian Foundation will give an illustrated lecture tonight on "Modern Scandinavian Art" in the physics lecture hall at 7:30. The university is particularly fortunate in obtaining Mr. Leach to speak at this time. Mr. Leach represents the American-Scandinavian Foundation, an institution well endowed for the purpose of promoting a closer mutual acquaintance between the two countries by the exchange of industrial and art exhibitions, between students and professors. He comes on the invitation of the Kiis society, but the lecture will be given as an university event and will be free to the public.

MISS ANNA BROWN HERRE

Miss Anna Brown, National Student Volunteer secretary, is to be the hostess of this event Wednesday and Thursday. There will be open house for her at Clois Hall, Wednesday afternoon, from 3:30 until 5:00, when the delegates who represented the University of Iowa at the state student's missionary conference and Keystone college last week-end will come to see the main features of that occasion. Miss Brown will talk at the regular mid-week meeting Wednesday evening. The girls who were at Confer too last week-end, receive her the attractiveness of personality of that woman, and they doubtless will be kind of opportunity to meet her and make and have their friends meet.

DRAMATIC CLUB
PLAY MARCH 12

Some of the Leading University Artists Are to be Found in the Cast

The Greater University Committee will cooperate with the University Dramatic club in the production of the first play of the year. The title of the play which will thus have the combined backing of the two organizations is "Going Home." This drama was produced at the University at the evening on March 12. This play will depict college life in the real sense. One gay Wallingford speed, whose chief occupation is to groan around the sidewalks with a spouse in his mouth, and also serving as cheer-leader of the sporting more class, counts Helen Blake that he is a wonderful athlete.

They are all invited to Jack Chadwick’s ranch for a house party, and speed brings his trainer along to add to the effect. The report of his many exploits and adventures they promptly match him against Billie, the cock of a rival ranch, for a contest.

Culver Cornington, the younger son of the wealthy ranch owner, is expected in a few days, and speed figures it will be easy to get injured and have the latter run the race, while in search of his sympathy. Cornington comes all right, but he has broken his leg on the way. The cowboys have bet their last cent on Speed, and a close club tender, Speed's rival, has caused them to become exasperated of his ability, so they ride hard on him and throw him through street training. Speed and his trainer try to escape the ranch but they soon find out that they are up against a firm. The world's greatest athlete realizes that he has to "go sudden" or else one of the cowboys will put another notch in his gun handle.

The company assembled includes Mr. Rosco Patch, the silk shirt operator; Mr. Ralph McLain, his assistant; Miss Laura Patch, the only one for him; Miss Fan Bradley, her cousin. While Mr. Vern Foley and Mr. Stephen Casey are types of cowboys of the plains. That makes one score the plains.

NO WORD HEARD ON MEDIC COURSE

Local Faculty Wait Confirmation of Bonus That Five Years is Required

No confirmation of the rumor that medical colleges of Class A plus must serve five years to the regular medical course has yet been received by members of the local faculty and the return of Dean Gundersen has not come to pass, according to a press report from Clarksburg the American Medical Association passed a resolution to that effect three days ago. The course of study now is for four years preceded by two years preparatory work, making six years in all.

A bill has been introduced in the Missouri legislature which will make it a crime for any person to wear the insignia of our merit organization unless the bearer be a member of the society or the sister, mother, or wife of the member.

H. D. Hoover Delivers Address to Vesper Audience on "Straight Paths"

"There is a mild term for one who fails to build his nest and leaves no gift for posterity," said President H. D. Hoover of Carthage college, Illinois, at the next meeting of the university of Iowa vespers service Sunday afternoon. His theme was "Straight Paths." "Each of us must make his path in life and straightness is the simple and sufficient rule," he continued. "There are some things that can never be made straight. The crooked them, the crooked work—these are recorded for infamy. The crooked have always been reprobates, and as such are universally for answer.

The coming leaders are now being trained in our universities. Let Iowa in this end that, uphold the dignity and worth of life and by learning by furnishing us, and woman who will make straight paths for the feet of the multitude, profit great in the universe, and so take her rightful place among the great institutions of today."
