IOWA'S JUNIOR SENATOR AT UNIVERSITY DINNER

Plans For Greatest Banquet in Years are Nearing Completion—Novel Feature to be Introduced---

Buy Tickets Early.

United States Senator William S. Knapp will be in all probability here by the time of the university dinner on the evening of March 12, according to a letter received from him yesterday, addressed to Mayor R. M. Olds, a member of the committee charged with the arrangements.

The letter received was as follows:

Dear Mr. Erwin:

I cannot say now about accepting the dinner invitation, but the fact that you have kindly invited me is appreciated.

I am going to be at home and if I can slip down, then I will. I am honest to say I saw you City and if it is possible at all to get there I will.

Very truly,

(Signed) William S. Knapp

President Knapp's letter is in keeping with the Ridge's public bearing and the dignity of his position. He has been busy with the University in his work as Senator.

In the course of the letter he said:

"I am very willing to accept the dinner invitation, but the fact that you have kindly invited me is appreciated. I am going to be at home and if I can slip down, then I will. I am honest to say I saw you City and if it is possible at all to get there I will.

Very truly,

PREP' TEAMS PLAN
FOR IOWA TOURNEY

GETTING READY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP MATCHES BEGAN THIS MONTH

Eight Teams Will Play Here March Twenty-Eight and Twenty-Nine;
Kilgore Gives Out Hope of Competing Teams.

On March 28 and 29 Friday and Saturday, eight basketball teams, the best high school team in the state, will come to Iowa City under the auspices of the university, to play on the university floor for the championship of the state of Iowa. These teams are picked by the high school board and will be despatched upon a week or two.

The games will be played on the court cross court at the university, this court being where the site of one of the highest average high school. Four games between the eight teams will be played on Friday afternoon. Friday evening the winners of these contests will play, making two games that evening.

On Saturday afternoon, the two winners of the games, the night before will play for the championship. The two winners for first and second. Opponents for the games will be chosen by lot.

The grass is in, the weather is mild, the flowers are blooming, the birds are singing— all this means that sooner or later we will have to consider the subject of landscaping. The time to do this is now, while the grass is green and the flowers are in full bloom.

The landscape architect is the person who can help you with this. He will advise you on the best way to landscape your property, and he will also help you choose the plants that will be most suitable for your particular climate.

In addition to his knowledge of plants, the landscape architect must also have a good understanding of soil and water conditions, as well as an eye for beauty. He must be able to see how the different elements of a landscape—flowers, trees, shrubs, and rocks—will work together to create a pleasing whole.

When you are considering hiring a landscape architect, make sure that he has a good reputation. Ask for references and check them out. You should also look at his past work, to see if it meets your expectations.

Once you have found the right landscape architect, you can begin to think about the actual design of your garden. This will involve creating a plan that outlines the placement of all the elements, as well as their relative proportions. The landscape architect will work with you to create a design that is both functional and attractive.

Finally, he will help you choose the right plants for your garden. This is an important decision, as the success of your garden will depend on selecting the right species. The landscape architect will be able to guide you in this process, by recommending plants that are well suited to your particular climate and soil conditions.

In conclusion, hiring a professional landscape architect is an excellent way to ensure the success of your garden. By working with an expert in the field, you can be confident that your garden will be both beautiful and functional, and will provide you with years of enjoyment.
