HUNDREDS BRAVE STORM TO ATTEND G. U. DINNER

All University Affair Exemplifies Spirit of Iowa---Fellowship Reigned Supreme---"Greater Iowa" Time Prevailed.

More than 700 people braved wind and rain last evening and attended the fifth annual university dinner held in the armory. The armory floor was covered with tables decorated with candles and flowers. A platform erected on the west side furnished a place for the speakers and the music. The dinner was served at 4:30 and the speeches came immediately after.

President Speaks First

President Martin J. Wade was the first speaker of the evening and was given the floor by Doctor Chase of the college of agriculture and home economics. He emphasized the growth of the university. Pictures of the annual celebration have often been entitled "The Engineers at Play" but this year the college is going to show "The Engineers at Work."

For instance, "Central" is given blame for everything that goes wrong with the telephone. But what does Central have to do with it? Few who "hear the air" in front of the telephone have ever seen the workings of an exchange. If they had they would not do it, assert the engineers, and they are going to prove to the people of Iowa that they have nothing to do.

The telephone is only one of the interesting things that will be shown by the college when they can build their building to the public near Monday. The third speaker for the evening, Mr. Buda Keller, spoke to the Aragoval theme, "Philosophy of Labor." He emphasized the growth of the university.

Recital at Marshalltown

German Professor Will Speak Sunday evening at First Baptist Church.

Next Sunday evening Professor W. T. Rosaler of the German department will give his lecture on "The Passing Play at Oberammergau." The first Baptist church illustrated with colored slides. These slides vividly picture the play as given by the peasants of Oberammergau every ten years, in their portrayal of the life and death of Christ.

The Oberammergau play is connected with the happening of this church, which has been carried out for many years. The highest ideal of the Oberammergau resident peasant is to live righteous enough to be permitted to take a part in the play. Professor Rosaler is fully acquainted with the play and has been a spectator of the actual play in the natural setting.

Good Week-end Meeting

One of the most interesting of the mid-week meetings of the Y. M. C. A. for this year was held Wednesday evening. This meeting was addressed by two students from Harvard Theological Seminary, Harvard, Connecticut. One of the students of the department of music who wishes to speak to the English language department of the college to the ministry of the college to the ministry of the college. He said that the ministry of the college is a task which will require a large amount of study. Mr. Halvorson brought out in his address the religious life in college and the religious life in the future of the future.

Notice

Owing to conflicting dates the engagement of Dr. Haig was announced to speak here Sunday has been cancelled.

Commencement Week Plans Formulating

Greater University Commissions to be in Charge Tuesday-Friday Will Be Big Day--Clyde Williams Will Have Hall Game.

A system of local committees is being planned for commencement week, according to the announcement of members of the Greater University committee and others who will be in charge this year. Under this system local committees will arrange events for commencement and plans for commencement can more easily be carried out. The committee list has been made out, is being worked on by all prospective members of the various committees may be notified.

Several changes have also been made in the program of events which was announced in a general way a few days ago. As the program now stands Tuesday of commencement week promises to be the greatest of all. Tuesday morning will be devoted to alumni and students. The event which has not been decided is the time at which the class of the college students will be called to the class of the students which will be called to the class of the students which will be called.

Mrs. Ben Williams' Notice

Checks for Hall Game.

The events of the afternoon will be led off with a feature hall game between alumni, former star members of Iowa baseball clubs. Clyde Williams is head of squad and has this particular feature in charge. The big game of the season is also being planned for Tues- day evening in the Phila Beta Kappa address which is usually given by students who are going to be graduated. The game will take place almost three months earlier.

All points to one of the biggest commemorative weeks that the state university has ever experi- enced. Numerous letters have already been received from prominent alumni telling of plans of their special classes to go here. Special notice is being taken of the efforts of the members of the law class of 1919, the remnant of which promises to surpass anything similar ever held during a commencement week.

Thursday night has been set as the date of the annual senior hop. The committee has not yet formulated plans for this, however.

BACON CLUB

Regular meeting of the Bacon Club will be held in the new physics hall Thursday evening at 8:00. Mr. W. J. Teeters will read a paper on "Some Well-known So-called Drugs." Everybody is cordially invited to hear the interesting and illuminating speech of this interest- ing subject.

BACON CLUB

Edits will meet for program and business meetings Saturday, March 15, at 4:40 o'clock.

Spring Styles 1913

When we will display the best and most practical examples of the French and English Millinery Artists; typical adaptations of the French and extreme styles, minus the French extravagant prices.

There are some terribly funny hats this season, many of which we do not expect to show; high shapes with narrow brims, "Robert McCaugh" style; "Melon" hats in velvet, adorned at back with a gigantic wing or feather; "Kate Greenaway" hoods cut out all around and bordered with colored roses; foraging caps trimmed in front with three little red apples, are a few of the most striking. Then there's the "Little Red Devil," Madame Dalany, Mandar, Harem, Dutch Sailor, Tommy Atkins, Original Nei-Bose, Bulgarian, Kimet, Question Mark and Interrogation.

A cordial invitation extended to all.
