Emmer Clark Dies in Local Hospital

Casey Mac's Dance Comes Friday Evening After Operation For Appendicitis

Emmer Clark of Casey, Iowa, a member of the junior class of the central school died Friday evening in the University hospital. He was 21.

He will be in attendance on Monday evening and undergo an operation Thursday for the removal of the appendicitis but it had been before the operation was performed so his death was almost impossible from the start. He rapidly declined until his death.

He was conscious until the end and talked to his friends. His mother and sister of Casey were here Wednesday.

The body was taken home yesterday where it will be interred.

By the death of Emmer Clark the dental class has lost one of its industrious, quiet students and he will be missed by his classmates. The young man was about twenty-two and a half years old.

EMERGINGS ARE LEADERS OF CLASS

Two Engineering Students Work Way Through University and Make Tau Beta Pi

To earn their way through university and yet win the highest honors—a scholar-cush—those two engineers engineering students in the university of Iowa have accomplished. They are Carl Trevor of Des Moines and Charles Urban who were honored with election to the local chapter of Tau Beta Pi, a national honor scholarship society.

Two other students were also elected to membership, Frank Golfner, and Louis McKethen, both of Davenport.

They work in and around the building for which they are members and in which they spend most of their time.

CLARKE EXPRESSS
VIEW ON ATHLETICS

ALUMNI MEMBERS ON BOARD IN CONTROL OF ATHLETICS TALKS ON CHANGES

In Highly Favorable to Idea of Game With Drake to Finish "Jack" Watson an Attraction to Youth—Cer-ning Wants Show in Basketball.

Charles E. Clarke, alumni member on the board in control of athletics, expressed himself as highly favor-able to a football game between Iowa and Drake next season. He said the Journal of Des Moines had been urg-ing athletic relations with Drake even since the last football game was played with the bids and white and noth-ing would please them better than to see Manager Kelling fill up the patch. This past June Mr. Watson in town between Iowa and the Des Moines col-lege.

Mr. Clarke brought the word from Des Moines that the former Iowa president, a university people whom he has met within the past month that the choice of Jack Watson from Ames was a happy one. He said that the most important part of the best things the board in control of athletics could have done.

Weekly President.

"There isn't a high school boy in Iowa, scarcely, who doesn't know Jack Watson," declared Mr. Clarke, and his presence at the state univer-sity is going to attract the atten-tion of the Iowa youth to this place as it has never been attracted before.

Mr. Kelling, nominatedally well pleased with the fact that Watson will be here next year. As a trainer he has no equal."

Athletics in Iowa, for the coming week promise to be. Kelling in- structs to get the track aspirants onto their legs and some time before vacation starts and it is believed this will be possible unless a sudden change in the weather takes place. The wind of the past few weeks have dried the field remarkably fast. The diamond, however, will not be available for some time.

Curling Objects.

The recent announcement that Red Oak seemed to be the only high school in the southeastern part of the state that was entitled to any con- sideration in the choice of teams for the high school tournament here on March 28, has drawn from a heart of protest from the Corning high school basketball enthusiasts. The supporters of the team at Corning declare they have defeated the Tar-kio, Mo., college's fast basketball team, which has died with another unexpected agglomeration of the southern coast for the northwest Missouri title. Corning also claims to have defeated every school it has met this season and have put under rear the oak's eyes in two different en-counter. The Corning team will un-doubtedly come in for serious com- pletion teams should see and Audrey Mo- ther or Secretary Williams.

Secretary Williams left yesterday for Minnesota, where he will make ar-rangements for a gospel team during the Easter vacation. He also addresses on a week's meeting there this after-noon.

PHI DELTA CHI ENTERTAINS
STUDENTS OF PHARMACY

The Phi Delta Chi honorary phar-macist's fraternity gave a smoker to the students of the pharmacy college Saturday night. Practically all the students of the college were present, and helped to make the affair an entire success. It was decided to hold this affair annually.

Refreshments were served in the pharmaceutical style, coffee being brought in brokens and hot cream eaten on of evaporating dishes.

W. E. Palmer acted as toast master, and the program was opened by Dr. C. R. Chase. The other speakers were Dean W. J. Toomey, Prof. R. A. Kroger, Prof. W. J. Kardinal, James K. Boon, and Carl B. Burks.

Karl Kuhlmann, entertained with a number of German songs, Iowa songs and yells made up the remainder of the program.

HAWKES CONTROVERS NOTICE

The time for handing in the stories for the Hawkes short story contest has been extended to March 16th, the last day of school after spring vacation. This was done to accommodate those who wished to work on their stories during vacation. Manuscripts must not fail to be in the office by this date, for it is the printing of the literary section will be delayed by this change.

SEND THE IOWAN HOME.

The management hopes that this arrangement will please the people of the city and that the low price of seats to the floor and balcony, $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00, low considering the great cost of this attraction and the limited seating capacity of the house, will enable most of those who wish to see the world's greatest dancer in a clean and beautiful exhibition of her art to satisfy their desires.

WILL GIVE SQUARE DEAL TO ALL SEAT BUYERS

Seat Sale For Miss. Gene's Appearance Here Limited To Ten Tickets

The widespread interest, throughout the city excited by the announce ment that the world's most famous classical dancer with a company of dancers and her own orchestra is to be at the Englert theatre, on the second of April, has made it apparent to the management that the house will be sold out at an early hour and that many will be deprived of the privilege of seeing this wonderful exhibition unless some steps are taken to prevent the sale of large blocks of seats to one party. As has, therefore, been determined to sell ten seats to one person so that as many as possible may have a chance to see the famous artist.

The sale is to open at 9 o'clock on Tuesday, the 1st of April, but the house, being few in number and sold at higher prices than the floor seats, will be sold three days in advance to those who apply, and in the order in which the applications are received.

The applications will be received at the box office only and the date and time of sale. There are eight houses, two with four seats, two with five seats and four with six seats, and the price is $1.56 a seat.

The management hopes that this arrangement will please the people of the city and that the low price of seats to the floor and balcony, $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00, low considering the great cost of this attraction and the limited seating capacity of the house, will enable most of those who wish to see the world's greatest dancer in a clean and beautiful exhibition of her art to satisfy their desires.

O U R success and prestige in the jewelry busi­ness has been built around one word, "service". When we fix a watch it stays fixed and when we put our stamp upon an article it means that our guarantee of genuineness is backed of it.

EASTER is now here. We would be pleased to show you some of the new Tie Clasps, Watch Chains, Waldemars, Friendship Rings, Gold Pendents, and many other useful articles.
