WOMEN GETTING READY FOR BASEBALL SERIES

SINCE BASKETBALL SEASON ATHLETICS HAS BEEN AT LOW EBB AMONG GIRLS.

Much Is Expected From Freshmen Girls In Coming Series—Tennis Fever Being Felt by Fair Athletes—Contest to End Year.

Since the basketball series in which the freshmen were triumphant the women's athletic association has been at low ebb. There has not been a great deal doing over there at Close Hall except for the general gymnasium work which is required of all freshmen and sophomore girls. However, the slow time is now a thing of the past for the girls are now getting ready for a series of baseball games which are anticipated to eclipse anything that has ever been held among the women. The date of these indoor baseball games has not, as yet, been announced but they will probably be held some time the fore part of April. As a result of the basketball series there is a good deal of rivalry between the different classes. The freshmen girls are looking forward to the championship, as are each of the other classes. There is really more expected of the freshmen than of any of the other classes owing to the fact that they have more than demonstrated their athletic ability.

Immediately after the basketball season the annual tennis tournament, between the classes will be staged. From all appearances this branch of athletics will prove more popular than ever. There are a good many tennis "fiends" in the university. It is understood that they are counting the days until "Old Sol" will put a stop to contortions of J. Pluvius and dry up the courts enough for a game or two.

The athletic association is offering a handsome loving cup to the winners of the tennis series. This fact will lend some more interest and enthusiasm to the game and the series. This tennis series will end the season for Miss Wilkinson and her girls.

CAMERA CLUB TO MEET

The Camera Art club will meet in room 311 new Physics hall Thursday evening, April 10 at 7:15. Important meeting.

PROF. FORD TO SPEAK

Prof. A. H. Ford will speak before the compass club and A. I. E. E., Thursday evening at seven thirty. The meeting will be held in the fine arts lecture room of the physics building. Prof. Ford will take for his subject, "The regulations of the public utilities." The public is cordially invited.

WOMEN TO VOTE FOR DELEGATE

Polls to Open Thursday and Friday Forenoon—All Women Urged to Vote.

At the class meetings for university women held Tuesday afternoon the following nominations were made:

Eloise Brainerd.
Fannie Bradley.
Macetta Browning.
Ruth Gunderson.
Unda Hamreon.
Buda Keller.
Anna Rock.

Polls will be open Thursday, 8 a. m.-5 p. m. and Friday 8 a. m.-12 m. in the drawing room, Hall of Liberal Arts. All university women are urged to vote.

SPECIAL SCENERY FOR SENIOR PLAY
Special Lighting and Scenery Made In High School Shops Featured.

The high school seniors are making elaborate preparations for their annual class play, "My Uncle from India," which will be presented at the Englert theatre on next Friday evening, April 11. Special scenery and lighting will feature the production, all of which will be made in the manual training shops under the direction of Walter Fiesler, who has been dubbed "stage carpenter," and the lighting effects in charge of Lawrence Raymond, the "head electrician." Through the kindness of some of the local merchants and the boys of Company I special costumes will be possible, and the managers claim that the play will be the best amateur production ever seen in the city.

The cast has started work on the last round of preparation, and every thing indicates that the play will go off without a hitch. As has been advertised George Gartzke will appear in the comedy role, and his work in the play given by the class last year will guarantee a full house Friday night. Local critics are unanimous in declaring that Gartzke was the best amateur comedian for his age and experience that ever appeared here, and he bids fair to repeat his success of last year and do even better in his part this season. Howard Moffit and Dorothy Yetter have the leading parts in the production. Seats will be on sale at the theatre box beginning Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, and if last year's success has anything to do with this play, the seats will be sold out before noon.

Stanford university obtains a coach launch for the crews.

NO FLOWERS VOTES PAN HELLENIC COUNCIL

PARTY TO BE HELD AT ARMORY ON APRIL 25—DEFINITE PLANS ARE MADE.

Each Fraternity Pledges Eighteen Men Which Means at Least One Hundred and Fifty Couples—Decorations Not Yet Decided Upon.

There will be no trouble concerning the flower question at the annual pan-hellenic party this year. After much debate at a meeting held recently it was definitely decided that thus reducing the expenses of this there were no flowers to be worn annual event considerably. Last year there was some comment over the fact that some of the women appeared wearing flowers and were asked to remove them because it had been understood beforehand that no flowers were to be worn, although there had been no official notice to that effect.

The party is to be held at the armory April 25.

All plans are now complete with the exception of the decorations. Eppels' orchestra of Boone has been engaged to furnish the music. This orchestra of eight pieces is well and favorably known, as it played here for the military ball.

At the meeting of the council each of the eight fraternities pledged to be represented by at least eighteen men. This practically assures the event a great success as with the visitors there will probably be at least one hundred and fifty couples present.

ORCHESTRA CONCERT.

The University Orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Gustav Schoettle will give an orchestra concert on May 1 in the Natural Science Auditorium. The orchestra contains many professional musicians and its concert will no doubt be very excellent.

SIGMA XI ANNUAL LECTURE.

The Sigma XI society will have its annual lecture on Wednesday evening, April 30. Other university organizations are requested to give Sigma Xi a clear field for that evening. The speaker will be Professor Keyser of Columbia University, one of the most gifted and popular of the many fine lecturers possessed by that institution.

The date of this Sigma Xi event is later than usual by reason of the illness of Dr. Keyser in February. The initiation of new members will precede the lecture, however, as heretofore.

President Bowman is expected home tomorrow afternoon.

RESEARCH WORK STOPS IN GREECE

Professor Weller Receives Interesting Letter From Athens.

Professor Weller, is in receipt of a letter from a friend in Athens, Greece which gives an interesting account of the results of the present war. All archaeological research is at a standstill because of the trouble and there is no telling when the work will be resumed.

Following is an extract from the letter.

"Owing to the war, archaeological activity is practically at a standstill. This spring no work will be done in Greece, so far as I know. The Greeks themselves are, of course, in no position to do anything, and the foreign schools do not deem the time propitious, even if the Government could furnish the necessary inspectors. So you see this is decidedly a bad year for our subject, however much we gain in the future from the extension of Greek territory."

DEMAND FOR TEACHERS GREATER THAN SUPPLY
Requests for Teachers From the University Outnumber Applications.

The teachers' employment bureau of the university will receive three times as many requests for teachers as it can supply according to present indications. Up to date only about 150 students have applied for positions, while nearly 300 places remain open to men and women in the university who are qualified and the number is increasing rapidly every day.

Ninety requests for men with salaries ranging from $900 to $1300 to fill positions as superintendents, instructors and professors in small colleges have been received and applications for 200 women whose salaries will range from $450 to $1250 as instructors in special subjects. A few positions are open at salaries around $2500.

L. H. Van Houten, a student of the graduate college in the department of education was appointed yesterday to the superintendency of the Toledo schools at a salary of $1350.

No small credit is due to Prof. W. A. Jessup for the success and popularity of the teachers' employment system. The numerous requests for teachers and superintendents coming from all parts of the United States and from large high schools and colleges are an added proof of the high grade normal training afforded by the University of Iowa.

Tufts college will establish a self-governing association.

DELTA SIGMA RHO INITIATES MEN

INTER COLLEGIATE DEBATERS AND ORATORS GIVEN RITES LAST NIGHT.

Fraternity Has Twenty-Eight Chapters in Leading Universities of the Country—Many Prominent Men Are Members.

Five men were initiated into Delta Sigma Rho, the national honor fraternity for intercollegiate debaters and orators, last night. Initiation was held in room 310 L. A., at seven o'clock.

The men who were admitted were George G. Glick, Leonard H. Racker, and Frank Seydel, of Zetaganthian, J. Howard Anderson, of Irving Institute, and Clarence B. Isaac, of Philomathean. Fred R. Blythe, who was also a member of the intercollegiate debating teams, won his membership by participation in the Northern Oratorical contest finals last year. This year the two men who represented Iowa in intercollegiate oratory, Glick and Racker, were already qualified for membership.

Delta Sigma Rho has something like twenty-eight chapters in all, embracing such institutions as Yale, and Harvard as well as many of the state universities of highest rank. No institution which does not maintain a high standing in debate and oratory is admitted to membership.

Many of the prominent men in this country today are members of Delta Sigma Rho. Governor Hadley of Missouri, Dr. Gunsaulus, the famous lecturer, and many other familiar to the American public are among the best known. Membership in this honor fraternity is prized not only by those undergraduates who are so fortunate as to win membership, but even more highly by men in public life who have achieved distinction as orators.

After the initiation, a short business meeting was held. Later in the spring the annual election of officers will occur, and it is possible that a banquet will be given also.

Appropriate Setting.

"I made a discovery of queer coincidences lately." "What was it?" "In the poultry journal you mention, it was a hen-pecked poet, egged on by need of cash, who wrote that lay about the setting sun."—Baltimore American.

Miss Alice Wilkinson, of the girl's physical training department was at Ames acting as a judge for anhibition, held at that place recently.

SOME REGULAR GUIDES.

Between now and commencement time there is to be held here several conventions, athletic meets, and other events which will attract visitors from all over the state. On occasions, during the past there has been a need felt for a system of guides, who are well acquainted with the university, that they might take charge of all strangers who are desirous of going through various university buildings. We would suggest that the military department appoint a number of men and instruct them to take charge of this situation on these occasions.

We feel, that with this corps of guides, strangers visiting the city and university would be able to get a much better insight of our great institution. There has been times and recently, too, when guides were needed badly. Several times this year we have met men and women wandering aimlessly through the buildings. Not once but many times have we been accosted and asked where the museum was, where certain buildings were, where certain laboratories were. Several times this year this office has supplied a guide to parties wishing to see the buildings and interesting places in and about the buildings. This we were very glad to do and will do so each time an opportunity presents itself; so will every son and daughter of "Old Gold," but we feel that this system of guides is needed because there will be times this spring when many high schoolers will wish to visit every nook and corner of the university.

EUGENE W. CHAFIN.

Honorable Eugene W. Chafin, who speaks at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. this evening, is without doubt the most noted speaker and organizer in temperance movements in the world today. He has spent practically all his life working in prohibition movements and making a study of the liquor traffic. He will thus bring to his address tonight a wealth of practical experience which will no doubt make it very interesting. He will speak on "One Standard of Morals."

Besides being a great worker in temperance movements Mr. Chafin is also widely noted as a politician. In this activity he has had a varied career. He was candidate for congress, Wis., 1882; for atty-gen., Wis., 1886, 1900; for governor of Wis., 1898; for atty-gen. Ill., 1904; and for president of the United States 1908, 1912.

Mr. Chafin has also attained considerable note as an author. He is author of the voter's handbook; the Lives of Presidents; Lincoln, the Man of Sorrow; and Washington as a Statesman.

The meeting this evening will begin promptly at seven o'clock at Close Hall. Every man in the University should make it a point to hear this noted lawyer, orator, and leader.

SEND A DELEGATE

Thursday and Friday the women of the university are to vote on a delegation to attend a conference of university women at Madison. A list of the names upon whom the women are to vote may be found on another page of this issue. It is extremely important that the State University be represented at this conference so it is the duty of every woman in the university to express her choice at the polls on the days named.

NEW ASKINGS NOW FROM LEGISLATURE

President Re-Arranged Requests for University as Result of Board's Action.

A $55,600 increase for the university engineering school; $20,000 for the domestic science department and an additional asking of $50,000 for the colleges of dentistry and medicine were announced yesterday, by President J. G. Bowman as new items in the budget of the university of Iowa which is to be presented to the senate probably Monday and later referred to a sub-committee.

Along with this announcement President Bowman told of the proposed establishment of a physical health department which was to be maintained at a yearly cost of over $9,000.

Optimism reigns in administrative circles of the university as a result of the great success won by the school's friends in the senate Friday. Around the president's office everything is being rushed to get the report of new askings to the senate in time for immediate action. President Bowman held conferences all day. He was closeted with Dean Raymond of the engineering college for over an hour and when the two emerged from the president's office the university's chief executive was ready to announce how much Iowa engineers would want from the senate on Monday.

D. D. Murphy of Elkador, member of the state board of education, met the president at the conclusion of his interview with Dean Raymond, and accompanied the president on a tour of the university buildings.

President Bowman was too busy to tell all about what was going to happen as a result of Iowa's great victory in the upper house yesterday, but did stop to give out the above new askings. The figures are all tentative, while the dentistry and medicine appropriation asking is estimated. The engineering request for $55,600 is probably approximate, however Dean Raymond and the president went yesterday over the situation with great deliberation. Plans as to the establishment of the domestic science department are yet indefinite.

President Bowman plans an innovation by the establishment of a physical culture department in connection with the university's gymnasium department. Instructors in the art of physical development and care of the body are to be employed if the asking is granted.

The new gymnasium has not been tendered a location as yet, President Bowman doubting whether it would be situated on the slope of Iowa hill or down nearer the river. The new building is to cost $125,000, which is $50,000 more than was asked in the first budget.

POTTER MAKES HIGH SCHOOL STATISTICS

Classifies List of Teachers' Positions in Schools of the State According to Salaries.

What men and women teachers in 400 of Iowa's high schools are receiving in the line of salaries, what kind of teaching positions pay the most financially and the comparative chances for obtaining positions with different subjects are among the items considered in statistics recently compiled in the education department of the state university by Mr. J. N. Potter.

The greatest range of salaries comes to the teachers of mathematics, the lowest salary in the list being paid to a woman instructor of that subject and seven like positions being held at salaries around $1250. The highest median salary, is paid to instructors in science, half of them receiving over and half below $85. One of the most alluring but at the same time most unprofitable positions for one to prepare is that of manual training teacher. Only eight of these are listed, five men and two women receiving an average of $125 a month and one man about $85, and they are employed only in the large cities.

There are nearly twice as many special teachers of English as of any other subject, viz., 216, while mathematics follows with 142. From this fact it is evident that these two subjects offer the greatest opportunity to the special teacher. But two or three times as great an opening is in store for the one who prepares along two or three branches. According to the statistics English and history is probably the best combination as far as the number of opportunities is concerned, but slightly higher salaries await the instructor in science or mathematics.

Women teachers vastly outnumber the men, except in the departments of physics and chemistry, and manual training. Twenty-one men and six women fill positions as physics and chemistry instructors while there are six men to two women in manual training positions. English and German is the woman's combination, no men instructors being known who take on these two subjects at once.

ELKS WIND UP A GREAT BIG FINALE

"BILL" FELKNER AND BIRDIE BARRER MAKE BIG HITS SUPPORTED BY STARS

Spicy Work by Local Men—Many University People Take Leading Roles—"Mirth and Melody" All New Hits—Good House.

A grand finale by the Elks scored another home run for the mammoth minstrel extravaganza at the Englebert last night. New music and new jokes scored a hit with a packed house and the entire performance went off with plenty of spice, both "pepper" and "ginger." The opening chorus took the hearts of the crowd and from then on nothing lagged for over two hours.

"Billie" Purcell opened the musical numbers with "Take Me to that Swanee Shore." If any of the audience was pessimistic about the Elks being able to sing their fears vanished as "Billie" returned time after time to the delight of the audience. Birdie Barrer was the first of the comediennees to take the stage alone. "Here Comes the Bride" came several times and each time the audience wanted the bride to come again.

"Bill" Felkner scored his first great big hit when he sang "When the Midnight Choo Choo Leaves for Alabam." More encores were given than ever before and "Bill" gave a good exhibition of his ability as a dancer, showing several different steps, some unknown to the audience, before he was allowed to sit down.

In the second part of the program "That Quartette" showed that they were "there with the goods" when it came to minstrel work. The poor old "nigger" of the southern plantation had to give up his laurels before the Iowa City four. Birdie Barrer again came back to the audience and delighted them with some late song hits.

Joe Bren of the Bren Producing Company of Kansas City worked opposite "Bill" Felkner in climaxing the work of the evening. The two worked out a travesty of a minstrel rehearsal that had a joke in every line and two in some lines. "Bill" came "from Ames" to take the place of Lou Dockster and the audience wondered whether "Bill" or Dockster was the star of minstrel work. Felkner closed the program with an original song success "I'm a Member of the Knockers' Club." It was original and it was a success.

The university was represented throughout the production. The stars as well as many of the members of the choruses were connected with the university at one time: Some are graduates of Iowa.

The honor system at Stevens Institute, according to students there is a great success. Cheating has been almost eliminated as only one student has been convicted in the last two years and this caused his suspension for a year. All cases of supposed cheating are tried before the Honor Board, where the defendant has full opportunities to prove his innocence in a trial not open to the public.

IOWA AND WEST VA. TIED FOR THE TITLE

EACH HAVE LOST ONE MATCH—MEANS SOME POST-SEASON SHOOTING

Harvard Wins Eastern Championship—Iowa Team Working Hard In Endeavor to Win Championship—Match to be Shot Soon.

Bulletin No. 12 of the National Intercollegiate Rifle Association has been received by the military department. This bulletin includes the last match but one of the season and shows the standing of the clubs as it will in most instances be after the season is finished.

The championship of the eastern division is settled and Harvard gains the title in that league with a clean slate. Her nearest competitor is the team representing the Mass. Agricultural College, which has lost but one match. This team has had easy sailing in the east heretofore and its defeat by the Crimmon rather upset the dope of the followers of the sport.

The title in the western league is not yet determined as both Iowa and West Va. have each lost a match. The tie will require a post-season match which will be shot in the near future. Iowa's team is working hard and if her men keep up their present gait she should be able to defeat the southerners without a great deal of difficulty. The date for this important match has not been fixed, but it will be announced in the near future.

The standing of all the clubs in both the eastern and western leagues follows:

OTHER COLLEGES

A "Hardship Club," has been organized at Pennsylvania university.

Prospective members mush "shin up 20-foot ropes hand over hand, swim 10 yards, walk a mile in less than thirteen minutes, run a mile in less than seven minutes and dip under parallel bars ten times. They must sleep on the gymnasium floor, take a dip in the Schuylkill when the water is near the freezing point, get up at 3 a. m. for a ten-mile walk and in every way show contempt for fatigue, pain, sleep, cold, heat and everything else anybody doesn't like.

The United States navy is offering work during the summer months to engineering students. Two years of training in a college or technical school, and a minimum age of eighteen years are the only requirements. Students who accept the offer will not be enlisted, but will be required to observe the rules of the navy. The object of the offer is to increase the number of trained navy engineers.

To cut out "between-class-smokes," an Oregon University professor locks the door when the bell rings and marks the tardy one absent. Last week when eleven members of his class were refused entrance, they walked around the building and came into the class through the back door single file. They were marked present.

Believing that the recent action of the regents amending the charter of the student court has made impossible any real exercise of judicial power, the members of the court resigned in a body on March 31. The matter now lies in the hands of the student conference which will consider the resignation at its next meeting. Members of the conference seemed to be opposed to the resignation.

Late statistics from Harvard reveal the fact that the best students come from the high school. In athletics, however, the fellow with a private school education, far surpasses the high school student in football, baseball, track and crew.

After a thorough investigation, the junior prom committee at Wisconsin recommended to the student council a three-dollar prom to be held. This includes both admission and expenditure for refreshments. Optional dress suits and the change of the date from winter to spring are other changes that are recommended.

Members of the Missouri track team will be sent to the various high schools of the state as coaches if a plan to boost the annual interscholastic meet goes through. It is the aim of the university to give the benefits of training to both the men and the high school athletes in this way.

Michigan university is seriously considering the erection of a club house to serve as a congregating place for all foreign students at Ann Arbor. The money for the building is being raised by the Cosmopolitan club alumni. The international peace societies are also interested.

A movement is now under way among the women at Minnesota university to combine the various existing women's organizations in one self-governed association. Every woman in the university will be a member of the association upon registration.

The latest form of college fraternity organizations called "fratority" is being organized at Kansas university. The fraternity is an organization modeled after the present fraternity and sorority, but composed of married students.

Michigan university has already received over 200 letters asking for men to fill engineering positions which is more than the school can supply. This is a refutation of the argument that this profession is over-crowded with men.

Lawrence, Ripon, Beloit, and Marquette colleges send representatives to participate in the peace oratorical contest to be held at Milwaukee Saturday. The winner will represent Wisconsin in the interstate contest to take place at Cleveland in May. The prize is $75.

Michigan students favor the return of their institution to the conference. In an election held recently they voted 246 for returning and 59 against the proposition. The matter is now in the hands of the board of control.
