Y. M. C. A. TO HOLD GREAT CONCERT

University Organization Will Present Their First Public Concert of the Year.

Thursday evening in the Natural Science auditorium one of the most unusual treats of the year will be given when the university orchestra presents its first public concert this season. This is the first in a series of several years that the university has had a regular orchestra. The need of an organization can easily be seen in the assistance it renders in the productions of the Choruses of Normal State. The orchestra this year is said to be one of the best that the university has ever had. It consists of twenty-five pieces and contains many of the men that have been here or been heard so much on an orchestra here. The orchestra is under the personal direction of Professor Scholtelen. Professor Scholtelen has made a large place for himself in the musical life of Iowa City. Since Iowa City, the college of applied sciences has divided its students into ten teams of five men each. Each team will be under the direction of a leader. The leaders of the teams will be George Kunsch, secretary of the Phi Delta Kappa society; Charles Jordan, Fred Yorkland, John Anderson, William Kusch, Floyd Beedle, Florence Metzger, George Hilliard, Wm. R. Griffith, a chairman of missions for the association will have direct supervision of the campaign. In connection with this campaign the Y. M. C. A. will hold a McNeill rally meeting Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the College Hall. The subject taken up will be "Why should Iowa men support McNeill?" short talks will be given by Professors McDougal, J. A. M. F. Grier, a prominent banker of the city. After the faculty and business men's side has been set forth by two men, an opportunity will be given for open discussion.

PROFESSORS STORM FOR VICTORY

Zetagathlan and Irving Will Strive for First Place in Debate.

The faculty and business men's debate team will meet the Irving's debating team in the debate in the lecture room of the university. The Irving team will be represented by Mr. M. K. Stewart and Mr. H. W. Smith, the faculty and business men's team will be represented by Mr. R. W. Smith and Mr. C. W. Dunham, assistant professor of English.

MINNESOTA HERE TO CLASH WITH HAWKEYES

SUPPOSED ALL-STAR Gopher Live-Up—First Conference for Two Years

The Minnesota baseball team arrived in Iowa City early this morning for an engagement with Lindeman's hopefuls in the local field after this. This is the first conference game between the teams in many years. The spring of 1911. Last season, the team was disbanded early in the year because of the inability of the find candidates who would sign the eligibility papers.

Under the supervision of Coach Bellamy, a former American association star, the northerners have developed several promising young men. Minnesota entered the St. Thomas mine at Minneapolis but suffered a defeat at the hands of a strong team. More than two hundred men answered the first call for practice this season, so it is easy to see that the coach has not been wasting material from which to select his team. The Iowa team has a number of men in their first year of prominence in the past few weeks. Hatt, the hard hitting out-fielder is laid up for the rest of the season with a broken ankle. Meyer the guard of the second team is suffering from a sprain of the ankle and it is likely that the eastern trip and Captain Von Laude is troubled with a broken leg. Both of these men will be the key men for the season. It is the first time we have appeared here in the past twenty-five seasons before the football team.

The coach is a past graduate student. He has won a splendid place for himself as a future star in the Nebraska Tri-county. The admission to the concert, which begins at 8:15, will be twenty-five cents.
