HAWKEYES TAKE FALL OUT OF PURPLE BUNCH

Well Played Game Ends 4 to 1; Iowa Takes Lead in Fifth Inning And Holds it Throughout.

Cornell's royal purple baseball team showed strictly to its accustomed line on Iowa field yesterday, losing handily to the Hawkeyes by a 4 to 1 count. The visitors got away in front, and as long as they remained there put up a scrappy game; but once headed, with Zimmer going better in every round, they died easily, never furnishing a thrill for the local fans in the closing rounds.

It didn't seem like the same old team, at that. Some of the West and Lett boys are still playing on the team, as it was in the beginning; but where, we ask, was Coppess, of revered antiquity? He has at last forsaken his alma mater, and will be surely missed by all the fans who have grown accustomed to him as a fixture on the Cornell team. Time, with his heavy hand,—but let's get back to the ball game.

One Kettering, well known around Illinois-Missouri league circles and were recently of Fort Dodge, essayed to twirl some real college ball. Armed with a derisive smile and a change of pace, he baffles the local hitters to the extent of no hits for the first four innings. Meanwhile, his teammates were rapping Zimmer's offerings some, and scored a run in the second on the strength of walk and three hits, one of the newly-discovered Cincinnati variety. This occasioned much comment among the Cornell section of the crowd, and Coach Collins uttered loud shrieks of joy on the coaching benches. Thus the situation stood when the fifth inning rolled around.

Zimmer improved as time wore on, and after the fifth allowed nary a run. In Iowa's half of this round, Curry popped out to Baird and Zimmer rapped the first Iowa hit through Marston. Garret forced him, Marston hit Edwards, but Byer whacked and Lett hit off Baird's knee, scoring Kettering, who had stolen second.

The next round saw Von Lackum hitting a double to left without any error, and Hanson's single to right sent the captain across. Snyder forced Hanson, and Brueckner visited a high fly safely in short center. Cornell fielders caucused on this play, and decided to allow it to fall in their midst. Sinn struck out Curry forced Brueckner at second. Continuing the one-at-a-time polka, the Hawkeyes scored in both the seventh and eighth innings. Zimmer opened the seventh with his second hit, a double to the bank in left. Garret sacrificed neatly, and Eyer rocked another double to left center, Zimmer scoring. Von Lackum fouled to West and Hanson popped to short.

In the eighth, Snyder led off with a hit through Marston. Brueckner sacrificed, and Sinn singled to left, taking second when Allen let the ball through him. Baird threw out Curry and Zimmer popped to Edwards. Although hit hard in the first three innings, Zimmer settled during the latter part of the game, and was never in danger. The team played fast and aggressive ball behind him, and seemed to have found itself. Garret's miss of a grounder was the only fielding mistake. Brueckner covered lots of ground in center, saving several dangerous situations in the early innings, when Purple runners were camping on the sacks. Sinn also played a clever fielding game around third.

The box score.

CAPTAIN RAYMOND TO INSPECT REGIMENT

ANNUAL INSPECTION OF CADET REGIMENT OCCURS ON IOWA FIELD THIS AFTERNOON

Showing of Regiment at Inspection Determines Rank of Department—Regimental Parade Will Precede Inspection—Field Drill Tomorrow

This afternoon at 4:30 the cadet regiment will stage a review and parade on Iowa field as the beginning of the annual inspection. Captain Raymond of the General Staff, Washington, D. C., is the inspecting officer this year. He arrives in Iowa City this afternoon, coming from the Western Military Academy at Upper Alton, Ill., and leaves tomorrow for Ames where he will review the cadets at that institution. Captain Raymond has been inspecting military schools and the military departments of colleges and universities since April 1st, and all of this month will be required for him to finish the work of inspecting the schools under government supervision.

The annual inspection is one of the features of the year's work in the military department, and the men are primed to the utmost for this occasion. Upon the showing made at the inspection is dependent the rank of the department in comparison with the other universities of the country, and consequently no pains are spared to have the companies in good shape for the event. Every man is required to be in ranks, and in full dress uniform, including black shoes polished, clean white collar and clean white gloves. During the past two days uniforms have not been required, and the cadets have taken advantage of this opportunity to get their fighting clothes pressed, and in tip-top shape. No man absent from the formation today or tomorrow without a doctor's certificate will receive credit for the year's work, and likewise those not in proper uniform will receive no credit. It is absolutely necessary that every man be in ranks and the somewhat drastic ruling is necessary to insure the presence of all.

The work today will consist of a regimental parade, followed by an inspection by Captain Raymond. It is the inspection that proves the undoing of many an embryo soldier and the most simple of the inspector's question are likely to seem exceptionally profound to some of those unused to the formalities. The companies will be formed tomorrow at

"MICE AND MEN" STAGED TONIGHT

Irving-Erodelphian Play Will Be Supported by Excellent Cast and Eight-Piece Orchestra.

Tonight the Irving and Erodelphians will appear in the only literary society play to be put on this year. With this fact in mind, the members of the cast have put forth especial effort to make their play attractive, and if work is an indication, it is fair to predict that they have succeeded in no small degree. The cast that is to appear in "Mice and Men" tonight is an especially large one for an amateur production, 22 people having speaking parts in the play. All of these have had previous experience in dramatic work, and many of the leading parts are taken by undergraduates with considerable past experience both at the university and in other places. Many of them have been seen before in literary society plays and other local talent ventures staged in past years. With such an array of talent and with a play which commands one of the highest royalties of any piece available for amateur presentation, tonight's attraction should prove a most satisfactory one.

A complete set of costumes for the entire cast has been procured and they are of the finest sort obtainable. The costumes are furnished by a Chicago house and are said to be more attractive than any seen here for some time. An eight-piece orchestra, featuring the latest music is another of the special drawing cards which the management has secured and this alone will go far towards making the evening's entertainment a success. Eppel's Missouri Waltz which has recently taken the university by storm is one of the musical numbers to be played, and this orchestra is the first beside the composer himself to present the piece locally.

The seat sale for the play has been quite large and it is thought that nearly all the house will be sold today. The popular prices, 75 cents for the reserved seats and 25 cents for the gallery, insure a large crowd and the fact that no other attractions are to be put on in the immediate future has also increased the sale.

The play itself has been commended by the faculties of the English and public speaking departments and it is said to be one of the strongest literary society productions ever staged here.

Dr. W. A. Jessup, will give an address before a meeting of the state teacher's association at Mason City the latter part of the week.

SPRING FOOTBALL IS PROGRESSING NICELY

COACH HAWLEY LEAVES THE MEN TO COACH EBY,
MCGINNIS AND OTHERS

Practice to Be Held Three Times Every Week Until End of Year—Only Fundamentals of Football Considered These Days.

Spring football practice in charge of Coaches Hawley and Eby is proving to be a decided success. The mentors arrived in the city Friday morning, conducting drills in the afternoon and also one on Saturday. Head Coach Hawley left Sunday to resume his work with the large bond house in Chicago but he expects to come back within the course of two weeks to give the candidates their last instructions before the end of the school year.

For the remainder of the month, practices will be held three times a week, with the men in charge of Captain McGinnis, Trickey and O'Brien. Assistant Coach Eby who is located in Waterloo will be here to take charge of the squad every Monday afternoon.

Only light work was given the men, such as learning the fundamentals of the blocking stunts, pushing the charging machines from one end of the field to the other, forward passing and punting. Hawley gave the squad which consisted of over forty men, a short chalk talk before leaving Saturday evening. Some of the new formations which will be used next fall were gone over carefully on the blackboard, with explanations as to what would be expected from the men playing the different positions.

Kirk booted the ball in grand style during the two days drill and it looks like the big boy would be called upon to hand out the difficult spirals when the season opens next fall. Captain McGinnis handled the long kicks from any angle in mid-season form.

Barron, captain of last year's freshman team, Wilson star guard of the same eleven showed up well in the line work. They are both fast and will prove to be valuable to fill up the holes in the line, left by the graduation of this year's lights. The material which reported for practice was the best that has been on Iowa field for a number of years.

Wednesday Morning, May 7, 1913.

THE SITUATION

"Old Gold" defeated the Purple yesterday on Iowa field in a game that was well appreciated by every one who witnessed it. The Hawkeye men played a good consistent game, with only a few errors. We are satisfied with the showing made and confidently believe that they will be in the right sort of form for Saturday.

Saturday is to be a great day in the annals of Iowa athletics. It is the day when the State University of Iowa clash with the State Agricultural college in both camps. The Aggie baseball team comes here for their annual game on the Iowa field and the Iowa track squad will stage their annual track affray on the State field.

As for the baseball team we have all sorts of confidence in them. We feel that they are going to march straight to victory on the local diamond from the time the first ball is thrown. They will have the student body back of them, there is no doubt of that, already there is the spirit in the air that will fill the bleachers to over-flowing. What more would a team want to give them the necessary inspiration to win a most important game. Then we must not forget that the track team is going to Ames to do their best against a team that has already gained recognition over the entire middle west for their wonderful record at Drake last Saturday. Undaunted, however, the followers of "Old Gold," will leave home Saturday morning with a determination to make the athletes of the State Agriculture college know they have been in a meet.

The next few days means a great deal to the athletic team of the university. In the first place they need to know that every student is back of the mthrough thick and thin. This means that during the practice this week those interested in the athletic welfare here should get down to Iowa field in the afternoons and boost the men along. In the second place let us all forget the past defeats and work together for the future. There is nothing gained by telling an athlete where he has made bad mistakes and giving him a continual knock for it. It is the future events, especially the ones which are to be held Saturday, which concern us now.

Besides being instructive and educational as well. The exceptionally good and interesting moving picture films we give the public, makes this theatre the popular place of entertainment. Following is our bill for tonight:

TODAY

Thanouser Comedy,
"THE SPOILED DARLING'S DOLL"
A cute playlet, cutely presented, with the Thanouser Kid and the Thanouser Kidlet.

Reliance Drama
"THE WOMAN WHO KNEW"
With Irving Cummings, E. P. Sullivan, and a strong supporting company. An exceptionally interesting presentation in which Miss Balfour and Mr. Cummings appear in double roles.

Majestic Comedy-Drama
"THE HALF ORPHANS"
A bright, sparking refined comedy by exceptionally clever artists.

THURSDAY

Kay-Bee Two Reel Feature
"THE SINEWS OF WAR"
Showing the siege of Richmond, Va., during the Civil War. The cotton broker gives up his money—the sinews of war—for the southern cause. His daughter, moved to pity assists a northern officer to escape from prison. He, in turn, saves her brother's life when General Grant makes a successful attack upon the city and captures it.

Thrilling and realistic battle scenes—intense dramatic situations. The burning of the warehouse is a strong feature.

Keystone Comedy
"THE LANDSALESMAN"
(Split Reel)—A comedy of educational interest in which giant tree stumps are blown up with dynamite.
"Hide and Seek"—A roaring, side-splitting comedy.

spondent, have been appearing in the state papers concerning a "Peeping Tom" who is alleged to have appeared at the local sorority houses on several occasions. Rather open accusations have been made against a "prominent fraternity man, the son of a professor." Upon investigation these tales have been found to be almost without foundation and as far as the "son of a professor" being concerned in them absolutely untrue.

The Kappa Kappa Gammas, at whose house the latest feat of the "peeper" is alleged to have taken place so far as they know, and ex-They state that the famous "collar" episode which emphasis is placed upon in the recent stories never took place so far as they know, and exonerate completely the "son of the professor." From other sources it is learned that some months ago a student was suspected and charged with the act but that he has left the city and is no longer attending the university.

8 o'clock and a two hour field drill will be staged. This drill will consist of all work which has been covered during the year and will give the men a fair test of their ability. Battalion and company drill both in close and extended order will probably take up the greater part of the allotted time tomorrow.

Y. M. C. A. PLAN SUNDAY TRIP UP THE RIVER

Will Leave Boat House Early in the Morning and Breakfast Near Black Springs.

For several days the Y. M. C. A. has been laying plans for an early Sunday morning trip up the river. As the present plans have it, they will take their breakfasts with them and spread near Black Springs. The trip will be similar to the ones held in the past, in the way of a program. Already Secretary Williams is negotiating for a speaker of note to be with the men on that day. On the return trip from Black Springs they will lash their boats together stern and bow and float down the river. The address of the day will be delivered from the boats by the speaker.

Owing to the early arrangements being made it anticipated that the event this year will be the most successful and enjoyable that has ever been held.

TRACK MEN ARE OUT AFTER WET WEATHER

FEW DAYS' REST PUTS SPEED AND "PEPPER" INTO TRACK SQUAD FOR "OLD GOLD"

Putting Last Touches on Team Before Clash With Aggies On Saturday—Considerable Comment Over Records Made by Ames.

After a few days' rest track team was again on the track last night with renewed vigor. There is only two more afternoons' hard practice with one light work-out before the clash with Ames on Saturday. Within this short time there is much to be done by every man on the team.

Chase reported a badly infected knee after the home meet, as a result of his fall over the eighth hurdle. He has been giving it the best of care, however, and it is not thought that it will give him much bother Saturday. He is getting into shape otherwise so that Coaches Kellogg and Packard are expecting much of him.

Korf is rounding into shape rapidly these days. The short rest during the rainy weather has put a good deal of speed into him and by Saturday he ought to be able to show up the Aggies in good shape.

Just what Iowa will have in the broad jump on Saturday is a conjecture at present. Foley will go in for this event, as well as the sprints. With Shrader out of the meet, it may be that Falk will be in this event, as it comes after the hundred yard dash and the two-twenty.

When the call comes for the weights Saturday, Iowa will not have very many men in the field. The men who represent "Old Gold" will be average at any rate. After the upsetting of the dope in the home meet it is a question what is to be offered. Stubbart is getting some good work these days, so is Blythe, Gabrielson and several others.

De Freece will probably enter the pole vault. He did not make much of a record in the home meet but with the work he is getting in these fine evenings it is thought that he will be able to place. Not much need be said about Parsons and the events which he is to represent. Suffice to say he is in the pink of condition and will give all he has to the Aggies on the day of the dual meet.

For the two mile there is Sumner and Mather both of whom can clip it off in remarkable time. The mile and half-mile events are to be well represented. Bowen and Tyler in the half will likely do some excellent time when they are pushed to the limit.

There has been considerable comment on the records set by Ames down at Des Moines last Saturday. Despite the fact that they broke records and clipped time down in mid-season form the local track men are going after their opponent with all that is in them next Saturday afternoon.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD AT GRINNELL

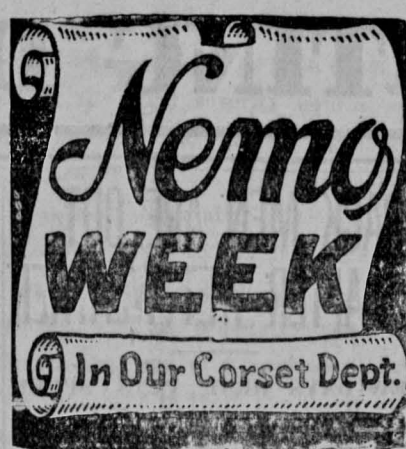

Teams to Represent Iowa in State Intercollegiate Tournament Will Soon Be Chosen.

The state intercollegiate tennis tournament will be held at Grinnell on May 28 and 29. The Hawkeye singles and doubles teams were broken up by the loss of Larson, so that new teams must now be chosen to represent Iowa in the state tournament.

The one-year residence rule has made Hestwood, the former Simpson star, ineligible, leaving the team undecided. Matches will be arranged between eligible contestants to determine the singles and doubles teams that will represent Iowa at Grinnell. At present only five men have signified their intention of entering the local contest, but it is expected many more will turn out.

An excellent opportunity presents itself here for a man to win his "I." All those who are eligible to enter should sign the list on the gate of the courts at once, as matches will soon be arranged both in singles and doubles.

"What am I Going to Do in the World?"

Is the Eternal Question

TO THE STUDENT IN HIGH SCHOOL.

What high school student has not caught something of the spirit of social service? What student has not felt the thrill which comes with the vision of personal achievement in this work-a-day world of ours?

To such students the University of Iowa makes an especial appeal through its Fourteen schools and colleges. With more than one thousand different courses from which to choose it is possible to prepare for an almost endless number of different vocations. Among the different vocations for which special courses, schools or colleges are maintained are:
