ANOTHER VICTORY

The baseball team defeated Iowa's old athletic rival, Ames, in a sensational game yesterday. The team proved to the large crowd on the bleachers that really could be done if necessary in the ninth inning, when the Iowa men decided that the game had gone long enough, and that the winning score should be made.

Iowa is due to capture another state championship this year. True the team had met some defeats at the hands of large universities in the conference, but the knoeders will have to sit up and keep the team, as he has little chance to use his hammer on the baseball men. The team is coming strong and everybody is hoisting with true Iowa spirit.

A NEW FIELD

That should prove very attractive to any one who is fond of chemistry and science is

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING.

The great advance in manufacturing processes dependent on chemistry, as gas making, steel making, packaging and canning processes, etc., call for a knowledge of mechanical engineering and chemistry and inventive ability.

The first two the University of Iowa is well equipped to give, and the man who possesses all three has many opportunities to secure wealth and reputation.

Letters of inquiry concerning particular features of any of these vocations will be answered by the heads of the various departments concerned.

Address the Vocation Editor,
Daily Iowan, Iowa City, Iowa.

Seniors! Attention!!

Leave your orders now for the Senior class pin. We are making these pins here in the city. The design for this year's pin is very striking.

High School friends, back home, will soon be remembering you with commencement invitations. The question then is: appropriate? Call and see our beautiful jewelry novelties—especially souveniers of the university.
