HAWKEYES DEFEATED IN LAST HOME GAME

IOWANS PUT UP WEIRD EXHIBITION TO CLOSE SEASON ON LOCAL DIAMOND

The Hawkeyes bounded dangerously with two men on the field in the fifth inning, but proved to be only a flash. Loudin hit to right, Cherry got an infield hit, Lemon hitting in second. Lemon swung and a man made a great try, went to the right field deep right where it was pulled down after a hard run.

Drumright was still keeping score. In the sixth and seventh innings, Iowa tied up the game in the fifth. Garrett went out, Anderson, Tyrell and Loudin scored against the Hawkeyes with two hits for two runs to right. Von Hauk out but was stopped at second, Tyrell scoring in the sixth. Beverlin scored third.

With the score tied the remainder again cut through the science in second, but with two out, the score was 1-1. The score remained the same after a hard struggle for the 1-1 tie and the fans cheered up.

The Uawkeyes evidenced a complete defeat going to second. The game was particularly tiring for the fans and the fans and the fans, who had opened the game with a two-bagger Loudin. Bruerken hit to first.

The Twentieth Century call for efficiency with the widening of "Economy" and "Full utilization of plant" has been heard by the colleges, with the result that we have in this country over six hundred summer schools with an attendance of over 130,000 students.

Many of the old fashioned summer schools resemble chautauquas, others were for students who had flunked. In either case the session lacked the tone and spirit of the regular session. Today this is all changed. The heads of the departments are in charge and the courses are so arranged as to co-ordinate with those of the regular year or with the succeeding summer. The summer students are drawn from the class of young men and women who wish to make every minute count, who wish to take extra courses or to shorten the time for graduation; graduate students, who wish to take advantage of unusual oppor- tunities to do research work; special students who feel the need of some special courses in order to increase their efficiency.

The summer session today attracts about all of the serious minded students who do not have to spend the summer in earning money for the next year's return.

Are you going to join the army of S. U. I. summer school students?
