FOUR THOUSAND PEOPLE WITNESS SENIOR FROLIC

Iowa Field Scene of Excusable Foolishness of Senior Medics, Dents, Laws and Engineers

Yesterday afternoon as Iowa held the one big social event of the spring term, a program of frolics was put on for the benefit of the whole body of seniors. Today the student body of Iowa Nutritional Science Building were treated with astonishment when they learned that the medics, laws and engineers, each in their proper colors, were being entertained by the seniors. While the medics were pre-arranged to play a role in the program, the others were not informed of the purpose of their appearance until the first performance was over.

The program opened with the usual banter of the seniors demonstrating what they have learned during their three years of work and study. Cleaning and forcing beer seems to be their hobby now. huge crowds gathered with laughter and joy, to such an extent that it seemed impossible to select the object of attack. However, in a few moments, when singing, brushing beards, bows, rakes, and shoveling mud was turned to boastfulness, it was, but, alas, when it had been cleaned a cavity was discovered. With a practical knowledge of the subject before them, they were well prepared to aid the occasion.

They were not so well prepared to the joke that one of their number added to the solemnity of the day. The joke was

ALUMNI FORM ASSOCIATION

Pleasant to invite Graduates and the Former Students- Hy-Loe's Drawn Up

University of Iowa almost at a regular meeting today, yesterday's organization to be known as the University of Iowa. Association. The subject of the constitution, "It is perpetuity and strengthens the ties of affection and esteem between the graduates and former students of the university and to unite all in an organized effort to promote the general welfare of their Alma Mater.

There are to be two classes of members - regular and honorary. Regular members include all graduates as well as former students, the latter being entitled to all the privileges and subject to all the duties and liabilities of membership. Any graduate or former student may become a member by the payment of dues consisting of one dollar a year. Honorary membership will be given to those persons, other than graduates on whom the university has conferred degrees or who have performed distinctive service for the university. The officers of the association shall consist of a president, a vice-president, a secretary and a treasurer. The annual meeting of the association will be held at the university.

The duties of the executive committee will be to advance the interests of the university by strengthening relations between the alumni and the university, by establishing alumni classes and organizations, by disseminating such information as will arouse the interest of students of preparatory schools and those desirous of being admitted to the university.

ANNAL SENIOR HOP HELD THIS EVENING

EVENT PROMISES TO BE MOST SUCCESSFUL OF IT'S KIND EVER HELD HERE

Noted Orchestra Engaged for Occasion - Grand March Begins at 9 O'Clock - Complete List of Selections Given Below.

The annual senior hop which is to be given in the armory this evening promises to be one of the most successful parties of its kind that has ever been staged here. The committee has entirely completed negotiations and has left nothing undone which might add to the enjoyment of the evening.

After considerable hesitation the committee decided to give the Iowa City dancers a novel treat in the way of engaging Meyer's orchestra of Cedar Rapids for the occasion. The reason for this is that the orchestra is inside far and wide, it being generally conceded that there is none better in the state.

The grand march will begin promptly at 9:00 o'clock and will be followed by the following well-chosen list of popular selections:

1. Two-step, Oh John
2. Waltz, That Old Girl of Mine
3. Two-step, In My Kears
4. Waltz, I Love You Dear
5. Waltz, My Pretty Rose
6. Waltz, Gooey, Gooey, Gooey
7. Waltz, Serenade
8. Waltz, I'll Get You Yet
9. Waltz, extra, Cedar Rapids Sunny Sue
10. Waltz, Roses Bloom for Lov
11. Waltz, Rosemary Waltz
12. Waltz, Senior Hop Special
13. Waltz, Meets Waltz
14. Waltz, Old Fashioned Rose
15. Waltz, San Francisco Bound
16. Waltz, Encantadas Waltz
17. Waltz, Bridal Rose
18. Waltz, Trail of the Lonesome
19. Waltz, Waltz
20. Waltz, Georgia Rose
21. Waltz, Harbor of Love
22. Waltz, Senior Hop Special Days
23. Good Night, Dear.

NOTICE TO SENIORS

Owing to the large attendance, many of the members of the senior class have been buying the wrong class pin. The pin designed and ordered by the class pin committee is made by John Hands and is for sale at his store.

Iowa's diamond heroes of former days, even though captained by no personage (Law Clyde—William W.
Hawkover), still held a victim to the baseball prowess of the younger generation of ball throwers yesterday on Iowa field. The final score was 1-3 which represents the tailing out by the alumni in the seventh ingning when the for-ingsome who at one time would have welcomed an extra inning contest with great glee, felt their wind breaking and heads fall.
 Even though defeated the old timers went down only after giving the admissions young stars of this generation the battle of their lives.
With Yesser, star pitcher in so many a hard fought pitching duel upon the mound, the alumni put up a sparking exhibition, holding the varsity until the sixth when youth was no longer to be denied, coming into the game. W. E. Snyder, star catcher of former times tried to base on balls and a couple of hits broke the tie that had existed for several innings. Yesser showed signs of the stuff contained in his reservoirs in the palm days of youth by scoring some of the varsity's heavy timber out at home.
 At various times, the rejuvenated punters uncovered some glittering baseball for the delegations of the campus homecoming crowd that was prepared to greet their efforts with a flood of banter, but who re turned to cheer when the old f.c.
promises the five points of the national pastime were with all of their memory. The teed was victorious, but the batting eyes of former ,304 hitters had become dimmed by disease, only one hit being registered by the past generation and that came from the bat of Wm.
Haward, whose diamond exploits are still green in the fond recollection of this generation of students.

The other balances were helpless before the bewildering sheets of Hawarden, who made his last appearance as a regular yesterday.
The range was as good as doing a meritorious and presented a strong line-up. Yesser and Von Lackum were the two returning veterans and two

Class Resolution

The following resolution was passed by the senior class of the college to law at a recent meeting:

Whereas, We, the Class of 1913, believe that the new college laws which we have been attending for the past five years are the best in the middle west; and

Whereas, We believe that the generations resulting from its students have always been fully appreciated by the students themselves.

Therefore, we resolve that,
