DEBATE MAY END IN ANOTHER TIE

Iowa Union Campaign

NOW BEFORE STUDENTS

LETS MAY LEAD BY TWO DEBATES OR THE W.H.S. Phi Delta Pi Seven Year Championship

Whether the Philomathian society will be without a tie with the Zeta fraternity for the supremacy in debate at the university or whether the Zeta will maintain their lead by adding another victory to their three, will be decided next Thursday night at the annual championship debate.

During the Owosso Class of championship debate at Iowa, Sethgalin has won the M.J. Wade prize three times. The last two years in succession. Philomathian has claimed the honor twice. Therefore by a victory Thursday night, this society will attain the Zeta for the seven year supremacy; but another victory for the Owosso will give them a hold of two points.

In this final debate, the Philomathians will argue the opposite side from the one they upheld in the preliminary debate. Ray Cleason, Donald Riggs, and John T. Frederick will present the affirmative arguments on behalf of the United States bank system; while Harold T. Barry, Milton Norwood, and Howard T. Holt, representing the Sethgalin society, will defend the negative of the proposition.

In view of the recent agitation over the currency question, and the general interest in the Owosso debate, the third bank question becomes one of general public interest, and a large number of students is expected to attend the locality. The university championship debate is second only to the intercollegiate debates in point of interest.

GUESTS AT FORMAL

Decorations to represent an Anne Hutchinson Temple was the feature of the Avalon formal, held last Saturday night in the Majestic hall. The out of town guests were as follows: Hand Bush, Clinton; Mil¬ er, Monmouth; Metz Mabel Niles, Des Moines; Miss Mabel W., Des Moines; Miss Anna W., Des Moines; Mrs. Elizabeth K., Des Moines; Miss Mabel W., Des Moines; Wallis Peterson, a liberal arts college in Des Moines where he resides.

The general athletic team has now completed their active practices. Every man is in the best of form and spirit. They are ready to resume the programs of the season under the auspices of the university of Iowa will be a great success. The schedule for the next part of the season has been decided.

No hard work will be given them by Director Schroeder, as the next on Saturday evening will be a terrific battle with the Owosso and the set will be given them in the best of condition which only a good rest will give them. The real athletic ticket is now good for the state gymnastic meet. Outdoors admissions will be 1.00. The Intramural will start 7:15.

DENTAL ALUMNI HONORED

The first testimonial banquet to be held in connection with the dental profession in the middle west and one of the few of its kind in the United States, was tendered Dr. A. Leland Teckle, of the school, by the graduates, recently. College professors, and pri¬vate practitioners, as well as many others attended, and scores of friends were present. The occasion was one of the largest in the history of the college.

A costly Oriental rug was presented to Dr. Hunt, in connection with the event. Dr. Hunt was one of the dean of dentistry at St. L. U.; many years and dean of the Omaha dental college from 1896 to 1894, where he was born.

The winner will be announced on the evening of March 5, 1914.

SLAVE CATCHERS IN IOWA

Among the things that I expect to cover on the ground Railroad.” By means of which slaves were spirited away from bondage is Missouri to free states. In Iowa, was the Iowa town, a thriving Quaker community, in heavy county. Many were the fugitive slaves who, in the years before the war, were hidden in the cellars and garrets of the Quaker homes at Salem, and then sent to safety on their long journey to the northward. Indeed, it is said that not a single slave who reached Salem was ever recognized by his owners.

In a book by "The Quakers of Iowa," which has just been published by the State Historical Society of Iowa, Mr. Louis T. Jones tells of an incident of this character, which nearly resulted in bloodshed. Several slaves belonging to a Missouri man, named Dugger had escaped to the vicinity of Salem, and attempted to escape them was frustrated by the Quakers of that community. A few days later the people of the town, with the assistance of the prairies of a large body of Missouri and armed, to the teeth and bent on recovering the lost slaves. They had a full supply of grub and energy and surrounded a number of houses to no avail. Before any violence was done, however, it was rumored that the sheriff of Henry county was coming to the rescue of Salem with a large posse of angry men; whereas the Missourians took to their horses and slipped off past halls to their farms without accomplishing the object of their mission.

"ON THE BALLAD STRING"

It seems that at the present day it matters little to newspaper readers whether they live in New York, London, or Copenhagen. They are all alive to the news. But a second thought will serve to show how easy it would be to come and forever make the Iowa Union independent and secure. The Iowa Union must have a real live in the Iowa Union, or you would not have, thus far, given it your support. Now is the time to prove it by keeping yourself up to date and giving your financial support to this democratic institution of the university. Every man in the university will be approached, within a day or two.

LAST INTER-CLASS
GAMES SATURDAY
Liberal Arts and Engineers to Clash For Championship Of University Saturday afternoon will witness its last inter-class basketball game of the season, when the liberal arts and the engineers will clash for the title.
There will be two more games in Saturday afternoon, the first one, will be between the laws and the engineers, the other as above stated.
The game will start geographically at 3:15.
Director Schroeder has had much to do with this game in getting these inter-class games played off, owing to the crowded condition of the library, but despite the changing dates and other troubles there have been more than the usual amount of interest. Especially is the interest over the games between the liberal arts and the engineers keen, for this is the first year for the liberal arts and engineers to clash for the title.
These teams have been playing a good quality ball all season, and the outcome on Saturday is doubtful. The game between the liberal arts and the engineers will be called at 3:15. An admission charge of 15c will be charged for one or both games.

PANDEAN PLAYERS
CHOOSE THEIR PLAY
"The Road to Yesterday" is Name Of Production to Be Staged "The Road to Yesterday" is the name of the play which will be staged by the Pandean players within a few weeks. The choosing of this play has been given much consideration by the members of the drama-club, and the one chosen is felt to be the best one which is possible to obtain. The players are particularly well satisfied with the choice.
It was announced yesterday that Miss Norma Reid Harrison will coach the club this year. This name came with a great welcome as Miss Harrison is well acquainted with the production, having starred in it several years ago at Cleveland, O. She is therefore, well qualified to coach the company.

The Pandean players feel that they have an especially strong cast this year and are announcing that it will be the best play that will be put on in an amateur house this season.
The play is being made over the set-ing of the play and this, together with the lighting effects, are anticipated to make something in the dramatic line which has been put on in Iowa City for a long time.

HENRY OLDS TO LECTURE
Henry Olds, formerly of U. S.
Biological survey, will appear at the University in Nature Science auditorium, probably the last week in March.
No definite date can be made as yet, but it is thought that some time during the latter part of March may be selected. Mr. Olds betrays here two or three years ago on the subject, "Bird Music," and his address will be well received. His topic for the evening lecture will be, "Bird Protection and Bird Music."

past.
In total, these institutes were three big movements in the institute field, that the bureau of wares at S. U. I.—an important factor in the

The last institute held at Vinton was successful because of the efforts of Bernard Murphy, editor of the "Vinton Shindig," and his editor A Murphy, a graduate of the university of Iowa's college in 1901.
A special feature of the Vinton program was Thursday evening of the last week when Professor E. P. Shambaugh, head of the department of political science in the university, spoke on the Alms and Purposes of the Extension Division of the University." He explained the method of organizing this division, and training the workers with a view to rendering practical service to the people of the state of Iowa.
C. F. Kurr, assistant to O. E. Klimgaman, chief of the bureau of municipal information, spent part of last week making a thorough investigation of the retail conditions in Iowa. He met with unusual hearty cooperation from the merchants of that city. He collected much data which will be of great value in supplying a bulletin of information for the retailers of the state.
The tentative preparations have been made for greatly extending this branch of service to the business men of Iowa.
A special feature of Community Institutes in the future will be an illustrated lecture on retail advertising, which will be given only before conferences of business men in communities where the institutes are held.

Good Number of Men Signify Their Intentions to Take Up Work

Director Schroeder was well pleased at last Friday afternoon, when a good number of men interested in testing reported at his office and signified their intention to take up the work in the pro-class. The class will meet again at 1:15 in Director Schroeder's office in the armony to receive the first instructions. and to arrange a time for the class to meet for practice.
An any student or faculty member in the university is eligible for this new branch of athletics. At the present time it is not necessary for the men to go to the expense of providing falis and other regails necessary for the work. No experience is necessary to enter this class as the instructor will start from the beginning. The elementary instruction, such as simple thrusts, positions, disengagements, etc. will be given.

Delegates from five different states, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa, comprising the north central field of the Young Women's Christian association, met in Des Moines last Saturday in their annual convention.

The convention ended last Saturday night, after one of the most successful conventions ever held. An interesting and instructive program marked the convention. Spokesmen by Mrs. Reynolds, former secretary of the convention, and Mr. Merkert, associate of the north central field, and Mrs. Insommer, national student secretary, were the features of the convention. All phases of the Y. W. C. A. work was taken up. This consideration of the city, suburban and country work was taken up by different secretaries present.

The rare opportunity afforded for the many secretaries to come to know each other in this manner is one of the best advantages of the convention.

The delegates from Iowa who were present at the convention are as follows:

HARRY MANNING MURDER

The Harvey Manning Man was taken to the hospital last Saturday night with a gunshot in his head. The man that he jumped from the window to his death was fired upon.

The trouble with the "Peeping Tom" had passed and the student in the dormitory was in terror because of his actions. The city and the college authorities were unable to get the man that was visiting the women, and several students were delegated to assist in capturing the person if possible.

The students were on guard Friday night, when they saw someone approach the building and peer through the windows. At first he studied the college man but was later in the evening when he climbed upon the fire escape and was fired upon. He escaped in the darkness.

About 10:30 in the evening Professor Mills, whose home is about two blocks from Bowman hall, stepped into his back yard and heard a man groaning and calling for help. The professor found Manning lying on the ground suffering from a bullet wound in his back. The wounded man was taken to the home of the professor where he was found to be in a dangerous condition. The bullet had passed completely through his body near the waist line. He hovered between life and death Friday night and died early Saturday morning with some person who was the bullet. His bullet was heard in the town hall. After Dr. Hill and Professor Mills and Miss Insommer had testified the students were called.
