THE DAYTON FLOOD SUBJECT OF LECTURE
Professor Woodward will Speak Before Baccalauean Club Committee Friday Evening.

The regular meeting of the Bu-cahian club will be held in the Hyedae lecture room Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Professor S.
M. Woodward will speak on the title "Proposed Flood Protection for Dayton, Ohio.
Professor Woodward spent greater part of last summer at Dayton as chief consulting engineer to the Morgan Engineering Co., which has been in the prophylactic survey and planning of plans for the city. He made also a number of trips to Dayton during the winter. The plan has now been completed and Mr. Woodward will in his talk outline the nature of the problem and the methods that will be employed in the safety of the city from the flood. The public is strongly invited.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TO BE HELD AT CHICAGO
Wrestlers of Western Intercollegiate Association Address to Honors.

This year the annual meet of the Western Intercollegiate Wrestling Association will be held at Chicago April 4. It was decided in Illinois at a meeting of the authorities in the meet held at the college of Chicago. The association is directed from the Western Intercollegiate conference, more commonly known as the "Big Nine." Chicago is one of the members of this association but will probably join it in the near future. The events in the meet are the members of the association's chief interest for they are invited to send representations.

HINDUSTRIOUS PICTURE
The Budapest association will have their picture taken Friday at 12 o'clock sharp. Townsend's stationers, the Daily and University areurgently requested to be preent on time. President.

PHIDO NOTICE
The next meeting of the students' union society will meet at Close hall toight at 7:15 sharp for a short business meeting. The roll will be read.

Every Phido member is urgently requested to be present, and attend the debate afterward.

CHAMPIONSHIP DEBATE TO BE HELD TONIGHT
ZETEAGTHIAN AND PHILAMTHI-AN NATIONAL DEBATE

Establishment of Third Bank of Uni-eraity, and the Question: Seventh Context of This Kind-Prise of

The Zetegathan and Philamthian teams will clash in the annual championship debate tonight in the natural sciences auditorium. The time is set for 7:30. As usual the price of admission will be twenty cents for the year's firemen's ticket.

The question for discussion is:

"Resolved, that a third bank of the United States should be established." The Philo team, consisting of

Donald Johnson, Roy Chapman and John

Fredrick, will argue the affirmative side of the proposition and Hjalmar

Bury, Milton Johnson and Howard

Welles, representing Zetegathan, will delegate the negative.

This is the seventh debate of its kind scheduled at the university, the series having been inaugurated in 1907.

Until last year the Marshall Law society also took part in this series but on reorganizing as a purely law society, it dropped out of the debate and left the contact triangular. Zetegathan has won the championship the last two years in succession, while Philamthian won the year before the two years preceding.

The M. J. Wade prize of $25 is offered to the members of the winter team.

The two societies represented in the coming contest are planning to attend the debate in bodies, and will need the noisy support of the institution to keep the debate on a short meeting before going to the hall.

DEAN SEABROOK TO LEAVE EXTENSIVE TOUR

Will Lecture At Northwestern University Today on Psychology.

Dean Seabrook left last night on a trip among several of the leading Universities of the middle west in the interests of the Department of Psychology. Before his coming next week he will visit the Universities of Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Chicago, and Northwestern. He will lecture at the latter place Monday.

MERRY ON TOLSTOY
At the mid-week session of the M. C. A. held last night in Close Hall, Professor Glen Merry was the speaker of the evening. He took for his subject, "Tolstoy's Religion." The talk was one of the most interesting that has been made at this meeting this year.

IOWA MAN'S STRATEGY

Hons. John Burke, formerly governor, and head of the state of Iowa, and now United States treasurer, under the president, whose vice president might have been, was a classmate to Hon. J. W. Wade, class of 1884.

R. U. E. college of law. Evidently both attorneys learned strategy in the same school. The following incisive and amusing story about John Burke's strategy powers comes via a Washington, (D. C.) dispatch.

"That is the tale and also the tall of a coat, belonging to United States Treasurer John Burke, former governor of North Dakota, and patent and formerly a successful lawyer of Williamsburg, Iowa.

It was said that John Burke was laying the foundation of his future success in politics by paying the protection of Blackstone in the Iowa courts that this tale originated, and Fred C. Kelly, a Washington newspaper man, explain it in this manner: "Burke's real start was assured when he won his first few cases as a young lawyer. One of these viceroys, blazed on the color of a horse.

There was a chaffing match held by a bank on the animal, and froenlashing the morass, the bank took a strong lead then kept it so that the morass was on a chestnut horse, with a reddish-brown walnut and the horse was black, and neither said it was chestnut. Burke was so big simply a matter of describing weather was all the more noted in knowing what a color was when he new self.

"This was where Burke's stratey came in. John had on a confidence suit of clothes that looked black in the shade and gray in the strongest light. When the witness for the opposing side took the stand

Burke asked him several questions about his knowledge of colors, and carried on in an nonexistent tone.

"'What's the color of my coat?'

"Black" replied the witness.

for the room was dark.

The auger was giving Burke in the offhand but triumphant tone lawsywers use when they wish to give the impression that they have a real joke in store to make the opposition. He then called the witness for his coat and asked him the same question.

This witness said Burke's coat was gray.

"When he got ready to make his talk to the jury Burke had the hall-ill raise all the window shades so that everybody could see how really was gray. He paced back and forth in front of the jury with a section of his coat in one hand and was carefully weighing and dwelling on the fact that anybody who said it was black instead of gray could not to fit the judge of truth. "The auger had rested and the jokes were bolstered solemnly and made up their minds in Burke's favor.

THE GYMNASTIC MEET

Subsequently witnessed the first athletic event of its kind ever held here at the university, and the second of its kind to be held in the United States and Canada.

This is an event that means a great deal to the university as it opens a field of athletics to competition which has not been open hitherto. College boys throughout the vast, partly because there has not been enough interest among colleges and universities partly because other branches of athletics has demanded the interest of college men, and women. But during the past few years there has been a growing interest which has brought about the establishment of gymnastics as an intercollegiate sport.

There is perhaps no cleaner sport than gymnastics as compared with the other forms of sport which require more consistent expenditures on the part of the university which to acquire efficiency. It has been necessary to the public school to use this gymnastic work in aauinable and economical place, but now here is an opportunity to bring in this branch of athletics by means of the tournament Saturday evening.

Director Schroeder has spent many months of hard work in trying to bring in as much so far as the teammembership is concerned.

It is to him, that the credit of securing the tournament here at Iowa, is due.

One of the notable features of this event was the meeting of the team masters with their coaches and trainers that on Saturday afternoon there will be a meeting of the reprezentatives from the different institutions for the purpose of organizing a permanent intercollegiate gymnastic association. This fact alone is of great importance to the university.

Again the same old question comes up. How is the student body going to support this new field in athletics
