PRO. WOODWARD

CALLED TO DATION

called to Unify With Other Experts Regarding Flood Conditions

In answer to an urgent telegram from Dayton, Ohio, Professor Woodto the College of Engineering with University for Dayton. His presence there for the next two weeks is necessary because the success or failure of the whole scheme for flood protection in the Northwest will involve the action of the local court in certifying certain details of this plan. The matter will come up in about ten days. In the meantime the University will be prepared for the presentation of the plan to the court so that the opposition of any person may be met.

Among the residents of the district that will be affected some who do not fully understand the nature of the plan and fear that in some ways they may suffer as a result of the construction of the dams and reservoirs.

In order to meet the objections of such people it will be necessary for the project to be explained before the court and for expert witnesses to testify to us its advantages and practical working of the scheme fully for several years, the War Department has been called as witnesses and a considerable part of the evening will be taken up in explaining to them the proposed solution of the problem so that they will be fully advised concerning their holdings and what they will be required to do.

As the work at Dayton has progressed, the expert knowledge which

Professor Woodward, possesses on the theoretical aspects of artesian water, has made his presence at Dayton

more and more necessary.

FOR THE BEST INTERESTS

At a meeting of the board in control of athletics, last night several matters pertaining to athletics were acted upon. After the granting of the "alums," and the "suns" to the men who have earned them this year, it was voted that hereafter no freshman be given his numeral unless his scholastic standing was at a certain height. This is believed to be for the athletic interests of the university. At least this action will serve to keep freshman up to a higher than his usual standard. Another matter of importance considered last night by the board in control of athletics, was the granting of scholarships. The following were given to the official letter of the university.

These certificates to be in a sort of diploma, with the seal of the university stamped upon it, is the official letter of the officers who have the power of granting the letters. We believe that this would be something really worth while, for it would give some idea of the ability of an athlete to do. This plan of giving certificates is not a new idea by any means. Many colleges and universities of the country have done this for years. We believe that this would make the official athlete letter worth more to the athlete who has the good fortune to win them.

THE COLONIAL MAIDS

In this age of wonderful advance, when people are continually striving for something new, novelty in the entertainment line is sure to meet with success. It was the idea of Misses Petti and Elliot to offer the amusement this goes to offer, and therefore they organized the "Colonial Maid's Club." While these "alums" and "suns" on the other hand all glad show could be successfully produced, this one is an equal, or better, showing, with so much labor and work put into it. The Colonel Maid's in Iowa City are known as having and will continue to keep up the highest, cleverest and cleanest style entertainment ever offered the public. There is a jolly first part, a pleasing oil and a beautiful final. A splendid success. The Colonial Maid's entertainment will find the "Colonial Maid's Club" the biggest novelty of the season. It will be at the Exeter Theatre March 15, 13, 14 and 15.

"From present indications it is evident that there will be the class cooperation and active support of the larger organization.

H. S. DEBATES TO BE AT INTERSCHOLASTIC TIME

FOUR HIGH SCHOOLS TO COMPETE FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Lamoni, Independence, Sigourney and Altonia Successful in Preliminary—Event Changed from April to Inter-Scholastic Time

On Friday evening, May 15th, the high school debating championship of Iowa will be decided. The debate has been changed this year from April, the month in which the high school debating contests are met in the finals at the University of Iowa.

The semi-finals are scheduled for April 16th, between the district champions. Lamoni is the winner in the southwest. Sigourney in the southeast, Independence in the northeast, and Altonia in the northwest. The two winners of these debates will meet here later to settle the ownership of the 'living cup' which will be given the champion school.

Surprises have marked the preliminary debates. The four teams enter the semi-finals last year were: Cedar, Ottumwa, Forest City, and Butler. This year's teams attracted attention by defeating Cedar while Sigourney was victorious against the strong Ottumwa team. Independence also accomplished the unexpected when it put Ft. Perfect City out of the running as that high school has been in the semi-finals for two years.

Last year's Boone won the championship, but early in the series of debates this winter the champion teams were defeated by Webster City.

In the semi-finals, Large and Small will be held, something like the unexpected as such events are unusual.

OLD MECCASACIUS TO COME BACK TO US

PATTERNS SAID OF ENGINEERS WILL RETURN FOR ANNUAL CELEBRATION

March 18 and 19 is Time Set for Big Time—Expecting Hundreds of Booster Men for Broad-Minded Stunts in Parade

After nearly a year's absence, old-fashioned boosterism the name of the game of the engineers, has been moved out for another short sojourn in jungles eastern. Old "brick" is to provide the engineer's celebration the year same as usual—to the engineers.

If "brick" is to be going to have "considerable worth" to provide too over. Plans for the celebration are being crystallized now and women engineers are happy and look forward to the engineer's celebration the year same as usual—to the engineers.

They of the engineers are going to have "considerable worth" to provide too over. Plans for the celebration are being crystallized now and women engineers are happy and look forward to the engineer's celebration the year same as usual—to the engineers.

The whole engineering hallings is alive with energy. Students are gathered together in knots between classes—such as group in the far end of the hall perhaps holding a "girl's conference" over some "must" somebody has just thought up for the parade, another over in the collar counting signs for something or other somewhere; and then maybe another group marvelling at a 'dilly of a visual aid, "this is a corner," and delivering themselves of some wiser word that is to make a later appearance in the show. Stunts galore for the parade are in prospect. The students are doing themselves into groups of three or four and each group is to get up a feat of some sort or other. There are something over two hundred students in the college and of these two-thirds will devote their energies solely to the parade and not being engaged with the show and banquet. Figure out how many stunts there will be in the parade on that basis!

"An unusual turnout of alumni is in sight for the parade which is to be held next Tuesday evening—the night before the celebration. Special offers have been made to be put up by a prominent interest to alumni. On the afternoon preceding the banquet an exhibit of things engineerings will be held, something like the one put on last fall at the time of the Ames homecoming. Regular classes will be held but these classes will be engaged in work of special interest to engineering students. The visual laboratories, shop electrical engineerings, department, and chemical laboratory will take part in demonstrations of exceptional interest. The title of the annual show to be given Wednesday evening is "Fifteen Thousand Pieces of Art." The cost of the show will have been standingly.

While frowning around in the old Iowa hall yesterday, an over-dressed Iowa reporter opened a perfectly innocent looking door and found himself in a large room which looked like a 12th Avenue dressmaking establishment. VACATION NOTICE

The time for the final inspection and selection of those who were quamerican at the Pasture (Ysasiliy) farm in the medicinal laboratory holding has been changed from March 23rd to March 16th.

Spring Gardens arrived at Stewart's Hall, entertained her sister, Miss Mary Hasley, yesterday.

 através of the home economics department. Miss Creasman, the instructor in the textile course, is engaged in the equipment of the new sewing laboratory which the women of the university are showing in this work. Seventy-five girls are taking the textile course and the work in household design which goes with it. Just now they are in the thirds of spring dressmaking, choosing fabrics designing covers, cutting patterns, and making the dresses completely. Animated discussions as to what is best for school wear are held and those taking the course say that the university community may look to them to set the standard of neatness and economic fashion.

There are so many beautiful new fabrics that the question of choosing material is very important.

"said one young lady, "and the colors are so gay that with our new spring dresses we will look like extremely expensive Easter eggs."

Eight weeks are required to make a dress in the laboratory for, although there are six sewing machines busy constantly, each girl has only two hours a week at the machines. This semester the registration of the class has been increased by the coming of two women from Ames and a number of others. The instructors of the course feel astonished at the splendid registration, for not many years have so many been in courses this year.

Interested as the reporter was in the spring clothes, he was strongly attracted by the charming color contrasts from the foods laboratory before, so he decided that they had to be interviewed. Miss Creasman, when asked if the class in cooking was progressing well, said, "Yes, only don't call me a cooking class. This is a laboratory, and while our laboratory is partly cooking, yet we are applying the work which we have in our laboratories." In the course in foods this semester there is a smaller registration that in the textile course, but this is due partly to the fact that chemistry is required as a pre-requisite before we ever get to teach chemistry. Moreover the fact that many women are now so acclimated in chemistry, as a new class in the home economics department next fall. In this course a thorough study of protein, starches and kindred subjects has been made, and they are now loudly engaged in experimenting with different fats and oils, using their own in cooking. The work is carried on in the finest practical way, and the home economics girls are unanimous in the opinion that they are the finest course in the course this year.

Our Announcement—Spring 1914

I beg to announce that my Spring Fittings and Trouserings have arrived, and are now ready for inspection. This new stock is the most distinctive and unique that I have ever displayed, including all the season's exclusive novelty and all the latest weaves. Fashion has dictated a radical change in clothes and dress and men's apparel this season and my selection from these will undoubtedly appeal strongly to those who are critical in matters of dress. As most pupils furnish only one suit, I would advise you to make an early selection.
