UNIVERSITY GRADUATE IS HIGHLY HONORED

A Building at the State University of Oklahoma Named After Him.

It does not often fall to the lot of a man that he has a large building in a large university named after him during his lifetime. But this is what has been done in honor of Dr. C. M. Cozzens of the University of Oklahoma. Monday night, heralded by architectural and logical aspects as the best building in the country, was recently dedicated at the university. Dr. Cozzens was graduated from the college of Liberal Arts of R. C. U. in 1897. Later he graduated from the College of Law here and received his master's degree. He studied advanced equal art at Harvard.

For the last few years he has been dean of the Oklahoma Law School and gradually built up the college until now it is the foremost in the country. For a year he was president pro tem of the entire university and he performed his work so well that a special letter of commendation was received from him by the State Board and read at the dedication of the new building. There is a call for a German teacher in South Dakota. Salary $40. For further particulars call at rooms 216 A.

Y. M. C. A. DOING SPLENDID WORK

Maintains Reading Rooms, Plays Pool and Supports Secretary in Far Off India.

Religious work is being conducted by the method Y. M. C. A. in the State University of Iowa. The association has a resident workman, and secure in the building of the Panama canal. He explained that this was our monument to our nation, but that in order to be a success it must be property utilized. The remainder of his speech was an admirable exposition of the position that American Christian youth should have free title through the Panama canal.

Brown spoke on "The Heritage of the Anglo-Saxon." He mentioned the origin of the Anglo-Saxon race and demonstrated that in fifteen hundred years it has risen from a state of barbarism to the full position among the nations of the world. He pointed out the responsibility that accompanied this position and used Norse and Carthaginians as examples of mismanagement.

Morlton had in his subject "One Step Higher." His object was to show the changing conditions of our race, and the need of increased responsibility which rested upon them in developing the character of all the students.

ALL IS IN READINESS FOR BIG CELEBRATION

"MECHA DAY" IS HERE AND ENGAGEMENTS ARE PREPARED FOR IT.

Interesting Day Promised by Students of College of Liberal Arts—Many New Features—Parade to Start at 12:30.

All is in readiness for the big engagers parade and show, which will be staged today. The exhibition of the engineering buildings has been on since yesterday afternoon. The engineers have been busy from morning to night changing colors and posters, and the public will be easily noted by the students about the university which are devoted to the teaching of engineering.

Harry Chaddock has charge of the parade committee, and the student activities throughout the various buildings. The banquet was last seen at Mason and was attended by more than two hundred guests. Those were given by prominent family members and students and alumni. The banquet committee was

L. Louis Hauk, Haywood, chairman.

J. H. Flanigan, Davenport.

H. J. Kilgore, Minneapolis.

A. C. Davis, Chicago.

C. L. Birds, New Hampton, chairman.

L. Olson, Winfield.

MYSTIC ELVES.

Miss N. Mychele Ely, who will give a vocal at the concert on Thursday evening under the auspices of the University School of Music, can be ranked with the best pianists of the day, both in this country as well as abroad.

At a recent recital in San Francisco, she made a brilliant scene playing to one of the best audiences of the season and won tumultuous applause. There is no doubt that she must be accepted today as America's regent to the keyboard.

PROFESSOR LAING SPEAKS TONIGHT.

Will speak in Liberal Arts Assembly Hall on Archaeology.

Professor Gordon G. Lowing of the University of Chicago is to lecture here Wednesday evening, March 18, on "Roman Africa." The lecture will be given in the Liberal Arts assembly hall and will be richly illustrated with handsome slides. The Iowa Archaeological Institute of America provides the lectures and throws it open freely to the public.

Dr. Laing is one of the best known scholars of the middle west along his line and is the author of numerous books and articles. He is the vice president of the institute and was an annual professor in the American school at Rome during the last year. TALENTED SINGER AT BAND CONCERT

"CINEMA" WILL BE BUNG BY MISS ESTHER W. LASSON ON MONDAY NIGHT.

Lyric Symposium Comes Highly Recommended.—Mr. Howard Will Play Pianola Solo.—Many Men Serviced. Long Time in Band.

Music lovers of the university are waiting for the band concert which will be given next Monday at the capital city auditorium. Much comment has been passed by Why's Who in Music, and all seem to promise a remarkable program by the band under the direction of Mr. Van Drie. The society for this concert is Miss Esther W. Lasson and W. H. Howard of Des Moines. Iowa. Miss Lasson will sing "Christina" with band accompaniment. Miss Lasson comes from Chicago highly recommended, where she has made a name for herself in the Wigley City. Mr. Howard is an artist of merit on the piano and gained a good reputation while attending Drake university. The sand as it stands has several of the original books and many who were members last year. TODAY IS MEECUA DAY

Today is "Meece Day," the annual ceremony of the students of the college of applied science. This day is one eagerly awaited by the students and alumni from one year to the other. On this day there is perhaps more real 'pepper' exhibited than any other annual event staged by the students of the college. It is from the college of applied science that this event emanates. The students of the college of applied science are the ones who furnish all of the entertainment, but because of The formal election
of the women here
some gains and losses
are the ones who furnish all of the English at Princeton university.

Mr. Noyes was a will be cared for tenderly , for he was a forceful person. He compelled our attention. He could talk almost fluently in English sports as on English literature, and when he talked he forced us to hold our breath. Not a troublesome matter was "dained" long be cause of his talk. This is the way he will be held and realistically guarded.

But how about the high school student that is just emerging from short pants, and has not quite grown up to his first $5 "long trowsers,"
the one with three fingers of very unattractive and a halp inch of hair on you—no you! Several hundred of you will be here along with the "promising-looking," he seems to furnish material for a little bit of a time warp. But look over the leaders of our college life and look still closer at the leaders of the other bigger life outside. How many of them looked "promising" at campus? This is a time to look for the small

Baseball is attracting some interest this early in the year, wearing is still in vogue, but the track work is the one thing which is going to bring the university athletic enthusiasm to a high pitch of interest.

Coach Jack Watson has been working consistently with the largest number of men that have been out for this sport for several years. Many of these men are new in the branch of athletics and consequently, are slow at getting into the routine of the work. However, the results of the past three weeks are noteworthy.

There are a number of men for the different events, both field and track. Of course, this early in the season nothing definite can be told concerning the quality of the material in the respective fields, but from all appearances they are bound to make good.

The board of control of athletics has decided not to send a team to the western conference indoor meet, but the track work which is to be held at Evanston on March 21. Some disappointment was manifested among the men and coaches concerning this, but owing to the lack of training facilities it was found impossible to get the men ready for the contest.

The greatest reward of this last year has been the success of the lack of gymnastic facilities.

Another year will see the $10,000 gymnasium here to remedy such ails.

people instead of only a chosen few. Currell gave a splendid oration on the subject "The Value of Ignorance." It was a plea of increased naval power. He demonstrated the possibility of maintaining our position as one of the world powers, without an increased naval force.

He proved that those who refuse to help increase our naval powers in order to maintain peace, are as guilty of cowardice as those who refuse to fight on the battle field in time of war.

The whole program came up as a very high standard of oratorical excellence and those who heard the contest were much pleased with the oratorial efforts produced.

SPRING MUSICAL FESTIVAL

TO BE HELD ON MAY 22

Chicago Symphony Orchestra to Feature the Occasion—Many Artists With Aggregation.

The student body and Iowa City public will be offered an excellent musical festival on May 22, when the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, and several artists of world-wide reputation will appear under the auspices of the school of music. Professor Chitwood announces the spring festival with no little pride, as he has secured the best talent obtainable for this event. The Chicago Symphony Orchestra features the event. Lambert, Murphy, tenor; John Barbee; soprano; Henry Scott; basso, and Margaret Keynes, contralto, are others who will appear on the program.

The Iowa City church society will sing Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise." For many weeks the society has been practicing this great work and with the several weeks yet in which to practice, it is anticipated that it will meet with the approval of the entire public.

The advance sale of tickets has been entrusted to Miss Martin, to whom subscriptions should be sent. It is announced that if season tickets are purchased before May 1, they will cost $27.50. After that date the price of the season ticket will be advanced. Tickets for a single concert cost nearly as much as for the two concerts if the purchased wait until the day of the event. The capacity of the university arena, where this festival will be held, is comparatively limited, so it is advised that in order to secure good seats it is necessary to get names in early.

Union rooms are reasonable.
