At the meeting of the Baconian club Friday evening Mr. A. O. Thomas as read a paper on "Fossils and Their Preservation." Mr. Thomas indicated the broad scope of the term "fossil" and mentioned the different kinds of fossils and classified them into four kinds: actual bodies, remains, tracks or trails, artificial structures and coprolites. Mr.
Thomas exhibited a large collection of fossils comprized the typical forms of many fossil plants and ani.
mal. Mr. Thomas explained the various processes undergone by the fossil after its burial in the earth. In some cases the fossil undergoes hardly any decay. Examples of this type of fossils are mastodons imbeded in glacial ice and insects preserved intact in a mass of amber. Some fossils are merely impressions in mud or sand which afterwards solidify such as the impressions of

PAN HELLENIC HAS
SUCCESSFUL DANCE

Decorations Are Unique—Many People in City Attend Dance.

Decorative Music

Friday evening ushered in the big social event of the year, the annual Pan-Hellenic dance. While not a truly university affair in the sense that all students are not invited, yet it is considered the biggest event in the social world at the university. With over one hundred and fifty couples on the floor and the newest and most original features in decorations this year's dance came up to any previous season.

The decorations featured "yellow" in all of the trimmings. The ceiling and walls were draped in yellow and the floors were completely concealed, bunting completely concealing balcons which have heretofore contained hundreds of curious people who wished to get a glimpse of the dancers at their peculiar sort of pleasure. Here and there jeweled colored lights suspended from the ceiling cast a lovely light on the floor. The 10-place orchestra was on a stand which was banked in a world of colors from the hunting plants and flowers.

Many out-of-town alumni of the different fraternities and sororities at the university were present at the annual homecoming of all Greek letter people. People from all parts of the state and even from many of the adjoining states where the young people of the university have taken up their residences since leaving home, flocked into the city to help represent their fraternity in the formal party.

Among the features of the dance was the unique way in which all the fraternities in the Pan-Hellenic council were represented during the evening. Separate booths were fixed up for each fraternity in the corners and along the sides of the hall. Fraggs were served to the guests in the booths. At different times in the evening dinner extras helped to add to the enjoyment where salad, coffee, ice cream and cakes were served.

JUNIOR-IRVINGS WIN FROM ZETACATHIANS

Championship of Junior Class Decided in Closest Fought Debate

The former championship of the Junior class was settled last Friday when the affirmative team from Irving Institute defeated the negative team from Zetacathians by a two to one decision. The question discussed was the government of a railroad. The debate is the last event of the old Irving-Zeta leagues for the year and Zeta has been transferred to the Forensic league. The general opinion of the society men at present is that next year will probably be the last of the tournaments unless league supposed at all.

The teams were composed of the following men: Irving, James Hod. mon, Benjamin Frank and Harry Searle; Zetacathians, Paul Heinrich, Otto Schultze, and Arnold Oehler.

The judges of the contest were Professor R. E. Lewis, and Mr. H. T. Williams. Special credit for equal debate treating should be given to Heilrich, Frank, and Hodson.

The debate is the sophomore championship and will be held again in eight o'clock on the same question. The preliminaries held in March the Irving team defeated the Forensic team. Thus the final will take their seats with the Zetacathians on the affirmative and the Irving on the negative. The teams consist of the following: Zetacathians, Barry leader: Webster, Palfolts: Irving Institute, Patterson, leader: Turner, Bascom.

TEEN TENNIS COURTS ARE GETTING IN SHAPE

Three Men to besent to Intercollegiate Tournament This Spring

With the coming of warm sunshine and light wins the tennis courts are rapidly rounding into shape and spring practice will soon begin. At the agrarian portion to be held among the colleges of Iowa this year three men will represent Iowa as one and two in the doubles. It is certain that at least one of the winners of this tournament will receive an "I" if he bas an Iowa man. While others of where the tournament will be held is not yet known although it is thought that Cedar Rapids will get the tournament.

It is the desire of Manager Van der Lee to have a large number of men put this spring as it is desirable to bring the honors to Iowa. Fred Stick, last year's singles champion will probably not able to participate this year as his studies will not permit.

COMMANDANT IS AFTER DILEMMA

Battalion Drill in Viney Since Vacate

Train-Spring Camp to be Held

May 14

Morning drill was resumed after spring vacation and the men have been turning out well with few exceptions. The commandant is after the dilemmas and it is possible that those who had missed too many drill will be unable to attend classes for two weeks.

Battalion drill has been the rage since vacation and it will be continued until May twelfth when regulars and cadets for the year will be held as in former years. It was impossible to hold it last year because Fort Des Moines, from which the equipment was transferred to the Forensic league. The general opinion of the society men at present is that next year will probably be the last of the tournaments unless league supposed at all.

After camp the only remaining military duty will be governor's day which occurs at the end of the school year.

Sigma Nu fraternity gave a dance at the country club Friday evening with Professor J. L. Deering as chairman. A dinner party was given last night at the chapter house of Sigma Ch.
