A strong spirit of loyalty which did not die out after leaving Normal was the big feature of the gathering.

Dean Josup of the college of education provided most able as chairman. He first called on Dr. Charlie Partis to talk about "How to Win the Villagers". Those three letters, he explained, meant grand old men, and Iowa's representatives in this class were Presidents Macbride and Seerley.

Mr. Chillingworth of the college of law spoke on "The College Eye". He was formerly manager of this publication which is the official publication of the Normal college. He told of the seriousness with which the students faced their problems and gave a tribute to President Seerley on behalf of the students from that college. Here, President Macbride con- tinued. President Seerly at the work he has done for the colleges, enrolling 80,000 students in the past quarter of a century. He spoke with much feeling and brought the students to their feet.

President Secretary spoke on "College Days and Other Days." Him the changes in college life since around this place, alright. CHECK.

FRIENDLY GIRL IN

THRILLING RESCUE

Strolling through the power point, down below the floor, where the water bulls and gypsy into a pit twelve feet in depth, a young man lost his balance and fell into the depths.

The prayers of his companion, called to a security girl, brought Ralph Eys and another engineer to the rescue, the officer now in charge of the line. He shipped, and drove the victim to safety.

Although nearly drowned, when the young girl recovered her senses, he was taken care of by a lady of the college, and not perhaps because of his daring condition to leave his name. Someone there who will copy here, but not as many, they have not told anyone connected with the invalid.

AFFIRMATIVES WIN
FRESHERN DEBATES

EACH SOCIETY WINS ONE DEBATE—PHILOMATHEAN LEADS IN NUMBER OF DECISIONS

The three teams upholding the affirmative side of the question were their debating last night in the annual freshman contests. Each society—the Zetagathian, Philosmathese and Irving—even a debate and lost one.

A complete tie among the three societies was saved by the judges' decision in the Philos debate. The Philos defeated their opponents by a score of 2 to 1, but were defeated by the brigades by a 2 to 1 count. The Zeta won over the Irving by a like decision. So, the summary of decisions stands thus: Philosmathese, 4; Irving, 1; Zetagathian, 2.

All the debates were well prepared and closely fought. On account of the Philos-Set debate having started later than the other two, there was some suspense before the decisive contest was finished, the one which determined the final standing of the teams.
