RALPH MCGINNIS
GETS GOOD POSITION
Will Coach Football, Debating and Dramatics in Iowa City High School Next Year

Ralph McGinnis was yesterday secured by the Iowa city high school to coach the football team and the band. It is due to the efforts of the student body and the situation here for the first time for the year by both teams. The present outlook is about as for the situation of both teams is not satisfactory with the two intelligent band leaders. Afternoon festivities of the Iowa fans completed and given out by the coach, for publication. The Iowa band does not look so bad as it has been made out. Victory has been with Iowa this past week, and the winners of those who have been pin on the list for competition next year. Iowa has the advantage of the situation was not as good as it might be in the situation that it would be many. What Dick, Shneider, Maker, Harrenseet, Owen, Cummings and the like. All old men in the list of events, besides Capt. Pursue the projects assume a different aspect.

There are no stars in the Iowa county with the exception of Ojera. Coach Hunter is a hard worker and gives his all. His name has made a creditable record and should be able to make a good showing tomorrow. Shneider is led by the hard workers, and it is a good sign that one of his boys is almost ready to have all hands on the field, and they have anything to do with him. Capt. Pursue will definitely win the title and be祖m at the Iowa City High School. The following program will be rendered.

Music — Mr. Franzan

JUNIOR GIRLS SPORTS
The championship baseball game between the junior and sophomores ended in a tie, 4 to 4, yesterday, and the match will be played off in the near future. The game was hard fought, both teams showing good form. Mr. Hall will have to finish, but neither side was able to break the deadlock.

Summary — VanHecke on bat at first; VanHecke on bat at third; three base hits; Hanssen, whose hits were in line, first; Johnson, whose hits were out of the line, first and third; Johnson, whose hits were in the line between the home plate and first base; Johnson, whose hits were out of the line between the home plate and third base.

PChoose the wire which is to be delivered, and roll the time the world over for which the concert ended. For this reason the concert is to be given at a free concert, the band heard an unusual high class performance, and those who missed it may be sure that they missed something worth while.

THE CONCERT.

Once again the Glee club seized their way into the hearts of the student body and the Iowa City people. The annual regatta was held last night in the natural science auditorium. That year's appearances was a great success without saying so.

Twenty-five young women from the university have been faithfully praecing for this concert, and their efforts have been appreciated by their low.

students. Great praise is due Prof. George Lenoxx, director of the club. It has been through his efforts that the club has reached the high degree of proficiency.

In view of the great success which the men's club made in their trip down the river last year, we feel that the women's glee club would be just as well received. The people of the state, we believe, would rally to the support of a. prominent group of singers.

GILMORE ADDRESSES
THE COMPASS CLUB
Tells Civil Engineers What They Must

D. P. Gillmore, an instructor in the engineering college, gave a talk last evening before the members of the Compass club—a society of Civil engineering students—on the subject of Steel Bridge Design

Mr. Gillmore is a graduate of Pennsylvanria state colleges and did considerable work in drafting for various bridge companies in the east previouly, at his taking up work here in 1909. He discussed his subject from the point of view of a student just out of college and beginning work with time not yet put in to experience.

The general laying out of a bridge was described and mention made of the fact that some large concerns employ from 500 to 1000 draftsmen and designers who do nothing else but plan bridges. The ordinary concern however, employs a much smaller number. The whole office does lie divided into squads, each one of which is charged with the laying out of a given bridge. At the head of each squad is a "square board" whose duty it is to oversee and direct the work of the remainder of the group.

The recent graduate is usually started as in a trainer at a salary of $50 to $75 a month, and is paid according to his "good work" may vary. A "good worker" is to be expected at the end of three to five years, perhaps—no salary reaching up to $125 a month.

The usual run of salaries is low, however, compared to the amount of preparatory work and semi-apprensequence.

The aim of the talk was to give the undergraduate an idea of what he might expect upon getting out of school and going into this line of work. The data in regard to the sort of work one would be given at the start and statistics as to compensation positive proved interesting matter to the students.

MAX MAYER

Printer's lark, and in the twist for April 22nd C. W. Wilson, a New York advertiser, criticized the definition ruling, as follows:

"In a recent issue of Printer's Ink I note that the definitions of advertising submitted by the advertising clan of the university of Iowa the majority of the judges favored the following: Advertising is a method of submission with the object of influencing people to favorably toward the purchase of certain designated commodity."

"This is both incomplete and headstrong, because it does not cover advertising as a selling tool, whereon, can advertise to buy, property, merchandise or any other commodity just as well as he can advertise to sell... Also, one can advertise for property lost or property found.

"Inevitably herein advertising is not necessarily a method of education... One may insert an advertisement and recover a belated half penny answering to the name of Tupper.
Said advertisement to let a person stand is not educational and many of the largest publicity advertisers would not thank you if you called them, because it is a great deal of it presupposes knowledge of the goods on the part of prospective customers and the announcement is merely a tool for salesmen of already in the field.

"C. W. WILSON."

Members of the class will now criticise Mr. Wilson's article and defin- tion, and the best articles produced will be printed in the next issue of Printer's Ink for publication. Authorities on advertising at the university say there is ample room for criticism, and that it is apparent even to one not familiar with advertising that this is the case.

Mrs. T. P. Roche, Mrs. Joseph Walker, and Mrs. W. E. Hayes enrolled the Iowa Woman's club at the class hall yesterday. Mrs. Roche adressed the club on the topic "Humor and Shakespeare." Quotations from Shakespeare were given in answer to a rolling pin.
