HAWKEYE FIGHT LAST BATTLE WITH GRINNELL

HIT IN SEVENTH FORM FOR CLOSE OF SEASON—PROBABLE RIGHTS TO WIN

Team has Found Whole Throughout Season—Tommorow Sets End of Bat and Sphere Activities for 1914—Coach Kent Deserves Credit.

The last baseball game to be played on Iowa field this season will be tomorrow afternoon when Grinnell will come here to meet the Hawkeyes. Grinnell is coming here to try the despair of the season, but with no hesitation, the Hawkeyes should win the game with a comfortable margin. However, Grinnell is coming here with a determination to win back the first lost in their season. The last ball game of the season will be won by the Hawkeyes tomorrow, if they want to.

LOST—An envelope containing two five dollar bills and some change on Thursday. Pinder please take to Citizen office. Reward.

Some students celebrate exams with a hailstone time. The university and college women of the Congregational national church are celebrating with a social gathering and ice cream on Friday night. Better join the festive throng tomorrow night, from 9 to 10 on the church lawn.

LOST—Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock the big ring in the fire department rang, and everyone jumped for the place on the big truck. Then a voice calmly asked over the phone, "Will you please go out and look at the thermometer and tell me how hot it is?"

The man at the phone saw light, but advised the inquisitive person to call the police station. He evidently did so, for a policeman came out and looked at the thermometer very soon afterward.

It is reported that the person who phoned the call is a student who is employed as a reporter on a local paper, and who failed to think of the fact that the phone in the fire station is the only system of receiving fire alarms.

Wrappers of the Mephanes.
The cloth woven by the ancient Egyptians was so durable that though it has been used for thousands of years as wrapping for the mummies, the Arabs of today can wear it. It is all of linen, the ancient Egyptians not allowing wool unclean.

How do you like it?

Library work with children—Miss Grace Blattenberger, Children’s Librarian in the Des Moines Public Library. Miss Blattenberger, after several years successful work in the Des Moines Library, was given a leave of absence in 1910-11, in order that she might make a special study of her subject in the Prindip Training School for Children’s Librarians. She has also studied under Miss Elsie Lynn Scott, who gave the course at the University in 1913. No part of the work of a public library is more important than the work with children, and this course is planned to give the Children’s Librarian a sense of purpose, inspiration and enthusiasm.
