FOOTBALL PROSPECTS IS QUESTION ASKED

BIRRING INEQUIVOCAL LINE IS PRACTICALLY INACTIVE--BACKFIELD BAD

Number of Men Candidates for Back Field Vacancies--Captain Dickinson and Carrvery Buck in Games

Dr. Edward A. Steiner of Grinnell College has been engaged as the field manager of the football team this year to be held Sunday, September 27, in the natural science auditorium.

Dr. Steiner is too well known to the student and the people of Iowa to need any introduction. As a student of mental and religious problems he enjoys national fame and is everywhere in demand as a speaker.

Dr. Steiner came to Iowa City was during the Christmas vacation when he spoke before the national convention of the Congregational church in session here. The vesper choir, as usual, will perform this year. The program will be announced later.

The only estimate that can be given in the judgment of those who have worked with the team for several years. These non and women state that the registration is very early.

During the past three days, registration of the finest class in the university has been under way at the national convention and through being asked on every hand. To answer this is impossible, perhaps the man who know best the conning of the students thus far, is Dean P. C. Rounds, the university registrar.

Practically all that is known of the situation is that it is favorable, that is, the average increase in enrollment is favorable.

The most interesting detail that can be given is the judgment of those who have worked with the team for several years. These non and women state that the registration is very early.

During the past three days of registration the registrar's office will be the busiest place in the university and until registration is closed, only a general estimate can be given.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS IS QUESTION ASKED

As the season, Parma is said, is coming back this fall in perfect condition and so is Green. These two will be faster than ever and will be strong candidates for backfield positions.

Demary, Willis, Sweeder and Kriech are the four men who have had considerable experience in the backfield and will be the first men up for the positions. However, other men have an eye out for the Hawkeye backfield and will furnish some keen competition.

The line is particularly solid. Captains Giderstrom, who was reported ill, during the summer will be able to do as much, at least, as he ever did. In the opening practice, Greenberg, a junior, will probably take care of his end. Curley the other end of last year's team, gave Iowa a fine start this summer but is too sick in the harness and will be faster than ever. Barres has back and will go after his tackle position. Barres has been working hard this summer and reports that he is in the peak of condition.

A number of other men recognized as brilliant players will be candidates for the team. Among these are Dowlen, the guard, who broke his leg in 1912, and has got back in the same shape, will be back after a position. Davis, a young guard Cornell college, made an excellent record at the end of last year. He will be eligible in the lead this fall.

With this list of veterans, with which to start the season, Coach Harwood and Assistant Coach Koest are in good spirits concerning the outlook. Much has to be done besides the work. Few material players develop and many things may happen. But from the present standpoint followers of Hawkeye football can feel assured that Iowa will have a representative team, unless something unforeseen crosses the path.

When you returned from your vacation, didn't you have new life, reawakened ambition, better color and fresh strength?

OF COURSE YOU DID!

And so we have come back from our summer's vacation after 55 years of continued service to the public.

WE HAVE RETURNED REFRESHED!

Our new life is the reorganization of our firm. Our reawakened ambition is to be, as before, Iowa City's leading clothing.

The better color gained is our New Front and Fixtures, and our FRESH STRENGTH and Greater Gain is an Absolutely Fresh Stock of Clothing, Hats and Furnishings.

Guy H. Dunn was 27 years and 9 months old. He entered the Earlville public schools, and after finishing started his college career in the Upper Iowa University at Peru, Ill. His record as a student was especially brilliant, his work was thorough and his character was strong. A true gentleman, he gave us boys, which set him above the average student.

With always a word of cheer for his fellow students, ever ready to lend a helping hand, Mr. Dunn made many fast and true friends, while he commanded the respect of all, who knew him. He was Dean of Bohn Chapter of the Anacal fraternity, a member of the Meadale lodge, prominent socially, and a leader of student activities.

The body was taken to Earlville last Tuesday accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Dunn, John Howard, Floyd Oltner and Al Clemens. Prominently present were pallbearers. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at home in Earlville.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS GET NEW WAR COURSE

Dr. Rose to Take Charge of Course Entitled “World Politics”

Dr. Elton P. Rose, of the Department of Political Science, will have charge of this course at the University of Iowa.

The present titanic European conflict will become the chief theme in the new course on “World Politics,” which promises to re-make the political map of Europe and re-shape the political destinies of half the world, will be studied in all its bearings from the standpoint of contemporary politics and diplomacy.

Dr. Ruthina Rose, who for the last two years has given with great success a course in the University of Iowa on “Oriental Politics and Civilization,” will have charge of this new course.

In discussing the European war Dr. Rose will try to bring out the political conditions back of the war, and will-indicate its probable influence upon American commerce and industries and upon American political relations with Europe and South America.

After devoting several weeks to the present European situation, the class on World Politics will take up the study of current politics in Canada, South America, Australia, and South Africa. Among other subjects, the consideration of such problems as world federation, home rule in Ireland, will become the chief theme in all but a very few in need of repair, and some torn or soiled gowns were sold. The rifles are in a generally excel- lent condition, very little dirt and rust being noted. Other equip- ment, though, will be of interest in connection.

“The close order drills by company and battery show that this is an efficient unit of the Department of Military Science and was shown in the recent order to be rendered by Lieut. Col. Elson, for Lieut. Col. Elson, for the Department of Military Science and was shown in the recent order. The course at the State University of Iowa, in outlining the new course on World Politics stated that there would be no need for the class. The “World ar- rium will present the subject through lectures,” said Professor C. W. Baldwin, “and give the students the same kind of instruction as any other students in the class. In this they will follow strictly the same methods, the students will not be required to prepare daily or monthly reports on the political progress of the world as set forth in recent periodicals.”

There are not more than two of the three universities in the entire United States which now offer a course in World Politics. The State University of Iowa by offering this new course on contemporary political problems of the world is making a most important contribution to the instruction of the present and future generations.”

ECONOMIC IMPORTANCE OF SMALL FIELD ANIMALS TO BE DISCUSSED.

The Iowa State Geological Survey will make an investigation of the economic importance, distribution and abundance of the small field mice and rat-like chipmunks, squirrels, muskrats and rabbits in Iowa.

Prof. George F. Ray of the University of Iowa, head of the Geological Survey has sent out a notice asking for specimens of the various animals living within the borders of the state. When the actual work on the report is completed the results will be published in the form of a method which is expected to be of value to the people of the state and particularly to the agriculturalist.

"We do not want specimens of pocket gophers, muskrats, long-tailed squirrels, ground rabbits, ground hogs, fox squirrels, house mice and rats, and grey and brown turtles," said Prof. Ray.
