"Do IT for Iowa"

This year you have decided that nothing could be more appropriate for the decorating schemes than that a display worked out in accuracy and interest in the Iowa City "Old Gold." The decorations, with their customary planning are planning to do their best to redeem Iowa's honor and other states in a stirring way.

But they cannot expect to do all the campus, the special event of interest at a time like this should also be decorated and in so the students to do this.

In the Iowa Union and the Women's League have joined with the students in this movement and have appointed committees to work out plans. This committee which is here announced will meet together at seven o'clock in the Senate Chamber in the old capital building in preparation plans. This meeting is not only for the decoration it is for all who will want to make and presented in tomorrow's Iowa.

(Continued from Page One) of these ends. The regular work of the National Association is centered by an executive board. The National Association, with its headquarters in New York City, is subdivided into eleven so-called "fields" of work. Each of these "fields" is attended by an officer who has charge of the work in the state. The state headquarters is known as the "station". The station is usually a college or university campus. The station is organized to do the following work: (1) make arrangements that every democratic student may have the opportunity to get home on vote day. A big democratic rally is being planned and the intention of the club is to have John T. Hamilton, Mr. McDonald and Mr. O'Connor present at the proposed rally.

on the roofs of the buildings possible considering the size of the old capital with the consent of the other bui The ands and grounds will, as usual, cooperate with the student body in putting on the best display possible.

It is through the efforts of this department that the sign will be placed on the roof of the capital building. A few statements from prominent faculty people follow. Others, ansious in old to this work, have promised to give their ideas to-ger. K. G. SCHROEDER, Homecoming is a holiday for students and all. Nothing can promote the holiday spirit more than the decorations proposed. Last year for the first time field was decorated and the decorations there along with town added greatly to the general spirit of homecoming. I am heartily in favor of the plans for this year as proposed. It is a mighty good idea.

DEAN ISON. The most tangible way in which we can show the true homecoming spirit is by decorating for the old grads, and the thousands of Pioneers who were here last year.

Last year the display along Clinton street, the Engineers' arch, and the decorations on the field did so much to attract attention and common with any other feature of the entire celebration! A handbills and a giving will make the alumni welcome but the visual impression that he receives when he sees the de-orations and realities This is for us, rather than for IOWA. I approve heartily of the plan."

DEAN RIXON. "The more students put themselves into the homecoming the more they will enjoy it and the more the feeling of welcome will pervade the entire homecoming atmosphere. In putting out and decorating the university grounds in this wise way it may be done to show pride in our university and our students in our present, and they in turn will feel the joy of victories.

H. B. HAWKES. "The movement inaugurated by daily Iowan to decorate the campus for the homecoming is most con-septable. Few of us here on the campus fully realize how important are the old grads who rambled back to E. U. I. for the annual homecoming. They honestly believe these decorations of recognition and they detect more quickly than we know the sincerity which characterizes such just splendid efforts as this proceeds to be."

The undertakers deserve great credit for their eagerness to fall in with the suggestion of the Daily i owan and it is to be hoped that the results will correspond to the anticipations of the province of the idea. From present previsions the attempts at the homecoming presents to break all records--not only all homecoming records but all other Iowa City records and it is so tenously fitting that at this time the student's spirit should show its strength in the scheme of campus decoration.

Bookplate in Iowa is New Book Published by Malcolm G. Weyer.

The university library has just received a copy of a book by the former librarian Malcolm G. Weyer. The work is entitled Bookplates in Iowa with a chapter on the Press of Collecting by Henry T. Fosse. The edition is limited to 100 copies and published by the Times Press of Cedar Rapids. Mr. Weyer has been interested in collecting bookplates for a number of years, and has made a thorough study of the subject, and the device is a marvel of design and the various methods of reproduction. He has made a special effort to acquire bookplates themselves of the Iowa people and has found a surprisingly large number. The work is attractively gotten up and copiously illustrated with reproductions, the two plates of Dr. Harry Albert being of local interest.

WHY WE CAN SELL

Clothes So Cheaply?

Our ads in the local papers quoting prices on Suits and Gents' Varnishings at nearly half the ordinary prices have often raised the question in the minds of the readers of how we sell so cheaply.

This is the reason--we have no high rent to pay, other clothes must pay from twice to three times more rent. We have no expensive fixtures--others have thousands of dollars invested in fixtures alone. We employ no high paid clerks--our competitors pay hundreds of dollars a month in clerk hire.

In merchandising, the customer pays the original cost of the article plus the cost of doing business, plus a profit to the retailer.

We buy just as good merchandise but our cost of doing business is only a fraction of our competitors. Hence we can sell for nearly half as much as he. Simple, isn't it Better think it over and decide to buy your clothes "the cost of doing business is lowest."
