IOWA MAY PLAY POST SEASON GAME AT DRAKE

GREAT GAME TO BE PLAYED THANKSGIVING DAY FOR RED CROSSES

Athletic Board Hoping to Get Permission from Conference-Drake to Consult Missouri Valley Conference

Late last evening the board in control of Athletics voted to play a post-season game with Drake at Drake Stadium on Thanksgiving day. If permission can be obtained from the big nine and from the Missouri Valley conference, one of the games will be played on Thanksgiving day.

Communication was established with Griffith of Drake who states that he is favorably in favor of the proposition and that it is highly possible that they will get permission. Iowa will have to get big nine sanction of the arrangement, and the board hopes that the matter can be adjusted without trouble. Coach Griffith will also have to take the matter up with the Drake athletic board, but no trouble is anticipated there.

All proceeds from the game above mentioned expenses will be forwarded to the Red Cross society for use in their work among the European refugees.

The Joe Moreau accords are heart in favor of the idea, and H. M. Harwood who has been in communication with several of the men there says that they are backing the proposition strongly.

B. E. Mansfield of Iowa City is the man with whom the idea originated. (Continued from Page 21)

ON TO AMES

As usual the Iowa football squad and several hundred students and boosters. And last, but not least by far, the State University band, 16 strong, will make the trip Saturday morning, to add its might in bringing Iowa to victory over the greatest foe of the Hawkeyes.

Light Practice Tonight

The varsity practice last evening was not as strenuous as might have been expected. Coach Harwood devoted his time in explaining the drill, and not in breaking up the men that were exhibited. Grays did not get into the workout, but were required to qualify on the side-line and on the sidelines that are free.

THAT TRIP

If you are a normal man and an average Iowa booster, you are planning to take trip with the team to Ames Saturday. We wish you could go; we wish every Iowa student might do that also; but each has a wish is just itself. There are students who, despite the knowledge that the trip will cost them forty-five cents for the round trip, will still go. Some of these students will decide that it is worth every cent they have to stay at home. They will plan great refreshing picnics that they should know very well cannot be made. Others will deliberately appropriate money which should be used for other purposes, in order to gratify themselves. There will be more than one honest lady who will put off as a result of this extra game. There will be many bills that will be unpaid to the public for the present because the need of the Ames trip seems more urgent.

Fairness will continue you high, sky of the courses we have mentioned are unjust to all concerned. The chances are that last month's board bill will be doubled next month when you find that you have a double bill to pay. Think twice before you go, and be sure that you plan your trips accordingly. If you can go, do so by all means, but if you cannot, be courageous enough to stay at home.

A SERIES OF ADDRESSSES

H. C. M. Professors. The United University of Iowa will undertake to preach a series of seven addresses on socialism and modern church work in the evening of the church in modern society. The first address will be given Nov. 15, and will take up the question, "Is the Church Necessary?" Industrial socialistic societies, positivist societies, and similar organizations have undertaken the work of the church. How far can they succeed? The second address will be given Nov. 22. It will discuss the relation of the church to socialism. The relation of the church to the socialist parties in Europe and America is one of antagonism. What should be the relation of the liberal church? Some "worship" will contain a fair presentation of the subject.

WICKHAM LECTURES

In his address in the Recitation room this evening, Prof. Wickham will tell of the work of the United States Caterpillar Investigation Camp with which he was connected for several weeks. This work was established by Bureau of Entomology of the Department of Agriculture to investigate the habits of a certain caterpillar which was proving destructive to the range grasses of the Southwest. It is the only establishment of its kind and while connected with it, Prof. Wickham accomplished some great scientific work and some very interesting experiments.

ENTHUSIASTIC MASS MEETING LAST NIGHT

Iowa Spirit and Optimistic Armoir...phone Envelopes Large Gift-Fatyg in Armory.

The Jinx is no more. After several weeks of anxious speculation, the goo-knows-of-the-Mediac school captured the evil persona and is shot dead last evening at the moment many were beginning to lose utter university. As a result the Iowa eleven should receive an even greater success and another change in the contest. Not until later his execution was the name of the Jinx disclosed. A card afford to the resides of the hope teachers as a dagger before the eyes of the audience showed it to be Mr. U. N. Luckett.

The mass meeting last evening was one of the most enthusiastic of the year. Optimism and a spirit of approaching victory was the large hall. Over 2,400 were in attendance to give the Iowa team a round op to round earth center against Ames Saturday.

Dr. Thomas Chase presided at the meeting and introduced Dean Emor...as the first speaker. Amex teams signs around especially he predicted that not only would Iowa win the game, but that they would sweep the last three games against the Aggies. W. O. Cost today of the Iowa spirit and how it had been installed into the team who will try the victory. Dr. J. M. C. I. m anita entertainers

Leo Brekke, one of the oldest coaches, said that they expected a hard battle with the Cyphers, but that the Hawkeyes should win Iowa, had a better team, he declared, and would be winners by a small score.

Dr. Thomas Chase then called upon a number of the members of the varsity retailed for short poems. Pershing star half-back, said that Iowa expected to win after a hard fight. Max Wilson declared that the team would fight and that he had never fought before and would do all in their power to win over the Aggies. Max Broughan, the steller half-back, assured the Aggies that Iowa would force the Hawkeyes to the last ditch battle, but that the Iowa squad would battle equally as hard. He predicted an Iowa victory by a close score. The mass meeting was held in the armory last evening because of the inability of those in charge to secure the Natural Science auditorium, where they usually hold their meetings. The program for the meeting was arranged for the Naumburg and the mass meeting to hold on the armory for that reason.

HAS A DISTINCTION

"When Dreams Come True," a successful musical comedy that has been running in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago for the past year, bears the unique distinction of being the only play for which Bessie McClenathan, who appeared in the story being too clean and satisfying figures. The music, scored by the modern popular style to play in the theater, of the stories written on the public wants clean entertainment in the theater.
