CRITICS REPORT ON DEBATE PROGRESS
HERALD ROOMS FOR CONTENTS WITHIN DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATIONS
PLEADING FOR VICTORIES
Faculty and Antiochians are handicapped in good hope of putting forth a good line in the annual debate. The prospects for two winning schools are not promising. Miss Everett, in her address to the judges, will be on the defensive side and is expected to be strong. The moves will be well calculated for the time of the season, but there is no clear evidence whether the debating will be successful or not.

Iowa Law Bulletin will be Revived

RELATION OF WAR TO COURAGE
Professor Mary of Grinnell Speaks Before History Conference Here

MISS VIVIAN KNIGHT OF IOWA TO APPEAR AT ASSEMBLY OF Y. W. C. A.

Katherine Jefiferie Everett, famous over the entire country as a reader, will again appear at the assembly of the Young Women's Christian Association, before an audience here two years ago, when she read great success. This year she will conduct a debate on the question of whether there is a higher form of courage or the most difficult of all forms of courage. Her work is a great aid to legal study, and will be in the hands of the faculty, acting as judge of the contest. The bulletin will contain leading articles of Iowa and Educational values. The bulletin as planned will contain leading articles of Iowa and Educational values.

"ONE GIRL IN A MILLION."

"One girl in a million," the new musical fun song, for which Address Burchardt, Charles Collins and Frilled Hall has been released, has already made its
and of $15
performances in the La Scala Opera House, Chicago, and the entire orchestration, under the direction of the Royal Princely Company (Inc.), who have reputation as producers of things on a big scale the-trarily. The company has for its star Paul Foster Accola, the somnolent who kept the large audiences happy for many moons. Eva Fallon is the sweet little leading lady, and she has been a success even since she entered the theatrical business. Lenore No-vado, in the contralto and her remarkable dancing has been a feature of many big productions. There is a song number with numbers dancing that succeeds the tango, etc.
The refrain Brins can read as follows:
I never slip out a stop for a new step.
There are no steps up to stuff.
New fangled tango and trots and fandangos
Are a nuisance and a Scot.
Give me a girlie to twirl and whirl,
And 'tis early noon we shall
Not on the new steps.
Give us the two.
And we'll dance until our shoes wear out.
We sing in "One Girl in a Million", are all of the different, newer and the place thoroughly inferred with a musical-dramatic set-ing that is positively refreshing.
This bit attraction comes to the Mer-ket Theatre today.
