Basketball Managers to Arrange Schedules

SCHEDULE OF ENTER-DEPARTMENT GAMES TO BE ANNOUNCED

Liberal Arts College is in Possession of Series of Intramural Basketball Games Semi-Eglish Opportunity to Develop University Material.

Managers of the interdepartmental material teams will meet in the office of Physical Director Schroeder at Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock to arrange a schedule of games for the winter and to make plans for the coming competition for the university championship, which is a part of the liberal arts college activities.

At this meeting a schedule for basketball must be arranged as well as a schedule of games. The armory hour is crowded that part of the day and will be played with extreme care, and it is essential that all of the management be present.

This competition has been held in a large place in university athletics in all sports, and probably brings forth the greatest interest and enthusiasm of any of the school activities. It gives an excellent opportunity for development of material for the future, and productive of splendid spirit between the different colleges.

Last year the liberal arts five won over the university championship after a hard season and following some close competition on the part of the universities, excellent. The liberal arts team was made up entirely of freshmen, all of whom are off school the school, and they are expected to be in the running again this season as well.

No rivalry men are allowed on any of the teams, and competition is carried on with emphasis and interest on the account.

Kay at Y. M. C. A.

"Science and Religion" will be the subject of this evening, at the Y. M. C. A. by Prof. George E. Kay. This meeting is to be held at Chase hall at 7 o'clock. Prof. Kay has given this lecture at Davenport, Cedar Falls, and other Iowa cities, and has been asked to appear at various places over the state with it. The discussions of science and religion make up the subject matter, and the entire lecture is handed out with great care and skill in a way that is very forceful and convincing.

TRIANGLE CLUB TEA

The annual afternoon tea for the students of the university was entertained at 2:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Triangle club rooms over the Statehouse. The housemen were Mrs. J. B. Lambert, Mrs. L. P. Brigham, Mrs. Horstmann, Mrs. Flinn, Mrs. Rockwood, Mrs. Klingman and Miss Klingham.

State Educators to Meet Here Dec. 10-12

Extension Department of University to conduct Normal School superintendents.

The first annual conference of housewomen superintendents and principal superintendents and grade principals will be held in this city Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 11-12. The conference will be held under the auspices of the extension department of the university.

All plans for the discussion of the subject, that of "Superintendents," have been made. Many noted educators will be on the program. From this interest in the subject that follows in a meeting among the school men of the state, there will be a large attendance. A series of papers will be extended to every person interested in school work.

University High Marks Make High Marks in Shooting Yesterday Afternoon

Exceptionally high scores for nearly perfect practice were made yesterday by the regular players on small targets in the form of a solid circle. The number of bulls' eyes on the targets was varied by using different positions and conditions of the sun.

Miss Florence Mitchell also had a successful season at the state and national championships, and she had the following:

Not so very many years ago a man wrote a fairy play in five acts, and he named the play "The Blue Bird." Several persons in this matter human drama, on beyond the circle, from the earth into the land of the fairies. At nine o'clock in the evening of Christmas day the next day, was the beginning, and the blue bird is the central figure in the story. Among the characters in the drama is the life of Les Bie...

Let Them Say of You---
"He Looks Well in Evening Clothes"

TRUE ease in evening clothes comes from art, not chance. Ease is a matter of comfort—of being conscious that you are looking your best. The man who "looks well in a dress suit" is not necessarily tall or short, stout or slender, young or mature. His clothes simply fit him, and because they fit they look good and because they look good he feels good.

Bloom-Mayer Clothing Co.
