Iowa Union Makes Financial Statement

Figure shows that although only one year has passed since the Iowa Union was organized, a net worth of $2,963.45 has been realized.

The managers and officers have compiled a complete report of the finances of the Iowa Union, and that report is today presented to readers of The Iowa. This report is interesting, and the officers feel that a study of it will be profitable to every man in the university. The report shows, among other things, that the union is soon to be on a self-supporting basis. Last March when the Union took over the old St. James property it was necessary to make extensive repairs before the building could be occupied, and these repairs were made in lieu of payment of rent until the present. Furthermore, it was necessary at that time to purchase the equipment for the purchase of the equipment of the building. Some of these costs now become due, and it is that which makes the present statement necessary.
