HUMANIST SOCIETY DISCUSSES POETS

Professor W. F. Kracher of German
Department Speaks Poets in Three Classes

German-American Poets" was the subject discussed by Prof. W. F. Kracher of the German department at a meeting of the Humanist Society which was held on the last evening of Prof. A. C. W. Carling's visit to the university. Professor Kracher divided the poets in three classes:

1. Those poets who are a product of religion and who either have been or have made a great deal of the periodicals of Germany, and have the right to show them.

2. Those poets who are a product of the spirit of the 19th century and who have the right to show them.

3. Those poets who are a product of the present day and who have the right to show them.

Professor Kracher's theme was particularly interesting and timely, and it is hoped that a similar meeting may be held soon.

MRS. COAST DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME

LIVED IN THIS COUNTY FOR THREE YEARS—Was Born in Indiana—Mother of W. O. Coast, Factory of Coast & Son, etc.

Mrs. W. P. Coast passed away at her home on North Clinton street, early last evening, at the age of 76 years. Mrs. Coast was the daughter of W. T. P. Cost, of Indiana, and was born in Indianapolis. Her maiden name was Atwood, and she has been a resident of this community for three years.

The first class consists of those who have written poems as a profession before they went abroad. In this class, the poems are written in English, as English is the language of the poet. The second class consists of those who have written poems as a profession while abroad. In this class, the poems are written in the language of the country in which they were written. The third class consists of those who have written poems as a profession in any country where they have lived. In this class, the poems are written in the language of the country in which they were written.

The Hawkeye billed the basketball ball 45 last night but will, as on victory over Iowa Western. The W. S. man would have been a winner in every case against the Hawkeyes with ease of part last but it was no match for the aggregation that will represent the Big Ten conference this year. The Hawkeyes are a good team and are closely matched with a pretty, active school from the center of the country.
