GREAT WORK BY UNION FOR SECOND SEMESTER

Iowa Union Board Will Discuss Next Semester's Work at Meeting on the 17th—Many Important Items Up for Consideration

Benefits of the investigations of the Iowa Union committee on the second semester, the co-operative book store, and the other proposed plans to be put into effect by the Union during the coming year will be reported at a special meeting of the board to be held on work at Saturday, January 17th.

On these reports will be based the future action of the Union relating to the second semester. The reports will be written and will be served for later insertion. The committee which has been working on the reports have made very thorough investigations of all the fields concerned with the student council and co-operative store. The work of the committee is to be rounded into a report.

The student council, which will be the most important matter considered at the special meeting next week, has been an institution growing in popularity during recent years. In this quarter the student council has brought much closer in touch with the administration of the university. The students are allowed to take an active part in determining the trends of the student council, and are given a real voice in their own government. The student council is considered the student's best friend and the student council is put in charge of the student's voice in the administration of the university. The student council is the best assurance that the student's voice will be heard when the administration of the university acts.

COAST & SONS

Great Work by Union For Second Season (Continued from Page One). Purchased through a three man plan. In securing these supplies direct from the factories, the students will save, collectively, a large sum. To many of the men in the professional colleges, the money thus saved would mean, possibly, a great relief, for the expense of clothing constitutes one of the largest parts in the student’s expenses.

This book and other supplies used in the liberal arts, law and similar colleges would also be secured at a much lower rate, making the books in these colleges the same as in the others.

The plan upon which the co-operative store is operated is similar to that of the Iowa State College. The students of the store are the managers of the store, and are self-sustained.

of the members of the campaign, the committee was later presented with the opportunity for membership and cards will be issued to those for his last semester of the school year. Membership figures in the Union at present show a surprisingly small number of students enrolled in the class, but the number of students enrolled in the university. Every man in the numerous college will be able to avail himself of the committee and the men in charge of the campaign will look forward to another large increase in the Union enrollment.
