MAKE FEW CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES

COMMITTEE CONSIDERS MENDING HEALD IN NEW YORK TO REVISE RULES

Number of OffiUers Is Increased from Three to Four—A Few Additional Penalties for Roughness Were Added to Rules

The annual meeting of the intercollegiate football rules committee, held for the purpose of considering changes in the rules for 1916, closed at New York City recently, without radical alteration in the present rules.

The principal changes include giving the half two opponents on a forward pass out of bounds, and limiting the number of players to five at the beginning of a period.

The committee also seriously recommended the numbering of players. They did not, however, make it a mandatory rule.

Minor changes in the rules include a 15-yard penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct in addition to the disqualification of player in flagrant cases.

Miss Harrison will be especially closely contested necessary to a successful career on the dramatic reader. She is always a present with university audiences.

THE "MASTER KEY"
By John Fleming, Wilson
"Why must I always have to be telll" was the query of Mildred, Sallie, and Wilma, by the three young maidens whom Dr. Rubinstein the Second, is about to instruct in the "Master Key" method of mental training.
We refer the reader to Dr. Rubinstein's stimulating and engaging book, "The Master Key" and let him see the marvels he will perform when he has mastered the 'perfect solution' of his own life's problems.
Rubinstein is a man of deep philosophy and great practical experience; he has had the privilege of associating with some of the greatest minds of the world and thus learned the true principles of life and how to make use of them.

"The Master Key" method, as taught by Dr. Rubinstein, is the only one that has been
