ENGINEERING SOCIETY HAS BIG ATTENDANCE

Many Interesting Talkers Here Last Thursday and Friday—Election of Officers

Attendance in the meetings of the Iowa Engineering society wasarger Thursday and the sessions were marked by increasing interest in the program.

The morning session was opened by a talk on "City Planning" by W. R. Worrick of Des Moines, followed by the supplementary luncheon lecture given the evening before by Mr. Nelson N. Lewis of New York City on the main subject then Sigma Xi fraternity. The remainder of the morning was occupied by various committee reports, delivered by Messrs. C. P. Chase, A. Marion of Iowa State College, and J. L. Benson of the Iowa State Board of Agriculture, E. S. W. T. E. and W. D. L. C. Davidon gave a talk on "Choosing the Curricula ofBachsted College Outside Arches." Following this the members made a tour of inspection of the university. The Laylan Inst. and Exhibition was visited and the various laboratories of the Engineering college.

The faculty of the engineering college provided entertainment for the evening in a reception at the Phi Kappa Psi club. Professor gave a talk on the "Dread Ohio Flood Relief Project." Election of officers and a business session occupied the forepart of the Friday morning session. W. H. McNeil of Des Moines, president of the organization during the past year was chosen president to succeed Don W. Raymond, who has held the office for the last two years. M. M. Ball of Council Bluffs was elected vice-president, and S. M. Woodward of the engineering faculty and J. W. doing of Des Moines, director. The President, and the four men were named alternate chairmen of the secretary, who, it is said will be Prof. J. H. Dunlap, the latter having completed "a very successful term in that office.

The principal paper of the Friday morning session was one on "Vertical Flight Flying" by G. A. Walker, Director of the School of Engineering, University of Oklahoma. He maintained that streets could be paved much more cheaply than at present, here the methods necessary more scientifically studied. He advocated that the concrete covering the brick should be reinforced with wire and like material, thereby accomplishing greater strength of material to be obtained with the use of much less concrete. Prof. Fleming also read a brief paper on an elevator that could be used in large buildings. Professor S. J. Dunlap read a paper on "Engineering: a Profession," the address being written by G. E. Inman, who was unable to present. This turned the closing number of the three-day program.
