Official Notices

Notes intended for this column must be signed by a responsible person and put in the office of the University Editor, L. K. Hinde and Thiel, 11:4 by 4 o'clock of the day preceding the day for publication.

Student Union Club
March 16.—The regular meeting of the Student Union Club will be held Friday evening at 7:30 in Professor Rota's room. All the members of the club are urged to attend.

H. L. DODGE, Secretary.

The meeting of the Student Union Club has been postponed until March 17.

oratorical Contest

The place has been altered to the meeting in the basement of the Student Union for the George Egan prize of $25 which will go to the winner. The competition is slightly different from the oratorical contest of the University in that there is no admission charged. The judges will select the contestants who have entered the race for the George Egan prize of $25 which will go to the winner. The competition is slightly different from the oratorical contest of the University in that there is no admission charged.

Perhaps the most exciting feature of the contest will be the selection of the judges. The judges will be selected from the students in the society.

The dates have not been set.

UNION REPORT IS FILED FOR MONTH

The Student Union reports that the Union building has been closed for the month of February. The building will be open for business again on March 17.

ENGLERT THEATRE

GRADUATE CLUB ENTERTAINED

On Tuesday evening the Graduate Club was entertained at the Liberal Arts drawing room by the literary section. All the program given during the course of the evening. Miss Taris Kenna recited a piano solo, Mrs. Taus gave selections from Milton's "Paradise Lost", and Mrs. Mudge read a poem from her husband's collection. After the program, a social hour followed during which refreshments were served and the students of the various departments met in a social way to interchange ideas and with news.

THE POWER

"Our natural power."

Since the engineers are running this week I invite them to occupy this space tomorrow evening, to show their friends, thank their neighbors, make it to Jones, and give us a rest. Fix up your dates, fellows, and bring it around to the lounge office about 5 o'clock this afternoon. Some of the staff will be there to take it.

"I don't see anything in this that's original. It's a sort of situation. I get so few of them that I like to print all I get. I won't the chances, can appreciate it, I think.

"Please be here, boys, and keep your hands off the desk. If we've got to go to an open house."

"How? How?"

"I don't want to make Glenn Ad man mad, but sometimes was talking
He had joined the choral society, that he should sing at all. They told his boy friend was a member of the or chestra. I told them what his name was, but they told they didn't remember. It's a good thing he was there, because I might have pointed it out.

"When the average man has occa sion to boast of his past he extols a part of it that others have for gotten.

"Did you ever hear the story of the man who sang "Die Wacht am Rhein" at a meeting of the Ancient Order of Hibernians? You never did? Well, here it is and in com

"One hundred chances give in this production, it? Where's all your tickets?"

"We don't need tickets any more.
We send the customes ahead by parades post."

Do we make them all look forward to.
One thing we wouldn't miss.
We'll wait for it an hour or more.
It always brings us blue.

Perry see it, freinds see it,
The manner and the man.
Without exception come down now
For the engineers' party.

Other years they've started late.
It's always half the run.
I hope they do it again today.
We'll miss our half past one.

Anyway, I haven't got.
My lessons for that hour.
To repair with that I'll have to say
"This finishes the Power."
