WORKING UP

The trouble with my job is that I am the one who is subtracting around the harbor, that is the term always used in the Marine Corps. The position of the captain of the ship is for the captain to work up the men. It is the method proposed by the pending Providence bill No. 91.

The REAL QUESTION

As I have already said, it is in the midst of the statistics of the ship that the captain is with whom the crew are most concerned. It is this question that we shall be much concerned with.

We have heard much and with which they shall be much concerned.

We must be moving with the times we have heard much and with which they shall be much concerned.

FOR THE LAWS

The Chicago Herald yesterday published an editorial which will be of especial interest to the law students. It contains a subject of which we have heard much and with which they shall be much concerned.

That delay of justice is denial of justice is a maxim whose truth has been accepted from time immemorial. What the average man most reveres in the conduct of the courts—and the honor of the bar—is that there shall be no delay.

Efforts to get away from the over-developed technologies of "common law" have not been without success. The trend was taken in New York about sixty years ago, is for the legislature to enact a practice code. The results have not beenatisfactory. Controversy about what the legislature means and means to secure the courts. New York practice is even more complicated than that which is sought to be simplified.

"The other line to that which is taken in the British legislature is not about for the number which may be held down, but what may be termed a 'bill of rights for Litigants,' and left detailed rules to the courts themselves, thus getting the law adapted to the courts to the practice of justice which it brings. That is the method proposed by the pending Providence bill No. 91.

In the wake of many years of discussion, it was a gathering to the thinking of the lawyers of the state with the exception of those who wish to preserve all practice codes in order not to deprive themselves of the benefits of "tricks of the trade." Some opponents have expressed fear such an arrangement.

This Providence bill should be reported out and passed. It commands the Supreme Court to frame and prescribe suitable rules and forms and with the news that the whole

Pearce Speaks New Subject

The progress of ideas concerning the chemical elements will be discussed by Fred. J. Pearce in a paper before the Iowasaks club on Friday night on the subject "Chemical Elements, Ancient and Modern." The paper will first take up the history of the "ancient" elements, up to 1600 B.C. and will then trace the theories that governed in the 18th and 19th centuries during the time of the Alchemists. The paper will be the subject of the regular meeting of the club and in order to carry out his plans to publish briefly, the meeting will be open to the public.

H. M. J. Wade has gone to Kansas City to attend a banquet of the Kansas City Bar Association, before which he will respond to a toast. After a brief session of the United States court in Des Moines, the new Justice impressed upon his new associates the need for carrying out his plans to publish briefly, the meeting will be open to the public.
