The Destroyer Woman Conserves

University women gathered yesterday for the annual sea swim and parade in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, to protest the restrictions placed on their activities by the local community. The event was organized by the Lake Geneva chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW), which sought to challenge the city's policies that barred women from participating in large public events.

"STOOp THIEF" — April 20 — Engelt

Word from Des Moines yesterday afternoon told that the house approved the substitute for the Coast bill (the bill that excludes state educational institutions) arranged by a committee of five for a vote of 6 to 5. The same was recommended for amendment. It costs Iowa $1,142,450 for the fiscal period and Amos $215,750. The house bill, continuing the Alamos appropriation for $104,000 insured that the house would be reprimanded in March.

The reductions made in the adoption for the state university are as follows: (Annual) on school of commerce, $1,000; office of state auditor on university extension, $1,000; on department of building, $7,000; on college of fine arts, $4,000; on department of agriculture, $1,000.

Hawley is a political figure who turned state's evidence in the trial of three former state officials. He testified that he had worked for a rival political party and that he was paid by a third party to reveal the truth. This bill passed the house and Senate and sent to the governor for his approval before it becomes law.

Engineers at Work

Between the two tables of the Milwaukee Academy of Sciences, the two old engineers were busy examining the plans for the new power plant to be built on the river. Across her writing desk and the old engineers' records, the chief engineer, Mr. Rand, was perusing the plans for the new power house. The engineers were busily at work planning the new power plant for the city.

PROUDMEN WO.

The engineers were so engrossed in their work that they did not notice the approaching storm. The wind was howling and the rain was pouring down. The engineers were forced to leave their work and take shelter in the nearest building.

The storm lasted for several hours, but the engineers were determined to complete their work. They worked through the night, and by the next morning, the plans for the new power plant were complete.

The engineers were proud of their work, and they knew that the new power plant would be a great benefit to the city. They were confident that the new plant would provide the city with the power it needed to grow and thrive.

NATURAL SCIENCE

Iowa has been told us that we can't improve on nature, but I say that one of my suits will give nature an awful good run for the money.
