Rain Can Tips on Iowa Field in Third Inning Yesterday with Davenport Ahead by 7 to 1 Score

The weather seemed to promise a comfortable and enjoyable day for the spectators attending the first game held at the Iowa Field yesterday afternoon. The sky was partly cloudy, and the temperature was moderate. The team from Davenport, however, was not able to take advantage of these favorable conditions as they were defeated by the home team, 7 to 1. The game was played in front of a large crowd who enjoyed the exciting baseball action.

Freshies Awarded Numerals

Five freshmen will receive numerals for their baseball endeavors this year. They have been chosen by the varsity team as the best players among the freshman class. The numbers will be assigned to them in recognition of their contributions to the team.

WHAT THE CHICAGO HERALD HAS TO SAY OF THE WOMEN'S PEACE CONFERENCE (Miss Klingsopenhauzen's Speech for Rotterdam Yesterday)

The woman's international peace conference, of which Miss Klingsopenhauzen is the head, will be a historic event. The attendance of women, especially of brave women, is not representative of the world today. But clearly representative of the sentiment of women that we may have peace. When a small body of women get together and assume to represent a whole world, a continent, a great power, even a considerable number of women, speak as having authority to express the wishes of all women as needed to do so on almost any other matter of common consequence they are not always impressive. But it is safe to say that in their hearts the mothers, aunts, sisters, and sweethearts of the most influential women have one horror in common—that war can have one end—that of peace. It has been so from the very beginning. "War hateful to mothers," the Roman poet's famous phrase, has always represented the sentiment. Maternal, and always will.

True, when the conflict is over, women feel the same patriotic fervor as men. But it is safe to say that deep in their hearts the woman feels the same patriotic spirit as the man, and has that same desire for the end of war in order to have peace. The conflict, however, is by no means settled yet. We have a long way to go, and the women are not out of the game in the matter of current consequence. They are not always impressive. Not representative of the power that makes wars, not representative of nations particularly.

Below is given the list of painters who have been exhibited by the Iowa City Fine Arts association. "Of the school of Vermeer from the east," the woman's international peace conference, of which Miss Klingsopenhauzen is the head, has its appeal in the ladies of the world. They want to present peace more as an appeal. They want to present peace to the American women who set forth as delegates to the peace conference. They want to present peace more as an appeal, more as a practical peace measure. No one can tell what expression will avail as a practical peace measure. What will such expression avail as a practical peace measure?

FREE SCHOLARSHIPS ARE OFFERED BY THE REVISED ON REVIEWS TO STUDENTS.

Would you like to make a year's experience in ten weeks? Last year one of the state universities of Iowa students made about $1,000.00 by this method. The past year over 12,000 students have free scholarships, worth $146 to $1,000 a year under the direction of Mr. H. W. Fry, manager of the scholarship fund for the Review of Reviews outstanding.

President Wilson, together with two prominent college presidents, has approved of the plan which gives free scholarships to ambitious students, of which a hundred and fifty thousand dollars are placed in the hands of every student whose application has been considered as a candidate as a candidate. These scholarships are not limited to any degree or specialty, or to any branch of knowledge. Each student is appointed as an entitled scholar.

College employment bureau from Maine to California recommended this plan as a new means of intercollegiate cooperation for self-supporting students. The work possesses a dignity and attractiveness which invariably appeals to the ideals of college men. It is always considered and conducted financially. Over 150 scholarships were awarded students the past year. Mr. Arthur Henry of Yale university, was a winner of a scholarship of 1000 dollars.

Society Brand Clothes
measure up to their surroundings

The man who wears Society Brand Clothes is always well dressed—and he knows it. For the seclothes invariably measure up to their surroundings. They never suffer by contrast with other clothes.

Come See These New Models

We have just received an important shipment of the very latest styles from the makers. These handsome and exclusive new models are now on display for the first time. You are cordially invited to inspect them before the lines are broken.

Among the new models which appeal to us particularly are these: Poole, Budd, Chicago and Row. The style is built right into the clothes, and stays as long as the fabrics last.

Each fabric is thoroughly prepared against shrinking or fading, and each is guaranteed in every particular.

High Style Value Without High Price

Yet, in spite of exclusive style, exclusive fabrics and the most careful and costly tailoring, Society Brand Clothes cost even less than usual. We make no charge for exclusiveness.

You can secure the extra value behind the Society Brand label for the same money you have been willing to pay for ordinary clothes.

Excellent values are offered now at prices as low as $20, with more expensive fabrics running up to $25 and $30. But the only difference in these lies in the cost of the fabric. Style and workmanship are identical in all.

Your inspection of these excellent garments is invited.
