SEMI-CENTENNIAL FOR IOWA'S LAW SCHOOL IN FALL

ELABORATE PREPARATIONS IN
THE MAKING FOR CELEBRATION OF EVENT.

Date Is Fixed for Homecoming Time
—Law Faculty and Alumni Association
In Charge of Arrangements for Big Affair

Iowa's law school originated in Des Moines in 1865, during the month of November of that year. Justices Wright and Cole, then of the Iowa supreme bench, were the chief directors. Subsequent to that year the Iowa legislature failed to appropriate money for its support following a request for such. Two years later, however, the school was incorporated (1866) and then came to Iowa City, fully recognized and supported by the state legislature and headed by Chancellor Hammond, who remained with it in that capacity until 1881.

First announcement is made through the Daily Iowan this morning of the semi-centennial of the Iowa law school which is to take place at homecoming time, the date of the Iowa-Ames game, next November.

The announcement is made thru members of the faculty of the law college and officers of the Alumni Law association both of which constitute the committee on arrangements for the notable event.

Fifty Years Old

Iowa's law college in November of 1915 will be fifty years old. Alumni and students from throughout the United States will come here at that time to celebrate the completion of a half century's history of the Iowa school.

At homecoming time there is usually held the alumni banquet. This will be the big feature of next year's centennial celebration, one of the United States' foremost public men being the speaker of the occasion. Just who that will be the faculty or alumni association is not yet ready to announce.

Law Bulletin Announcement

The May issue of the Iowa Law Bulletin will contain the first formal notice and invitation of the centennial. From now on, until the month of the centennial next school year, alumni of the school are to be kept constantly in touch with arrangements, and there will undoubtedly be hundreds of them returning to pay homage to their alma mater's college at that time.

A Monster Homecoming

This announcement, made to the Daily Iowan yesterday, augments the facts upon which is based the assertion that next year's Iowa homecoming will be the greatest homecoming the school has yet enjoyed, and one of the biggest homecomings ever prepared by a university of the middle west.

Dill Slaughters Big Brown Bear

A big brown bear, Tommy, by name—got ptomaine poisoning at the city park yesterday and died.

His body soon found its way to the taxidermy department, and yesterday, in the absence of his assistants, Prof. Dill spent the afternoon carving Bruin up.

He intends to preserve the skin and mount Bruin, placing him in the university museum.

The bear is one of two cubs born at the city park. City authorities diagnose his case as ptomaine poisoning resulting from eating too much canday and peanuts, and so forth, thrust upon him by early spring visitors to the city park.

HOME MEET IS HELD ON IOWA FIELD YESTERDAY

ALTHOUGH SLOW TRACK BOOSTS
TIME OF EVENING YESTER-DAY INDICATIONS GOOD.

McCrea, a Freshman, is a New Find in the Sprints.—Members of the Varsity Team Show up in Great Form on Iowa Field Saturday.

The best team in recent years is the track forecast for the coming season. In the annual Home Meet held on Iowa field yesterday afternoon the entrants made exceptional showings in every event and the few hundred people who witnessed the meet left the field with the firm impression that Coach Watson has gathered around him the men who will do Iowa justice on the cinder paths this year.

The slow track prevented fast time from being made and therefore the time hung up should be taken with a grain of salt and not considered so seriously. In the short sprints the track was at least a second slow, while in the longer distances it averaged from two to four seconds below normal.

One of the features of the meet was the excellent showing made by the freshmen track men. In McCrea Iowa appears to have a comer in the sprints. He took the second heat in the 100 yard dash in easy fashion, clipping it off in the same time as Burke, who took the event for the varsity. McCrea also took the 220 dash in good time. Powers showed up exceptionally well for the first year men in the pole vault and half mile, while Wallen amazed the spectators by tossing the shot nearly 38 feet and copping first place in that event. Frudden was another yearling who showed to advantage in the high hurdle and high jump, while Wyland also showed form.

Bannick and Donnelly were two other varsity men who displayed exceptional form in the short sprints. The former copped first in the 220 with the sorrell-topped sprinter a close second. Burke finished third. In the half mile Parsons and Tyler ran a pretty race all the way. Parsons took an early lead and maintained it all the way, but Tyler was at his heels during almost the entire distance. Mortimore had no trouble capturing the quarter mile race, but Rock and Triplett gave him a battle part of the distance and Rock was pressing him at the finish.

In the mile run Avery and Franke staged one of the prettiest races of the afternoon. Avery led during the greater part of the way, but early in the last lap Franke began to close up the gap and when about 50 yards from the finish line was abreast Avery. The latter let out a final burst of speed to prevent Franke from passing him and the two milers came down the home stretch neck and neck, finishing in a dead heat. The time 4:43 2-5 was fast considering the track.

In the two mile Hartman ran away from his opponents and led throughout the race. He was never pushed and finished in apparently fresh condition.

Dutton sent a glow of delight to Coach Watson's face by his work in the broad jump, the pole vault and hammer. The Anamosa lad took first place in the former and tied with Captain Shrader in the vault. In the broad jump Dutton did 20 feet and one-half inch.

Captain Shrader showed the form which won him respect throughout the middle west in the high hurdles, pole vault and high jump last year, and possibly is going better than he did then.

A feature of the meet was the quarter mile relay race, which was run between the famous Iowa one mile team and a quartette of freshmen challengers. The varsity relay squad was composed of Parsons, Shrader, Rock and Mortimore

COBURN PLAYERS COMING TO IOWA

WILL PRESENT THREE PLAYS
HERE UNDER AUSPICES OF READERS' CLUB.

Engagement of famous players is Assured.—Campus of the Physics Building to be Scene of Production May 31 and June 1.

Members of the university Readers' Club announced yesterday that the famous Coburn Players would appear at Iowa this spring.

May 31 and June 1 are the dates of their engagement here.

According to the announcement of the Readers' Club which has the affair in charge, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be produced upon the campus of the physics building on the evening of Monday, May 31. "The Yellow Jacket" is to be presented in a like manner on the afternoon of Tuesday, June 1. On the evening of that day will be given "Jean d'Arc," the university campus again being the setting of the production.

Augustin Duncan Coming.

A specialty is announced with "A Midsummer Night's Dream" this year. Augustin Duncan, brother of the famous Isadore Duncan, is accompanying the players this season and will be seen in some of the dances made famous throughout the world by him. It will be remembered that he was the instructor of Miss Duncan and it is largely due to his training that she has become so perfect in the art.

Interdepartment Games to Start

The interdepartment baseball season will probably begin next Wednesday. The schedule is being outlined by Director Schroeder, Liberal Arts entering at the last moment and making necessary some revision.

There are now eight teams entered and some interesting battles are promised. The following have been elected manager of the teams:

Brueckner, graduate college, Eggleston, Liberal Arts, Harrison, Engineers, Wagner, Pharmacy, Von Lockum, Medics, Berry, Laws, Faculty and Dents, to be appointed this week.

It is now planned to play four or five games a week if rain doesn't interfere. The games are to begin at 4:30 p. m. promptly and will consist of seven innings only. Teams are to be notified a day in advance to make sure of no mistakes in the schedule.

Dean McClain in Harvard Review

"The Contractual Limitation of Liability for Negligence" is the title of an article written by Dean McClain of the Iowa law school which appears in the April number of the Harvard Law Review. It is a discussion of just how far one may go in limiting his liability for negligence by a contract antecedent to the happening of the event from which an action arises.

In concluding his article the Dean says: "it may fairly be said that there is no general concurrence of views on the part of the courts in a broad proposition that aside from public service undertakings an antecedent contractual release from liability or negligence which has no characteristic or wilful or intentional wrong is void; while the public service cases only indicate a general concurrence of view to the effect that obligations to those who are entitled to such service cannot be reduced by any such stipulation."

The discussion takes up carriers-of-goods cases; telegraph company cases and passenger cases in support of the article's argument.

Horack Leader In Trap Shoot

The first shoot of the University Gun Club took place Saturday morning at Black Springs. About a dozen men were present. Considering it was the first shoot of the season and a strong wind made the targets difficult the scores were good. Next Saturday at 10 o'clock the first handicap shoot for a Dupont cup will be held. Any varsity student is eligible to compete for this. Following are the scores out of a possible 25.

Horack, 16; Young 12; Spies, 12; Thurston, 19; Lonsdale, 13; Turner, 13; McFadden, 10; Lambert, 14; Clark, 21.

Chemicals Prove Dangerous Sat.

Thorsten Ingvaldsen, a senior student at the university, narrowly escaped serious injuries when a compound of hydrochloric and sulphuric acids exploded and struck him in the face yesterday. His eyes received a small portion of the chemicals and he might have been totally blinded, but fortunately the danger has been averted.

The accident occurred at eleven o'clock and Ingvaldsen hurried to reach medical aid. He is resting easily and no complications or serious results are feared.

SUMMER SCHOOL NEW DEPARTURE

TWO SCHOOLS INSTEAD OF ONE
THIS YEAR—REGULAR SES-SION LENGTHENED

Recommendations Have Been Made
By Faculty to the President and State Board of Education—Increased Appropriation Secured

Dean Wilcox of the college of liberal arts yesterday announced recommendations for the university's summer school session made to the president and state board of education.

The plans include an entirely new departure from the usual summer course of six weeks, and is made $26,000 secured for the work which is $11,000 more than was ever available before.

According to Dean Wilcox two schools will be established during the summer at Iowa. One is of twelve weeks duration, beginning the first or second week in June, and established for the benefit of teachers who expect to handle elementary subjects, and prepares the students within its registration to secure teacher's certificates. Hence, the registration will be made up of those who have not secured sufficient high school credit, or others who find something necessary to assist them in securing such teachers' certificates as are described above. For work in this school no college credit will be given.

Longer Summer Session

Promptly upon the close of commencement week, the regular summer session of six weeks' duration will begin, the usual courses in an augmented and improved state being offered, work in which will be rewarded with collegiate credit as in the past.

At the end of this six weeks period, however, those who feel that it has not been sufficient to their needs will be afforded another four weeks session, starting August 2. This short course of four weeks will also be open to those who do not care for the six weeks school. Work during this four weeks session will also be good for collegiate credit.

The plan as outlined gives the university one of the best summer school programs it has ever had and the additional appropriation and the increased instructional corps undoubtedly lend themselves to a greatly increased attendance.

CONCERNING SMOKING
BY SPECTATOR

Did you ever notice what a lot of satisfaction humanity takes in dragging an old skeleton out of its closet, after it has hung there until a deep layer of dust has covered it? Pure joy pops out with it, because crowds of people talk and think and act, as they hear its dry bones cracking together in the breeze of publicity, and they see its whiteness glaring in the light of the masses' eye. Well, to get down to brass tacks, I am going to take to myself the satisfaction of dragging an old skeleton out of its closet, where it has been lying, dust covered, for a few weeks. I am going to crack its dryness in your ears and flaunt its whiteness in your faces, just to see what will happen.

Did you ever hear anything about smoking around the Liberal Arts building entrances? I rather think you have, both from your own conscience and from outside sources. The first public appeal to stop this nuisance was made thru the columns of the Daily Iowan. It was an appeal to the conscience of the smokers, via the courtesy route; the smoking was offensive to the women of the University and to the non-smokers and to some smokers. The plea ended with, "Come on, fellows, let's cut it out." The youth who wrote that article was either extremely young, or extremely ignorant concerning the psychology of the masculine mind. Every single smoker, lounging around those doors, knows that he is discourteous, but he puffs away just the same. You cannot hit at smoking with the weapon of courtesy; it is proof against its blows.

Failure of plea number one!
Plea number two ambles out from a different source. A traveling man inquires of a professor, whether the Liberal Arts entrance opens into a smoke house. The professor repeats the remark to the Daughters of Something or Other. Veiled threats that the evil condition must cease its existence, float over the campus. The smokers laugh openly. They may be bullied, even cursed, around the drill ground by some whippersnapper student captain; but no one can divorce them from Lady Nicotine by any such method.

Failure of plea number two!
Plea number three. Let's flaunt this old skeleton, until students talk, until professors think, until officials act. What action do we want? We want the establishment of a smoking room in the Liberal Arts building. What do we want it for? We want it so that we shall not be forced to offensively blow smoke into women's faces; so that we shall not litter the campus with cigarette stubs; so that we shall not be frozen to death that we may smoke in the winter; so that we can have a common meeting place, where, under the most favorable conditions, we can get together and boost for old Iowa, like the men of the professional colleges do. Will this plea fail, as the other two have?

I have dragged the skeleton out again; it is up to you to rattle its bones.

MR. JACK GALLAGHER OF ST. LOUIS COMES TO THE MEZZA.

The enterprising, hustling proprietors of that popular store in the Jefferson Hotel corner, secured the services of a man, whose recommendations are unsurpassed, coming from source of "The Best" in Chicago, Kansas City, Denver and St. Louis. Mr. Gallagher has them from the La-Salle Candy Shop and that famous place known as "Famous and Barr" of St. Louis, who serve over fifteen thousand people per week. Jack certainly will please both old and new patrons of the Mezza.

Raquet Artists In Home Tourney

Iowa's annual home tennis tournament starts Wednesday and lasts the rest of the week, according to the announcement made yesterday by Director E. C. Schroeder. He further announced that the tourney would be open to all students and faculty members of the university and that those men who wished to participate should hand in their names to him as soon as possible, and not later than Tuesday afternoon.

Varsity aspirants must apply to Director Schroeder early this week, as the elimination contests will be held on Friday and Saturday in both the singles and the doubles. This year Iowa will enter a man for the singles, and a team for the doubles at the Iowa State Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament to be held on the courts of Drake university during the latter part of May.

From the appearance of the Iowa courts it would seem that Iowa will not lack for material in this department of sport this year. The courts are crowded to more than capacity every day. Three more courts are already being planned for next year, to be located to the north of the present ones on the old drill ground.

 among fraternities as a sort of warming up for the spring Pan-Hellenic schedule.

In a close game Thursday afternoon Phi Delt beat Kappa Sigma by a 5 to 3 score, the feature of which was a home run by Ives for Kappa
 Sigma. Batteries: Bone and Swab;
 Robinson, Ives and Delaney.

Sigma Nu took Beta to a cleaning
 Thursday by a 9 to 2 score. Batteries: Frudden and Swisher; Blackburn and Brueckner.

Phi Psi had no chance at the hands of Sigma Nu Friday when the latter won by a score of 5 to 2. McKee for Phi Psi was able to hold the Sigma Nus to a total of six hits, including a home run landed from him.

From a review of the week's games
 Sigma Nu shows up exceptionally strong and appears to be one of the most formidable contenders for the Pan-Hellenic cup.

"Mutt & Jeff in Mexico."

Next Monday night will be 'Jubilee Night' at the Englert, when Gus Hill's gorgeous production of Bud Fisher's famous cartoon play "Mutt & Jeff in Mexico" visits your city. Everybody who reads a newspaper has seen the funny "Mutt & Jeff" pictures, and to see them is to laugh. They would have made the Egyptian Sphinx laugh. No mere play in the past decade has left such a trail of merriment as has this clever and musical comedy conceit by the New York American's clever cartoonist, Bud Fisher. Capacity audiences have greeted their appearance in every town and city fortunate enough to have secured a date. New York, Chicago, and Boston laughed over their absurd antics for months. Everywhere it has been pronounced the best musical comedy of the season, not alone in words, but box office records have been established unapproached by any other attraction.

$400.00 REWARD. The above amount will be paid to men and women students in return for three months pleasant summer work in their home town. For full particulars call or write to HAWKEYE SALES COMPANY, Des Moines, Ia., 305 Century Bld'g.

Jacobsen Leads

With an average of .360 Jacobsen, sterling third sacker of Kent's varsity, is leading the Iowa sluggers in games played to date. The stocky clean-up man has trod to the plate 25 times thus far and on nine of those occasions came through with a safe bingle. Deardorf and Steverding both have higher averages than Jacobsen, each hitting an even .600, but they have been to bat just one-fifth as many times.

Miller, the old reliable guardian of the first sack, is next on the list with .220, while Hansen of the regulars brings up the rear-end with an average of .100. He has batted twenty times and connected safely twice. Casset, who has only faced the pitcher four times, is the real leader of the cellar position, as he has yet to get his first hit.

The general batting average of the team is .225, while the Hawkeys are fielding .940. The figures below, while official, include the Davenport series, which are not counted in the official averages. Only those men who have been to bat more than once are considered. The averages:
