COACH HAWLEY MAKES SHIFTS IN TEAM

MENTOR ATTEMPTING TO BOLSTER PLANKTON FANFARE

Regals appear as good Farm Again and Hold Surplus at Their Mercy

COACH HAWLEY made further shifts in the Hawkeye line-up yesterday afternoon and at the conclusion of the practice session announced that there would be more to come later in the week. The Hawkeye center is developing all of his time now to thelite problem and hopes to have a front wall before Iowa meets Purdue next week, with Dave as the other. Trappert is at center and displays promise of developing into a greater force than he has been looking for. He is having trouble in passing the ball, but Hawley is driving him in the art of accurate passing and believes that Trappert, after careful coaching, will be able to fill his post. He can pass the ball well and it is hoped that in the near future he will be able to give an impression and that there is likely to be an-

THREE PARTIES HAVE VALUABLE PURPOSE

KEEP OLDER POLITICAL PARTIES IN BUSINESS PATH

Dr. E. R. Haynes Characteristics That Paper Before Political Science Club

The political science club met last evening at the home of Professor E. G. T. Parke. The attendance was unusually large, nearly all of the members being present. The paper of the evening was read by Dr. E. R. Haynes, the title being, "Third Parties in the United States Since the Civil War—A Study in Social Politics." Dr. Haynes has devoted some time to the study of the third party movements in the United States and a volume to be published by the state historical society embodying his researches. The substance of Dr. Haynes' paper was:

The social view of third or minor parties has insured their real significance. Their chief function has been to bring new hosts before the people, to form new parties upon the other side of the great parties and to engage their object, they have disappeared. What is an individual as an individual to one of the great parties, organizations. Social and economic problems are the real hosts behind them. Begun in 1872.

The succession of third parties began with the anti-immigration or Granger party of 1872 to 1874, then came the greenback labor party from 1874 to 1878, and finally the populist party of 1896 to 1898. The last had the support of the democrats and populists under Bryan, and those that dispute the results, as a result of the great party, and that the organization has gone on within the two great parties. The progressive movement in the development of the organization has been due to the influence of the great parties. The organization of the party of 1872 was the culmination of ten decades that have been at work since the early seventies.

The gradual evolution of our politics from purely constitutional and governmental discussion has been a very long one—beginning apparent in a slight way in 1872 and reaching fuller recognition only in 1912.

DISCUSS TALKS OF WITCHES

The members of the Mennonite church were hospitably entertained at supper the other night at the home of Mrs. A. V. Aldrich. Twenty new members were received with appropriate ceremony.

Several foreign students told of superstitions in their native countries. Mr. Schmidt has recently made an account of the witch doctor among the negroes of the United States. Mr. Jansma was also among the ignorant people of Porto Rico. Mr. Jansma spoke briefly for China and Dr. Hess for Italy.

The university is already face to face with the problem of finding accommodations for the homecoming crowd. This year, it seems evident, it will be larger than ever. The hotels of the City will have to be held in reserve for the homecoming crowd.

Varsity Score at WC

Coach Hawley sent the varsity against the scrubs in a stiff scrimmage drill lasting over an hour yesterday afternoon. The varsity were given possession of the ball and scored on the second team with reckless abandon. Using a wide variety of plays, the Hawkeyes rushed the scrubs off their feet and had no trouble in ripping through for long gains. The line showed wonderful improvement over the showing made at Minneapolis and appeared to have again got back into their regular form, having almost recovered from the stage fright which affected them in the Gopher contest.

There are a number of cripples on the sidelines as a result of the Minnesota clash. Oarrettson, Fosdick, and Bowlesby were unable to get into scrimmage yesterday afternoon, while Davis and Kerwick were in but a short time. Grubb and Wilson were at the guards. Coach Hawley will continue to drive his men at top speed this week and hopes to have a polished team when the eleven journeys to Lafayette.
