FRESHMEN UNABLE TO CHECK VARSITY

COACH HAWLEY WHIPPING ELEVEN INTO SHAPE

New Offense Works and Gross and Kerwick Rip Thorough for Long Gains

The Iowa varsity, using the new offense which Coach Hawley has devised completely bewildered the freshmen eleven in scrimmage practice yesterday afternoon. The Hawkeyes registered three touchdowns in a short period of play. The first year men, using Purdue formations, were unable to gain against Hawley's men.

The Hawkeyes continued to display marked improvement and the careful work of Coach Hawley is beginning to assert itself. The Iowa mentor has accomplished wonders with the team since the Minnesota game and it will be a different Iowa eleven which faces the Bollermakers at Lafayette next Saturday.

Hawley Satisfied Early

Coach Hawley excused the men early yesterday. It was necessary, however, to bring out the ghost ball in the latter part of the practice session. This afternoon, the freshmen will report early and a strenuous work-out is in store for the Old Gold men. A long practice has been ordered.

Gross, Kerwick, and Donnelly were the star performers in yesterday's scrimmage. Kerwick registered the first touchdown on a 35 yard off tackle sprint. Later Donnelly trotted around left end for a score, and shortly before the festivities were called off for the day, Gross ripped through center for a 50 yard dash across the freshman goal.

Line-Up Unchanged

The line-up remained practically unchanged with Capt. Barron at center; Wilson and Blackburne at guards; Fosdick and Jacobson at the tackles; and McKee and Davis at the ends. Gilliland relieved Davis early in the scrimmage, as Coach Hawley did not want to take any chances with the little drop kicker's bad leg. Bowlesby and Garetson were also kept out of the work-out by injuries. It is doubtful whether the former will be able to enter the Purdue game. His ankle has refused to heal as readily as Trainer Watson would have it and Blackburne will probably start at right guard.

WASSAM TALKS AT MILWAUKEE

Dr. C. W. Wassam will lecture before the Wisconsin state teachers' meeting at Milwaukee, next Thursday afternoon. His subject will be "Practical Commercial Geography".

HERE'S WAY TO VOTE TODAY

Mark ballot printed in lower, right hand corner of this Iowan, cut it out, and deposit it one of the boxes which have been placed in the Iowan office, the union, Close Hall, the law building, the engineering building, the medical building, and the liberal arts building.

The boxes will be collected and the vote counted at six o'clock.

MERRY ANNOUNCES PROGRAMME

Six Features for Homecoming "Val de Vire" Arranged.

Robert J. Bannister of Des Moines, president of the university of Iowa association, will make the address of welcome to alumni and students, at the annual "Val de Vire" to be given in the natural science auditorium the evening of the Iowa-Ames game, Nov. 13.

The rest of the programme, as planned by Professor Merry, is as follows:

- Music by the men's glee club.
- Aesthetic dance by the girls' physical training class.
- Standard one-act farce, given by the classes in public speaking.
- Bar athletics, by Frank Y. Wheeler, star gymnast and former director of the Y. M. C. A. at Dayton, O.
- Minstrel "stunt".

The "Val de Vire" will take place at 7:45 o'clock in order that it may be over in time for the smoker to be given by the Triangle club that same evening.

DR. JORDAN COMING MONDAY

David Starr Jordan, ex-president of Leland Stanford Junior university, will be the guest of the university on Monday. Dr. Jordan will come here from Cedar Rapids, where he is to deliver a Sunday talk in the Coe college auditorium.

MUST REPORT ONCE A MONTH

The attention of those men who were excused from military and physical training is invited to a regulation of the university that requires them to report at the office of the commandant the first day of every month.

Signed, LIEUT. R. T. PHINNEY.

HALL TALKS ON SEX HYGIENE

Five talks on sex hygiene were delivered at various university and Iowa City meetings yesterday by Dr. Winfield Hall of Chicago. At 9 o'clock he talked to the sophomore medics; at 10:25 to Iowa City grammar school boys; at 3:30 to the freshman men in the liberal arts auditorium; at 7 o'clock to the men attending the Y. M. C. A. meeting in the liberal arts auditorium, and at 8 o'clock to the boys of the high school.

Dr. Hall is an authority on sex education.

FACULTY OPINIONS ON QUESTION VARY

MEMBERS OF ATHLETIC COUNCIL DISAGREE ON BASEBALL

One Believes More Discussions Should Have Preceded Taking of Vote

The vote on the summer baseball question today will be close if the views expressed by three members of the athletic council yesterday are in harmony with the division of sentiment in the student body.

"Any rule which tends to insure that only bona fide students are allowed to participate in intercollegiate athletics should receive the support of all," said A. C. Trowbridge, secretary of the athletic board, "but it is very doubtful if the summer baseball rule has such a tendency.

Apply to Baseball

"There might be some shadow of a reason for excluding summer baseball men from participation in college baseball, but surely there is no reason for excluding them from all sports."

"It is a very complex matter to discuss in a short interview, but on the general principle I am opposed to allowing people who play baseball for money to play on a university team," Dr. H. J. Prentiss said. "I am a great believer in what you call amateur athletics and that is the principal for my stand. I have no objection to their playing summer baseball for money but I don't believe they should be allowed to play on any university team if they do so."

Discounts Vote

Another faculty member who has been very influential in athletics at the university in former years refused to commit himself on the question.

"I discount the value of such a vote as the Iowan is to make for the reason that students generally have only a grotesque knowledge of what the summer baseball rule really is and what it means," he said. "This question is one about which pages could be written and should be clearly understood by a person before he either upholds it or opposes it. It would have been very helpful had the Iowan opened its columns to a general discussion of the question or printed a series of articles explaining it thoroughly."

DENTAL COLLEGE HAS NURSE

Miss Emma C. Docken has been engaged by the dental faculty to look after the children and other patients. She is a graduate nurse of the university hospital and for a short time has been in practice at Mankato, Minnesota.

COMMITTEE HAS SIX SONGS

Kuehne Contest Closed — Winners of Prizes to be Announced in Few Days

The song contest closed Sunday, Oct. 31. At this time six songs had been submitted at the Iowan office. The prizes have not yet been awarded. Dr. H. J. Prentiss, the head of the committee of judges intends to call a meeting within a few days to select the winners.

In speaking of the number of songs submitted, Dr. Prentiss did not seem discouraged that there were only six. "We hope to find just as good a one among the six as we did among the sixty presented when Old Gold was chosen," he said yesterday. "Perhaps only the bright ones tried this time. The reason so few try out is because they have little chance of hearing that kind of music. We hope to get a good one this time anyway," he added optimistically.

The winners will be announced as soon as possible.

IOWA FURNISHES SPEAKERS

The Iowa State Teachers' association will hold its sixty-first annual session in Des Moines, Nov. 4, 5, and 6. Many of the members of the faculty of the university will attend the convention, and will take active part in the discussions. Among those who will speak are: W. A. Jessup, dean of the college of education, E. E. Lewis, Dr. Ernest Horn, R. A. Stevenson, R. C. Kelly, Alice Wilkinson Bates, Edna Patzig, Sophia Davis, Charles Bundy Wilson, C. H. Weller, Frederick C. Eastman, Ruth Wardell, Glenn N. Merry, Ellen M. Geyer, H. C. Plum, Clara Daly, and W. A. Beck.

PROFESSORS GATHER SEEDS

Prof. Bohumil Shimek and Assistant Professor Boot made a botanical excursion Saturday to Muscatine island and the Klum lake region, and returned with a large collection of plant seed gathered in the gigantic sand mound region there.

VOTE ON BASEBALL QUESTION TODAY

STUDENTS IN SIX UNIVERSITIES WILL EXPRESS OPINION

Are You For or Against?—Mark Ballot and Leave It in One of Boxes

Vote today. Every student in the State University of Iowa is entitled to say what he thinks of the summer baseball rule.

The rule prohibits athletes from playing baseball in the summer time on professional or semi-professional teams. If they do play under such conditions they become ineligible for intercollegiate sports. The recent disbarment of Solon from football at Minnesota came as the result of his having played summer baseball.

Students of six of the Big Nine universities will today vote on the rule. In addition to Iowa, the following will take the vote: Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. Chicago students will vote Friday. Northwestern and Purdue will not take a vote.

The outcome will probably have an important influence on the action of the Big Nine representatives when they meet in December.

The Iowan prints the ballot today. Cut it out, mark it and deposit it at the Iowan office, the union, or in one of the boxes provided in the main buildings.

BREAKFAST IN DES MOINES

Phi Delta Kappa, an honorary educational fraternity, will breakfast at the Wellington hotel in Des Moines on Next Friday morning.

JESSUP TO SPEAK ON "IOWA"

Dr. W. A. Jessup, of the department of education, will speak before a banquet of county superintendents in Des Moines next Wednesday on "Iowa".

IOWAN'S BALLOT ON SUMMER BASEBALL

Place a cross after the statement you favor.

I believe college athletes should be ALLOWED to play summer baseball without losing their right to participate in intercollegiate sports.

I believe the present rule FORBIDDING the playing of summer baseball by intercollegiate athletes should be continued.

TIME TO VOTE

Without expressing its own opinion of the summer baseball rule, The Daily Iowan wishes to urge upon its readers the timeliness of the question.

Minnesota has recently suffered the loss of one of her best athletes because he had played summer baseball. Perhaps other universities might be hit if they undertook to inquire into the summer doings of their team men.

There is little doubt that the question will come up at the next meeting of representatives of the Big Nine conference. An expression of the student body will give much more weight to the voice of the representative from each university.

However Iowa students speak. The Iowan hopes they will do it by a vote that will creditably represent the whole body.

"ATHLETICS FOR EDUCATION"

In line with the present discussion of the football situation, we might stop to consider the view of President Wm. T. Foster of Reed College, Portland, Oregon. Mr. Foster terms his article in The Atlantic "An Indictment of Intercollegiate Athletics".

"Intercollegiate athletics provide a costly, injurious, and excessive regime of physical training for a few students, especially for those who need it least, instead of an inexpensive, healthful, and moderate exercise for all students, especially those who need it most," is Mr. Foster's declaration.

There are two aims in athletics—the one education, the other, business. To educate the college student by means of athletics would necessarily involve his physical development and maintenance of health. It must needs prepare his mind for study, and teach him habits of right living. However, "The ideal of the coach", says Mr. Foster "is excessive training of a few who do not need it, and neglect of those who do". Athletic education has proved a failure because only a few are so benefitted.

It is, then the second aim upon which university and college athletics must fall back,—business. The main objects of this business are to defeat someone, to make money, and to gain notoriety. "If there is one thing which should characterize a university, it is its cheerful sacrifice of temporary for permanent gains", in Dr. Elliot's fine phrase, "its devotion to the durable satisfaction of life". Athletics upon a business basis loses sight of the fact that a defeat is but a temporary loss, and that bodily health and happiness are of far greater moment than the mere winning of a game. "It is when we rightly estimate the possibilities of athletics as education that the present tyranny of athletics as business becomes intolerable", says Mr. Foster.

An interesting example of the abolition of intercollegiate athletics is that at Reed College, which has been made practically what it is today through the efforts of President Foster. Here the slogan, "Athletics for Education" has been adopted. Mr. Foster concludes, "Colleges must sooner or later heed that call: their athletics must be for education, not for business".

WHY SHOULDN'T THEY DO IT

"Rumor says that the freshmen are to order their caps within a day or two, through one of the merchants. It is feared, however, that they will not be green caps as is expected and desired of them, but rather a cap of university or class colors. It would be a fine joke on the sophomores if they should be allowed to rush their own plans through and spring these pretty colored caps instead of the green ones.

BASEBALL MEN ALL OPPOSED

"The summer baseball rule should be thrown out. Three-fourths of the men who do play professional ball deny it when the college season opens and play anyhow." This is the opinion of Wayne Foster, captain of this year's baseball team.

"Morey Kent, coach of the nine is of the same opinion, and heartily in favor of casting away the summer rule," Foster went on to say that all the men he had talked to held his views, and were all of one opinion that the professional player breaks the rule in some manner and plays college baseball.

Besides the ball players themselves being against the rule several close followers of the sport lined up as opposed to it. Dr. Frank L. Love in denouncing it said, "There are professional players on every team in the conference as it is, and, besides, the freshmen rule takes care of the professional side of it." Many members of the faculty are also against it. As it stands now, there seems to be nobody in its favor.

Phi Rho Sigma entertained at a smoker and supper at their house on College last night.
