POISON AND BURNS
WOES OF IOWA TEAM

FALLING RESPONSIBLE FOR FAILURES AT PURDUE

Two bullets injure Coach
Whitney. Incidents aroused
While Rehearsing.

With Jimmy Goss, star quarterback, on crutches, the Hawkeye. verus then faced a week of preparation Monday afternoon for their, state title in the second with Alba-ton. Goss was held by the first break late in the special coach was carrying the Iowa eleven at the 20,000 seat site.

As a result of his injury. "Hawkeyy Sammy" may not play in his crucial contest.

Others All Right.

All of the other members on the squad escaped from the American Society, including straddler, without damage.

The Hawkeye squad was scorched by the Purdue
zone in endless conditions
Monday, but was helped somewhat
by the intense heat.
while otherwise every man in the squad was fighting Friday.

President Whitney will watch the man this week in order to avoid accidents, which may diligently be repeated.

Following Responsible.

Pineapple poisoning, which afflicted at the entire Iowa eleven, was noted today. It is said that the metal boys escaped from Purdue defeat at Purdue.

The squad were afflicted Friday
and Saturday, it is understood.
As a result they entered the contest in a weakened condition, which was clearly shown by their bad form
during the course of the game.
It is necessary, we say, to stop the ball, which became several from the precipitate handling of the

CULTURE MEASURED

- BY SYMPATHY -

"Your culture is not determined by the breadth of your sympathies," de- claimed Dr. Jenkins Loyd Jones of Chicago before 170 students and citizens of Iowa City at university vesper services Sunday.

"Place is not made to stand for the superficial and artificial things in life," he said. "It is really none other than its genuine things."

"The first test of culture is the power of appreciation. To love the world and the things in it as we feel them. Cultivation is the second. Wear a smile and face the things in life with a cheery common sense. Laugh wholehly. The uneducated girl giggles, and the uneducated boy laughs, but the cultured person laughs close down to the bottom of his heart.

"Another great test of culture is the power of discrimination. We are often called upon to choose not between right and wrong, but between two loyalties or two tendencies."

"The best gift that culture may give is the widening of a person's sympathies. If we know we do not hate, a woman loves her wayward boy because she knows his innate love. The great calamity in Europe, in the flock of which America is in danger of separation, is not the great loss of life. It is the wreck of human minds. It is the great de- basing being done to human hopes and human sympathies. Patriotism is the virtue of a narrow man. It leaves no country who loves but one. We should embrace all nations of the globe. Our culture is measured by the breadth of our sympathies."

LIBRARY ACQUIRES ADDITIONS

Miss Roberta C. the university library wishes to call attention to two new sets of valuable books which have just been added to the library. The first is in Dawson's Historical magazine from 1857 to 1874, and is contained in seven volumes. Its publication ceased some time ago.

The other set is in the English Review up in the present time and consists of sixteen volumes. The university has subscribed for the English Review from new no. It is published in England.
