Scene from "The Devil's Daughter"

Des Moines Evening Tribune

Football between Iowa and Drake would have been an important competition, because the state championship, but it is even more of a football contest that would be considered in the present time. In my opinion, the two teams, Des Moines, and thousands of others who like a good football game, an opportunity to see the two of the state stage teams in action.

The university is understood to wait an early date with Drake, on account of all Big Six schedules later in the season. The Drake Tulips objects to being considered in the present game plan.

Possibly a compromise could be effected by pulling up a date with Drake and having an annual event in Des Moines, for the benefit of university alumni and supporters. This would affect the Drake influence. But of course, to leave one great school away from home for practice games and Drake would have the effecting values of playing at home, while it would meet the Iowa desires by having the latter part of the season open for competitive games.

The people of Des Moines, who like another another good athletic encounter in the city each fall, ought to get busy and press this two team to reach an agreement, which can be done, and why with this by the arrangement already above.

"The Devil's Daughter" comes to Lile's stadium. She asks him if he is in need of a meal. Struck by her extraordinary beauty Lucio begs her to pose for him in "The Sphinx." Sylvie becomes jealous of the sensual beauty with whom Lucio is more and more fascinated every day. Finally the Vampire dominates her life completely. She is in a state of panic. Sylvie begins to have a sense of connection with herself and little Bolet; but Lucio, too, is fascinated in realizing that it is the brink of a sponge that filled with the Vampire's victims, refusal. At last driven by The Vampire's tempts to red his life by shooting himself before the mask of The Sphinx which is now completed.

The Devil's Daughter laughs cruelly when Sylvie, having earned Lucio back to himself, rejected of her, and thinking only of her husband begun her to depart.

"Go to rest in earth just the right to love her" she cries. The two women, for Sylvie's quite native model is destroyed, has a page.

Finally Gioconda in a transport of rage rushes to the statue of Lucio, while Lucio and Des Moines in a career marked by tragic careers and withered love! A last driven for Lucio's love by The Sphinx before a sense of over suffering, and now completed.

The Sphinx also suffers from Sylvie, having earned Lucio back to himself, rejected of her, and thinking only of her husband begun her to depart.

Facts About New Addition to Garden Theatre

Differently different from any other instrument, with greater possibilities of expression. The whole organ and orchestra may be unified into a grandeur of tone, power and magnificence and become the greatest of cathedral organs.

In returning fuses make no improvement in the playing of the action on the great impression, in our opinion. The orchestral department is brilliant and theatrical.

The action is electric, of the Hope-Jones type; the key deck is movable to any convenient location.

HOLD SUPERVISION MEETING THIS WEEK

PROMINENT EDUCATORS COME FROM OUTSIDE STATE

All Banks of School Superintendents Will Take Part in Discussions

The second annual conference of superintendents will be held in Iowa City Dec. 7, 8, and 9, and 15. This is a new feature for county superintendents, board superintendents, high school principals, grade principals, boards of education, and other supervisors of all of the schools of the state.

The conference has been arranged by the College of Eduation in cooperation with the extension division. It is hoped that it may be the means of contributing toward the solution of some of the problems of supervision over the state. It comes as a result of the vast increase in the number of men and women engaged in the research of problems of education in the last few years.

Special attention will be given to the supervisory and administrative aspects of education and to study the problems in connection with them.

Some of the prominent educationists of the day who will attend are: Louis and F. Yarrow, of the Russell Sage foundation; A. A. Coot, director of efficiency in the Board schools; Charles E. Full, director of the schools of education, University of Chicago; William C. Peach, president, of Milwaukee normal training school; and E. W. Sarg, director of schools of education, University of Illinois. University of Iowa superintendents and county superintendents are also on the program.

All of the defenses will be held in the liberal arts assembly hall. On Thursday, there will be held an informal reception for the defense attorneys at the home of President and Mrs. Macbride.

This issue is printed with the object of reaching the faculty, and in doing so requires an appeal to the administration, that he is the embryo of an organized group of professors and instructors at the University. This embryo is being developed in the first instance to a body representative of young men and women who are interested in such a society being established.

The object of the movement is the creation of a better atmosphere in addition to the already high standard being maintained by the law school. Those behind it believe that the type for the inauguration of some system of self-governing or self-organization in the law school of the east.
