BIG ATTENDANCE AND GOOD DISCUSSIONS FEATURES OF SUPERVISION CONFERENCE

MANY NEW METHODS, RESULT OF SCIENTIFIC STUDY

PROMINENT SPEAKERS

"Best Meeting I Ever Attended," is Comment of More Than One Visitor

With more than 300 principals and superintendents from all sections of Iowa in attendance, the second annual conference on supervision, held under the auspices of the college of education and the extension division, was the center of the university's attention Thursday and Friday.

Sessions that were run out as scheduled, almost to the minute, featured such men as speakers as Leonard P. Ayres, director of education of the Russell Sage Foundation, S. A. Curtis, director of efficiency in the Detroit public schools, Charles H. Judd, director of school of education of Chicago university, and Carroll G. Pearse, president of the Milwaukee Normal Training school. Dr. Ernest Horn, O. E. Klingaman, E. E. Lewis, and Dean W. A. Jessup represented the university on the programme. The addresses aroused the deepest interest in the subjects which they presented.

"The best meeting I ever attended," was the tribute frequently volunteered by the visitors, who included some of the most prominent men in the local school systems of Iowa.

The discussions were significant in showing the striking advances which have been made in education of late years, the scientific spirit which has come into the attitude of the schoolmen, and the service which the university can give the whole school system of the state.

DANGER OF PROVINCIALISM

Carroll G. Pearse Advises Superintendents To Learn about Outside World

"The alert and successful teacher is busy studying how things are done outside his own locality," was the declaration yesterday morning of Carroll G. Pearse, president of the Milwaukee Training school, in his address before the conference on "The Danger of Provincialism among Teachers."

Dr. Pearse urged the teachers to work for legislation for a national system to send several hundred young men each year to foreign countries to study at first hand the ideas, government, and customs of other peoples. "We must be greater Americans," he concluded, "and to be greater and more helpful we must know our neighbors better."

FAILURE NOT CHILD'S FAULT

When Many Fail, the Teaching Needs Examination, Says Dr. Judd

Illustrating his lecture by the work of the Cleveland survey, Dr. Chas. H. Judd, director of the school of education of the University of Chicago, discussed the "Results of Teaching," in the liberal arts auditorium at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

"When a child fails in school," Professor Judd said, "it is a sign that there is a problem in that school. It is a false notion that it is the child's fault. When a child fails in the third grade, it is the supervisor's business to find out the reason. Society asks why when we fail numbers of children."

"In the Cleveland survey there is a pronounced increase of failures in the fifth grade. The teachers' explanation may be that there is a pronounced increase in mental incapacity at this point. Whose incapacity? The parents will hardly be willing to agree that it is the mental capacity of the children.

"And we know that children aren't that way. Children don't vary to any marked extent from year to year. If the percentage of failures increases greatly at a certain grade or in a certain school, the teaching, the administration of that school should be investigated. In Cleveland the majority of the failures were on account of arithmetic. Then we say to do just what Cleveland did, change the arithmetic.

"There is a new style of supervision in the world, supervision that knows something about a school system. The handling of children is something progressively cumulative. Let's have surveys, investigations, things that put down in such a way that we'll know the results of our teaching."

GOOD READER CAN BE RAPID

That is Belief of Dr. Judd Expressed at Conference Yesterday

"Tests in Reading," was the subject of the address given by Dr. Charles H. Judd, director of the school of education at the University of Chicago, before the conference yesterday afternoon. Silent reading, as opposed to oral reading, was the theme of the lecture. Statistics were given which proved that the good reader is at the same time the rapid reader.

"Silent reading cannot be taught by teaching the art of oral reading," declared Dr. Judd. "The fourth grade is the turning point in reading and from that time on both quality and rapidity are possible in silent reading. Dr. Judd gave as an example, the city of Cleveland which has made numerous tests along this line. These proved also that the rapid reader is in most cases the best one. In conclusion, the speaker urged that the teachers "cooperate with nature in making clear and definite those operations which make for both

DELAY GIRLS' CONTEST

Best Extemporaneous Speaker Will Be Chosen Some Time Next Week

The contest to decide who is the best extemporaneous speaker among the girls of the university has been postponed until some time next week, according to the news that came from Dean Klingenhagen's office yesterday. The meeting scheduled for last Thursday did not materialize.

Much interest in the contest has been aroused. Any university girl associated with one of the woman's literary societies is eligible for entrance in the competition free of charge, while girls who are not members of one of the societies will be obliged to pay a fee of one dollar in order to enter the contest.

Each speaker must select and prepare one of the eight subjects announced in Thursday's issue of The Iowan. The judges are: Dean Anna Klingenhagen, Prof. George F. Kay, and Assistant Professor Lorin Stuckey. Mary Kinnavey, president of the Women's Forensic league, will preside at the meeting. No definite date has been announced yet.

STUDENT ATHLETIC COUNCIL PLANNED

EIGHT MEN WOULD CONTROL INTER-CLASS CONTESTS

Schroeder Announces Proposition To Stimulate Athletics Inside University

Definite plans are under way for a student athletic council through which the students may have control of the inter-class and inter-department contests and arrange their schedules. It will be organized on a substantial basis and will be perpetual from year to year. Officers will be elected and the governing of all the student contests at Iowa undertaken by the council.

The organization will be composed of eight men—one athletic director from each of the seven colleges and Director E. G. Schroeder. The athletic director from the liberal arts college will be chosen by the class athletic managers and in those colleges in which an athletic manager has not been elected he will be chosen by a vote of the college. These eight men will formulate a set of rules for governing the contests, arrange the schedules, fix rules of eligibility, and settle any disputes which may arise.

The purpose will be to promote athletics for all the students. Only a few students take part in the inter-class and inter-department contests at Iowa, while at Michigan last year over two thousand students engaged in the various contests within the university. Under the new system inter-class and inter-department contests will be held in football, basketball, baseball, indoor baseball, soccer, wrestling, swimming, water polo, or water basketball, tennis, relay and track meets.

In all other colleges and universities, where these contests are held, insignia are awarded the members of the champion team as a reward for their efforts and it is probable that this plan will be carried out here. Each college and class will have its insignia while the members of the winning team will be the only ones awarded by the authorities the other teams may be given honorary insignia by their respective colleges or classes.

GET ENTHUSIASM FOR UNION

History and Purpose of Institution Explained at Mass Meeting Thursday Night

Students who attended the union mass meeting Thursday evening were given a broader insight into the purposes and educational values of the organization than most of them had before. A short history of the Iowa union was given, and also the possibilities before the organization were brought out.

Professor R. B. Wylie, Dean Robert E. Rienow, Sammy Gross and Stanley Hands talked to the enthusiastic crowd which responded to the call and presented the union from both the views of the student and the faculty.

Following the speeches subscriptions were taken for eighty new memberships. The campaign for members will not be dropped here but plans for carrying it on will be discussed at the meeting of the board of directors Sunday.

DRAKE WOMAN BEFORE CLASS

Florence Richardson, head of the department of psychology of Drake university, who is attending the conference of superintendents, spoke before the psychology class on, "The Value of Psychology", at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, in the natural science hall.

GIRLS FLEE TO ESCAPE POSSIBLE QUARANTINE

"I'll tell you what you have in the morning," the doctor informed Phoebe Baxter, sophomore girl at Currier hall, when it appeared that she might have a contagious disease.

Miss Baxter was instructed not to leave her room. According to the story told by her girl friends, however, she and her sister, Bernice, a freshman, slipped down to the telephone when Dean Klingenhagen was absent from the hall, and got into communication with their parents at Red Oak.

The result was that when Dean Klingenhagen returned they were gone. They had hastily assembled some of their belongings and left for home.

LAWS AGAINST CUTTING

Adopt Resolutions Condemning Practice and Propose Committee for Student Control

In special session at 1:45 p. m. Thursday, the law students' association went on record as opposed to concerted cutting of classes. The resolutions presented by the committee were adopted in slightly modified form, after short debate.

In these resolutions the association pledges its support against the recurrence of such a practice as concerted cutting and states that it believes such actions by the students are not in accord with the desired standards of the law college.

The resolutions further provide that in the event they are approved by the faculty a committee consisting of three seniors, two juniors, and one freshman, elected by their respective classes, shall be constituted, to which shall be submitted any future matter of change of schedule or administration, for such action as it deems proper.

The faculty has not as yet been able to meet and consider the matter but several members who have been questioned concerning the proposition have looked upon it in a favorable light.

KARNAK INSTALLED AS A. T. O. CHAPTER

MANY DELEGATES AND ALUMNI MEMBERS ATTEND

Ball Last Night and Formal Banquet Tonight Notable Social Features

The installation of the Karnak club as the Iowa Delta Beta Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega and the conclave of Province III. of that fraternity, was accomplished Thursday and Friday.

The initiation of twenty-four members of the Karnak club was held Thursday, followed by an informal smoker in the evening.

Installed Yesterday.

The installation proper and the first session of the conclave took place yesterday. Last evening the installation ball was given in company A armory. Around the hall, which was decorated in old gold and sky blue, the fraternity colors were latticed pergolas covered with southern smilax. Overhead, streamers of smilax were interlaced. One hundred couples, including conclave delegates and guests from other national fraternities, attended.

The final session of the conclave will be held this morning. The ceremonies will be closed with a formal banquet, given by the Ames and Simpson chapters, to the new chapter and delegates to the conclave.

Large Fraternity.

Alpha Tau Omega is one of the largest college fraternities. It was founded Sept. 11, 1865, at Virginia military institute, the West Point of the south at that time, by Dr. Otis Glazebrook, U. The Karnak club was founded by Howard Y. Williams, who was a member of A. T. O. at Minnesota university, for the purpose of petitioning Alpha Tau Omega.

List of Members.

THE CONFERENCE

The world moves on. Men, in their advancing intelligence, seek new fields of inquiry. In this wise they have reached the field of education, and the last three or four years have seen them digging into it more determinedly than ever looking for the reason for that which has existed before by virtue of inheritance. Will result in much of a revolution. Whether in the end their research will result in wuch of a revolution of educational methods or not remains to be seen. Probably many of the old methods will stand. But if they do, it will be by reason of their proved worth. If these tests and investigations are fairly and intelligently performed, nothing but the best things for civilization can come from them.

In bringing to the administrative heads of the secondary school system the most recent discoveries and ideas on education, the college of education is making itself of practical and immediate service. We hardly expect a great deal to be accomplished in three days, but Dean Jessup and Director Klingaman are demonstrating what a lot of information really can be packed into the time.

LORADO TAFT DRAWS BIG CROWD

Fourteen hundred students and townspeople heard Wednesday night the address of Lorado Taft on, "American Sculpture."

Beginning with the work of Horace Greenough and Hiram Powers, Mr. Taft reviewed all the American sculptors of note from the last half of the nineteenth century up to the present day. A splendid collection of slides was used to show the masterpieces of each artist. The works of Augustus St. Gaudens and Daniel Chester French were particularly emphasized.

Mr. Taft is a delightful lecturer, possessing rare wit and a thoroughly pleasant manner of presentation of the subject in which he is keenly interested.

Perhaps, of all the beautiful pictures thrown on the screen, none was so favorably judged as Mr. Taft's own study for his fountain, depicting the stages of evolution of the life of man.

HOSPITAL CHILDREN TO HAVE CHRISTMAS

The fifty or more children in the university hospital are going to have a merry Christmas, at least as far as the tree and toys and good things to eat go. The Y. W. C. A. girls plan to decorate the tree, and the women of Iowa City have engaged to prepare boxes, so that each child will receive a box with fruit, little glasses of jelly or something of that sort, and playthings, Christmas morning.

The Y. W. girls will also decorate a tree for the older patients in the hospital, and see to it that everyone has a gift. This tree will be enjoyed Christmas eve when the girls will go to the hospital to sing Christmas carols.

SIGMA XI LECTURE JAN. 19

Prof. Gilbert A. Houser announced yesterday that the annual lecture of the Sigma Xi society would be given before the student body Jan. 19. The date is somewhat earlier than usual. For this reason Professor Houser expressed the hope that other university organizations would not have dates conflicting with it.

Sigma Xi, like Phi Beta Kappa, stands for achievement in scholarship.

Mrs. C. B. Wilson, wife of Professor Charles Bundy Wilson, head of the department of German, returned Friday from an extended trip through the eastern states. She has been gone a little over six weeks. While in New York she visited her sisters, one in New York City and the other in Ithaca. The sister living in Ithaca has a prominent position with Cornell university.

Nellie L. Baldwin, a teacher in North high school, Des Moines, is visiting her brother, Frank Baldwin, over Sunday.

STIEHM NOT COMING

Much interest has been shown among Iowa students in the announcement in yesterday's paper that Coach "Jumbo" left Nebraska in order to accept a position as football coach at Wisconsin.

It is certain that the announcement has not given Lincoln to come to Iowa. Negotiations have been conducted between Steihm and the board.

The big German is a Wisconsin and as the new coaching system is undergoing reorganization it is not probable that Stiehm has accepted a position as coach at Marquette.

STIEHM NOT COMING TO IOWA

Much interest has been aroused among Iowa students over the announcement in yesterday's papers that Coach "Jumbo" Stiehm had left Nebraska in order to accept a position as football coach at Iowa or Wisconsin.

"You Have Most Vital Part of Field",
Says President Pearse

"You have the most vital part of the field of education," declared Carroll G. Pearse in his talk at the grade principals' round table.

The first question which was brought up by members of the body was concerning the many little details with which the principals have to contend that take up their time when it should be devoted to larger functions. An interesting discussion as to what should be done to take up the time of the young principal then followed. One of the most interesting points brought out concerned the study which should be made by the instructor in regard to the environments of the pupils and their habits of living.

The method of marking grades and promoting was also discussed, and a very interesting talk was given upon that subject by Mr. Pearse.

TABLES ARE OF LITTLE WORTH
Way To Learn Multiplying is To Multiply, Says Courts

Prof. S. A. Courts, director of efficiency in the Detroit public schools, at the round table for city superintendents, at 3:15, discussed the possibility of controlling development in schools by means of analytical tests. Illustrating with the arithmetic tests used by the Cleveland survey, he showed the lack of uniformity in the reaction of even the adult mind to mathematical problems.

"Only three children out of ten are benefitted by the use of tables," Professor Courts said. "Put before the child the goal and let him choose his own way to find it. He should learn to multiply by multiplying."

STUDENTS!

Several hundred of you will do sales work next summer. Some of you have already considered propositions.

Out of justice to yourself you should not decide on summer work until you have investigated the proposition which has been worked with increasing success for fourteen years, —a proposition at which over thirty thousand men have averaged from 75 cents to $1.25 per hour. It is not a house to house proposition.

See P. A. Garn, Jefferson Hotel, Thursday or Friday, 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., or see L. G. Ackerley, phone Bl. 336, Benj. H. Frank, phone Bl. 332, Don C. Rogers, phone Bl. 1560, G. E. Davis, phone Bl. 484, Stanley Newell, phone Bl. 851, L. F. Austin, phone 866, F. R. Peterson, phone Bl. 549.

Director Schroeder Wants Des Moines Man To Put Finishing Touches on Wrestlers

Director E. G. Schroeder announced yesterday that negotiations are under way to have Jess Reimer of Des Moines coach the wrestling squad the first week after Christmas vacation. While final arrangements have not been completed it is practically certain that the Des Moines man will be the one to instruct the Old Gold squad in the finer points of the grappling game, instead of Frank Gotch or Farmer Burns who were reported a week ago as probable coaches.

Reimer is known to the wrestling world also as Jess Westergaard, and a few years ago was very prominent, wrestling such men as Gotch, Dr. Roller, Cutler, and Ordeman. He stands over six feet and is thoroughly acquainted with the game.

Reimer was here five years ago and refereed the first intercollegiate championship match held at Iowa. He was well liked at that time.

FOUR BASKET GAMES TODAY

Four games in the interclass basketball series will be played off today. The junior liberal arts team will play sophomores at 10 o'clock. At 11, the freshman and senior law teams will play off the second game in the law inter-class contests. The freshman and sophomore teams from the engineering college will take the floor at 3, and at 4 the juniors and
