large school at Singapore to be called the Yellow Jacket. The British government is very liberal in the support of the schools and they take every opportunity to teach the natives the English language. In this respect they are far ahead over the British girls and the Germans who prohibit the use of their tongues by the Malayans.

American Teachers Wanted

At the present time there is great demand for American teachers in the native province, very lightly and rarely as friends. In this respect Britain is far ahead of Britain, for the natives respect the British and their authority. In these they have hopes for their democratic spirit and the sympathy shown by her.

The schools, each of them, are, compare very favorably with the schools of Java; and I think that it will be only a matter of five years until they will be on a par with the English. They are now in the work in the fact that there are no large college buildings present, but plans have been made and work is already started on large college for 1915, while attending a con- ference of missionaries' workers at Hong Kong, he was forced to join the British forces because of an up- rising of some Mohammedan troops quartered in the city. While they were standing on the city walls, Mr. Zimmerman turned and started out to number the white citizens. Mr. Zimmerman earned a British market for three days before the riot was quelled. Thirty members of the Methodist Episcopal conference were with Mr. Zimmerman in this teaching experience.
