BENJAMIN MATHER TAKES FIRST PLACE

TENNIS AND SHAW TAKE SECOND AND THIRD PLACES.

Mother Will Represent Iowa in N. O. C. Contest and Return With Hamilton Club.

Fine honors in the university oratory contest, held last evening in the natural science auditorium, were awarded to Benjamin Mather, of Lausanne, who gave the oration, "The Case of Delinquency in the University," winning first place, and Frank Eicher, of the Northern Oratorical League contest, to be held at Crate, Illinois, on January 14. The prize of $15 and eligibility to the National Oratorical League was awarded to the most favorably rated. Mr. Mather is a member of the junior class in arts, a junior in the liberal arts college, a member of the sophomore class in the branch. The winner of second place and Iowa's representatives in the Hamilton club contest held to be held in Chicago, January 15, was Robert Sawyer, of the natural science auditorium, a member of judging board, and the Hamilton literary club, and the leader of the rating committee and the university debate committee.

That place and honorable mention went to Robert Shaw of Muscugen, who gave the oration, "A Plan for a National Home." He has been a member of the first place in the Northern Oratorical League contest and last year Benjamin Mather received the same honor for his translation of the oratory with the same club.

CHICAGO PROFESSOR HERE MONDAY
Professor William E. Dodd to Speak Before Chicago Student in History

Prof. William E. Dodd of the University of Chicago will be in Iowa City on Monday, February 19, to appear before the conference-seminar of the history department. This meeting will be held at 2:30 in the library of the State Historical society, and Professor Dodd will speak on the subject, "The Southern Background of the Democrats of Independence." Professor Dodd is a native of North Carolina and took his doctor's degree at the University of Leipzig. Since 1888 he has been professor of American history in the University of Chicago. Among his writings are the "Life of Nathaniel Dickson," the "Life of Jefferson Davis," and "Statesmen of the Old South." Besides these studies in Southern American history which is his special field, he has contributed numerous articles to various magazines and reviews.

In addition to the members of the history conference, the members of the staff of the departments of political science and political economy and sociology are invited to attend this conference. All graduate students in these departments are likewise invited to hear this visiting scholar and to participate in the discussions of his topics. Assistant Professor William E. Murphy of the department of history will preside.

In the evening Professor Dodd will be the guest at the fortnightly meeting of the Political Science Club and will read a paper on "Henry Clay, Immigrant, 1811-1843."
