IOWA POET TALKS ON MODERN VERSE

ARTHUR DAVIDSON FICKE TALKS TO UNIVERSITY CLUBS

Davenport Poet Speaks of Present Day Writers and Their Modern Style

"Today men are writing more honestly, more spontaneously, than they have for over twenty-five years," declared Arthur Davidson Ficke, the Davenport poet, Wednesday night in his address on "Modern Tendencies in Poetry," before the members of the Athelny and Readers clubs and the Fine Arts association in the liberal arts assembly.

"Today's writers, as do those of every new generation, revolt against the long-established forms. Their resulting poetry reveals these three chief characteristics: great metrical freedom, hardness of imagery, and absolute shamelessness of content.

"The unfriendly critics," said Mr. Ficke, "call the new poetry 'shredded prose.' At its worst it is an abomination. At its best it is a subtle medium for expressing the emotions that come in broken flashes to the poet."

Furnishes Illustrations

To illustrate the new school of poetry Mr. Ficke read his "Cafe Sketches," consisting of nine mood portrayals of reflecting the atmosphere of the unchanging life of the city cafes at night. The speaker quoted a number of the most characteristic of the modern poems. One of these consisted of the single line,

"Until you came I was I."

Cannot Recommend Them

"On the whole," concluded the speaker, "the works of the modern poets do not recommend them. Their extravagances are silly, yet it must be noted that this free verse has had a most rejuvenating effect and we are, I believe, approaching one of the greatest eras of poetry at the center of which shall be America."

The poet closed by reading from his own works "The Portrait of an Old Woman," "To a Child Twenty Years Hence," "The Gray River", and others.

THE MISSES FULLER IN TWO OF THEIR POSES

McCONNELL AT VESPERS

Joseph J. Mc Connell, Jr., a 1910 graduate of the university who has been engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in India and in France, will speak on some phases of the war in Europe with special reference to the students in Europe at Vesper services in natural science auditorium Sunday at 4 P. M. He comes under auspices of the university young men's and young women's' Christian associations.

LAW TEAM WINS ITS CASE

Having lost a basketball to the engineers, the law team has brought up a legal point and contested the result.

The game was played on February 12. The allegation of the laws is that Ernest Wills, who played at guard for the engineers, was not registered for university work the second semester and, accordingly was not eligible to play.

Judge E. G. Schroeder, having heard their evidence, has decided in favor of the plaintiffs and the engineers will have to play the game again or forfeit it to their discerning opponents. An effort is being made to schedule the game for Monday or Tuesday night.

The Newman club will put on a Folk Frolic Saturday evening at 8 o'clock for its members and friends of the society. The evening's entertainment will be closed by a box supper provided by the girls.

Initiation of the Sigma Delta Chi fraternity, the local honorary journalistic fraternity, was held Thursday evening. The initiates are Leroy Rader, Ralph I. Colvin, Homer Roland, and Edward B. Mayer.

At the last business meeting of the fraternity, held last week, new officers were elected for the year as follows: Frank Van Nostrand, president; Albert E. Hilliard, vice president; Harold Chamberlain, secretary, and Keith Hamill, treasurer.

IOWA LOSES TO MINNESOTA BY 21 TO 13 SCORE

GOPHERS TAKE HOME THE BACON IN LAST BASKETBALL GAME OF THE 1916 SEASON ON HAWKEYE FLOOR

The handicap of height and weight, working to the advantage of the Minnesota team, proved too much for the Hawkeyes in their game of Wednesday night and they were defeated 21 to 13. Iowa kept the gophers on the defensive, however, during the first half and had the long end of a 12 to 10 score.

Each team seemed content at the opening to play on the defensive, sizing up the other's strength while making occasional jabs at the basket. Bannick was the first to start things. He shot a pretty one from the center of the floor. Connell of Minnesota came back with two and his teammate, Douglas, followed with a lucky one from out in the center of things.

In the second the strain of dragging the Minnesota men around the floor and playing a fast game in addition began to tell on the Hawkeyes. There were murmurs in the crowd that Hoffman, referee, was failing to see the most atrocious holding on the part of the Gophers. The Minnesota pack horses were still lively and they soon took the lead and increased it steadily. Iowa substitutions failed to stop them. Iowa got only one point, that being on a free throw.

A summary of the game follows:

Substitutions: Laun for Dutton; Beyer for K. Von Lackum. Baskets: Bannick 4, K. Von Lackum 1, Lewis 1, Connell 5, Drew 1, Douglas 2. Baskets on fouls: Von Lackum 3 out of 3 attempts; Lewis 3 out of 4 attempts.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE CAMPUS

The Episcopal students of the university will have a "mixer" Saturday evening in the tower room of Close Hall. Dr. Norris A. Brisco of the department of political economy and sociology will address them on "The Need of Cooperation in Church Work."

The Outlook club met Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. C. W. Wassam. Robert E. Reinow, adviser of men, read a paper on "Student Problems". The Reverand Mr. Townsend, university pastor for the Methodist church, led the discussion.

Announcement of the courses for the summer session will be issued by the university editor early next week.

Thirty of the artists whose works are now being shown in the exhibit presented by the Iowa City Fine Arts association are listed in "Who's Who" officers of the association have discovered to their satisfaction. There are only forty three artists represented.

A cosmopolitan affair declared by the guests to have been one of the happiest ever held was the masquerade frolic at Currier hall Tuesday evening when the girls of the east wing entertained the girls of the west wing in the parlors downstairs. Everybody was in costume, and the variety furnished endless merriment for an evening of entertainment. were guests of the Eastern Star lodge at the Colonial party Tuesday evening at the Masonic temple.

Dorothy Ross, liberal arts senior, is confined to the university hospital suffering from an abscess of the ear.

James Shonka, a janitor in the medical building of the university, was found dead at the foot of the winding stairs on Jan. 22, 1915. The Shonka family claimed compensation for his death under the terms of the new compensation law. Yesterday Industrial Commissioner A. B. Funk, here from Des Moines, heard the petition for compensation. The state opposed the claim on the ground that Shonka committed suicide.

Prof. Lorin Stuckey will address the student Sunday school class at the English Lutheran church Sunday at 9:30 a. m. His subject is "Social Efficiency." All members and others are earnestly requested to attend.

The next bulletin of the school of commerce wil be ready after April 1.

COBURN PLAYERS COMING AGAIN

The Readers club announced Thursday that the Coburn players have been engaged for another series of outdoor performances. The dates fixed are May 29 and 30. The Coburns will present in evening performances "The Merchant of Venice" and "The Tempest", and at a matinee "The Taming of the Shrew". An arrangement for season tickets will be made so that every one may see the entire series for the moderate of last year.

"The technical training which I received through laboratory work in psychology has proved of inestimable value to me in my professional career," is the tribute which Dean Carl E. Seashore has received from H. H. Gould who is now with an advertising firm in Chicago. Mr. Gould took two years of graduate work in the psycology of advertising after completing the undergraduate course.

"Equal Suffrage from a Social Viewpoint," is the subject upon which Dr. G. G. Benjamin, professor of history in the university, will address the Unitarian Men's Club at Davenport, Sunday, Feb. 27.

The young people of the Baptist church will give a leap year party Saturday evening. All their friends are invited.

Iowa's rifle team shot a score of 991 against the Naval Academy February 26. This is the highest count made to date. The individual scores are: Ingham, 200; Martin, 199; Hammer, 199; Oehler, 198; Wilcox, 195.

Prof. E. D. Starbuck will give two lectures on March 3 at the N. I. T. A. "Thinking in Terms of Objects", and "The Worth of a Child." Saturday morning he will adress the Parent-Teachers association on the subject, "Just Entering Manhood and Womanhodd." Dr. W. A. Jesup will talk before the teachers on Saturday, and E. J. Ashbaugh will talk on "Standard Tests and Scales."

A joint programme is being prepared by the Philo-Octave literary societies to be given at Close Hall next week, Friday evening.

The regular meeting of Baconian club will be held in Physics hall Friday, February 25, at 7:30 p. m. Dr. R. B. Syvester will read the paper of the evening on the subject "Some Remediable Speech Defects." This paper will embrace a report of two years' study and treatment of cases of speech defect in the Psychological clinic of the university. The public is cordially invited.

"ALL OF A SUDDEN PEGGY" HEP PLAY

"All-of-a-Sudden Peggy" is the name of the play which has been chosen for presentation by the Hesperian and Zetagathian literary societies at the Englert theatre the last week in March.

The following cast has been chosen:

Peggy, Prudence Heberling.
Lady Crackenthorpe, Margaret Musseter.
Millicent, Mary Huebner.
Mrs. O'Mara, Marjory Peters.
Jimmy, George Murray.
Mrs. Calquhoun, Charlotte Weaver.
Jack Menzies, Arlan Wilson.
Lord Crackenthorpe, Wm. Veatch.
Parker-Lucas, Ralph Griffin.
Major Archie Phips, Earl Dorfner.

Miss Blanche Bloom of Chicago is coaching the players. Work has already been started and will be carried rapidly forward.

EDWIN D. STARBUCK

The following ode was read at the gathering of the members of the Philosophical Club Sunday night in honor of the fiftieth birthday of Professor Edwin D. Starbuck.

EDWIN D. STARBUCK
HIS FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY
By E. Leigh Mudge

Like to an oak upon some forest hill,
Lifting its head in Jovian dignity,
Yet with a deep heart, friendly, warm, and true,
Welcoming to its shade the old and young,
Children, and lovers, and sweet singing birds,
Stands in mid-season prime this genial man.
Among the high immensities he dwells,
Yet not afar from men. His eye is keen
For those minutenesses of being which
Exalt, expand, and dignify man's place
Among the cosmic forces; yet he is
A friend of man, the average, common man.
He sees beneath pathetic weaknesses
The promise and the potency of life:
Like Browning, sees life whole, and men aspiring,
Moved by a mighty, inward, upward urge.
A balanced soul, a psychic symmetry,
A life of power, yet poised - this rare achievement
Approximates this man; keen analyst,
Yet open-minded to the unseen things,
The deep ineffables of the universe,
The soundless deeps beyond all human plummets;
Alike an artist [illegible] a scientist;
Alike a prophet and philosopher;
With equal love for virtue, truth, and beauty.
But recently, some fifty years ago,
Began his buoyant youth, not yet outgrown,
A spirit born of gentle, friendly blood,
In whom a love for righteousness and truth
Grew to a passion, a red tide of courage,
Which by the love of beauty was restrained
And thus made doubly powerful. In this spirit
Long may he live to lead the souls of youth
In fertile fields of virtue, beauty, truth.

Read What the Critics Say

"Shudders and laughs close together run into one long tremor— that's the effect of seeing 'A Submarine Pirate.' Its melodrama is so funny that one can't merely thrill, and its comedy is so exciting that one can't merely laugh."—N. Y. Sun.

"A sensational film, 'A Submarine Pirate,' is the chief attraction at the Knickerbocker Theater this week."—N. Y. Eve. Post.

"The new Triangle-Keystone comedy, 'A Submarine Pirate', is one of the most amusing films of the season. It is thrilling as well, for it sets a new limit in stunts."—N. Y. Tribune.

See a real Submarine in action; See a Liner actually sunk by a torpedo. Nothing but excitement and Fun. Everything is in this picture to make it highly amusing.

We especially urge parents to allow their children to see this marvelous educational comedy. The government loaned a U. S. Submarine to the Keystone Co to produce this picture. Send them Friday after school.

SPECIAL MUSICAL PROGRAM ARRANGED BY THE AMERICAN THEATRE ORCHESTRA

The Philo-Octave literary society will dance Saturday evening in their hall.

The second acquatic exhibition of the men's physical training department of the university will be given Thursday, March 2. Each fraternity has been asked to enter a swimmer.

Parrot strengthened his hold on the feather-weight position in the 1916 wrestling squad when he won the decision over Harvey Hindt in a ten minute match. He won on points.

Frank L. Wheeler, assistant instructor in physical training, is finishing off his gymnasium team in preparation for the third annual state meet, at Decorah March 14. Teams from Grinnell, Ames, Cedar Falls, Drake, and Luther will also participate. Captain Henry Bender, Milton Stadt, Paul Bender, Frank Kriz, and Rudolph Jordan represent Iowa.

Persons who failed to attend the recital given by the Zoellner string quartette in the natural science auditorium Tuesday evening missed an opportunity to hear fine music. It was evident from the apreciation expressed by those who did attend that the efforts of these artists were of no ordinary kind.

"Arguing with Bob" is the name of a little, but seemingly popular bulletin issued by the publicity committee of the Classical association of the Middle west and South of which Professor C. H. Weller is chairman. The other members of the committee are Prof. J. E. Harry, Cincinnati university, and Prof. Bechtel of Tulane university.

Three editions of "Arguing with Bob" have been published, fifteen thousand copies in all, and orders have come in from every state in the union calling for from one to four hundred copies of the bulletin.

"Arguing with Bob" has to do with the study of Greek and Latin. It is written in dialogue form and is an argument between father and son as to whether he should study Latin or Greek in high school.
