Cyrenians Fail to Stop Scarlet - Featured by Hungry in Final 12-10 Season

State Gym: Amos Iowa, Special to the Daily Iowan. The University of Iowa nutrient the perpetuity of the season long struggle for basketball winning the final game of the schedule for both teams by a score of 23 to 12. Not since Iowa has Iowa won over the University.

The game was the last in a series of Iowa State University games, each team polling on the other the entire season. The contest was expected to be a hard-fought battle, each squad, most of having been canned, stopped and out-numbered. The Hawkeyes had the upper hand in the early going. With their early possession of the football they were able to score a goal for quick victory. Early in the contest they had the printer that Alice’s away from the Cyrenians. Iowa scored from the goal line and then allowed a little way into safety getting rid of their back alley.

The Iowa State press was very la tile hotel is scene of program tonight.

Judge Macale and Russell Parrish will preside at the After Dinner Speakers.

Many ailments and former students of the university attended the banquet of the University of Iowa at the hotel in lovely Chicago for Friday night. President Macale, Judge Martin J. Welsh, and Russell Parrish were the after dinner speakers.

Edward H. Johnson, 1904, was elected president to succeed Edward Hare 1908.

Prominent among those who attended were Charles R. Denison, president of the city; Edward H. Johnson, 1904, Russell Parrish, 1917; Carlos Johnson, 1904, and the late Robert H. Johnson, 1911, all members of the dining committee.

The reception committee included the following man, G. C. Gown, Dr. John McNally, 1901, Mr. Jacob Stebbins, Mrs. N. C. Cullen, 1901, Mrs. E. M. Fullen, 1901, Mrs. E. M. Hutton, 1901, Mrs. H. B. Fullen, 1901, Dr. John McNally, 1901, Judge Martin J. Welsh, 1901, and Russell Parrish 1901.

President Macale is enthusiastically supporting the band and has a band for a concert Thursday night. He commands the best of the whole student body.

The problem of lighting must be solved through the science of the problem by means as well as through the grand Dr. Edward H. Hyde, director of the music research laboratory of the University, opened an address to the students Monday night. He said that "the lighting in music has become a science." In the beginning it is weird, "let there be light." He said that by 1905.

Dr. Hyde reviewed briefly the development of the science of siientific light and sound, and decried the efficiency of various kinds of lamps. He explained the problem of evolving a new type of the new gas burn. He said that it was the only method of lighting. Dr. Hyde showed the students the various apparatus used in the laboratory. The phone lamp is in the early stages. The color given to the ray may be changed. He showed how to buy some new instruments and he was shown to share our appreciation to the past years of giving our support to the concert.

AT LAST! A PERFECT SERIES

The Fifteen Episodes of

"The Strange Case of Mary Page"

THE STORY

A Gripping Mystery Tale, A Thrilling Drama of Big Moments and Gasp-Bringing Thrills

Each episode is a complete feature. To enjoy the second episode you need not see the first.

But none who views the second will miss any of those that follow.

A skillfully wrought play about a beautiful actress accused of murder.

THE PRODUCTION

More than five hundred thousand dollars will be spent by the Essanay Company before the Strange Case of Mary Page reaches the screen. Miss Mayo's elaborate gowns were designed by Lady Duff Gordon (Lucile). The Essanay name guarantees direction of philosophy-meaning.

A complete portrayal of stage-life behind the scenes.

A massive restaurant and cabinet setting.

A mad motor car chase through Central Park, New York.

A heart-wrenching situation showing the branding of Mary Page and her frenzied flight in her night robe, as she seeks safety in the woods.

Fights that ARE fights.

Death-defying deeds.

Mystery, intrigue and a startling denouement.

THE CAST

Henry B. Walthall, the most finished actor in motion pictures, the hero of "The Birth of a Nation," will play the leading role. As the attorney in The Strange Case of Mary Page he has the greatest part of his career. Edna Mayo, beautiful, appealing, is the well remembered heroine of "The Blindness of Virtue," "The Dishonored Lady," and "The Smuggler," in Mary Page. She is a splendid actress. This insures acting of the highest type.
