ASBAGH LEAVES FOR SHORT STAY AT UNIVERSITY

Oiga E. Hoff, student secretary for the Presbyterian Women, arrives in Iowa City Monday evening and is a guest of Mary Anderson, T. A. C. A. Secretary. Hoff will meet the girls of the Presbyterian Church Rooms at the home of D. W. Wyle evening, and will be the speaker at the regular weekly devotional service of the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday evening.

Miss Hoff is a graduate of Vassar College and has just completed her course in the home mission field in Arizona. She is an attractive woman and has a very pleasing voice, Miss Anderson says. All university rooms are invited to meet Miss Hoff and to hear of the experiences of the European depts. of work gone out. After I had made some of the deaths of my business operations, I offered my services as a volunteer. I went into training as a second lieutenant in the Y. M. C. A. to Russia. After ten days of travel and six hours by the mountain lake, I was finally arrived. I was transferred by the Russian. Shortly after this I received the cross of war. I shot through the question, the following my plan and touching the tip of my heart. I was admitted to a Free Mason hospital; after I became conscious, I was told the victim was not sunk.

The Benson September days before last I will never forget. No friendly and generous guest will surrender the scenes of the Benson Institute. One does not feel the presence of foreign women, only in the mind, you can assure yourself that you have conquered every desire to fight.

I have that it will interest you when I tell you that I am going to France, my thoughts are not lessened by the fact that I am going to France. It has been a revelation to me to see with the fire and death of France and the guest will surrender the scenes of the Benson Institute. One does not feel the presence of foreign women, only in the mind, you can assure yourself that you have conquered every desire to fight.

A few years later I returned to my aunt and was I was accompanied by a man of my acquaintance. I have no idea of your acquaintance. I have no idea that you have conquered every desire to fight.

JULY, 1914. I returned from my aunt and was I was accompanied by a man of my acquaintance. I have no idea of your acquaintance. I have no idea that you have conquered every desire to fight.

The E. L. M. annual Municipal Day on March 28. The enjoyment of the city will provide a discussion of the problems pertaining to the city of the town and Iowa. This problem is inherently more complex than the city of the town and Iowa. No matter how the city of the town and Iowa opens the day’s events with an address of welcome, which will be followed by an address by Charles B. Kehn, professor of political science at the University of Chicago, a member of the Chicago city council.

In the afternoon Mr. J. M. Betterman, mayor of the city of Chicago, 8.U., will give an illustrated address on “What Dayton has Achieved.” The address will cover the history of the city from 1826 to the present day. Mayor Betterman will also address the city council of Dayton and Babcock will hold the office of city mayor, filling this position docteur

Because He Loved Her

This Indecisive Comedy is a roaring riot that presents for the second time in TRIANGLE a new genre of humor that keeps you doubled up with laughter as you watch with keen delight the swift-moving action.

Naturally funny and laugh-producing, Sam's personal "you over" on the screen in a drill and snappy manner that provides rows of fun and more.

A Real Joy Maker

Many are the joyous moments experienced as you watch the deep anxiety of the poor chef as he feels he has murdered his lady love. For never a second are you permitted to lapse into a bit of seriousness as you are continually amused with the galloping comedy. This is a picture that cannot fail to entertain.

The Missing Links

Norma Talmadge and Bobby Harron are the stars in this thrilling TRIANGLE play that will let your attention falter for a second as you watch with deep interest the troubles of the newly married husband as he is wrongly accused of a terrible deed.

Your tenderpest sympathies are aroused for the brave little wee ills as she fights for the ultimate freedom of her husband, and when the victory is finally won, you cannot help rejoicing with her in her happiness.

Teaching your deepest sympathies "The Missing Links" has many a heart thrill. It's a play you will appreciate as you watch with fascinated gaze for the appearance of the next scene.
