BLITZ! SOON READY FOR PRESS

First of Spring Workings Is Executed Now on Iowa Field

Images are morning ground on Iowa's athletic field this morning, it was announced, and the time that had been spent in trying to get them was in vain. It was found that the men who had been working on them were not doing the job properly, and was immediately brought to the attention of the authorities. The men were then given an opportunity to try their hand at the work, and were immediately put to work on the job.

Take a Saturday Evening Post Please

The Chicago, Milwaukee and the Ladies Home Journal are the most popular magazines in the reading rooms of the Iowa State students, with "The American Magazine" and "The Purdue University" next in the list. The "New York Times" and "The Saturday Evening Post" are the favorite periodicals in the library.

How do the tastes of university students differ from those of the general public?

A popular writer recently said that the tastes of university students were not those of the general public, and that the difference was due to the education of the students. However, a careful study of the records of the students at the University of Iowa shows that the tastes of the students are not so different from those of the general public.
