The Daily Iowa
Students are often quoted as saying. "Do nothing, be nothing, then you will escape criticism." This old saying is one of those which are doing the most and doing it is a reputation maker. Analyze the person who boasts of never being criticized and you'll find nothing. Some persons, to escape criticism, often a middle course; first catering toward this side, then leaning toward the other. They call it tact, it is really moral cowardice.

Why criticism does not pay.
A graduate of the University of Minnesota recently told in the annual publication of the university of a statement made in the freshman medical class by Dr. A. B. Schulman. It had to do with criticism and we believe he does the Minnesota alumni that it should be perpetuated. He tells the story as follows:

"Dr. Schulman came into the amphitheater, spoke the question on the board, turned to the class and said: "Confidence, there are no questions to be answered. As I have other work to do I am going to leave you to yourselves, trusting to your honor not to crib. As far as I am concerned it is immaterial whether you crib or not, but I want to impress you just one thing: You can't eat at the solitude."

Yesterday's Sandwich Sunday

If smoking interferes with your business don't give up either — it simply means that you're not smoking the right tobacco.

Now, Tuxedo is heavily charged with just the spark, sparkle and pep you need to fit you to walk right up to your business cares and dispose of 'em like a curly wolph disposes of a lamb.

Tuxedo is the right brand for the man who wants the full flavor and rich richness of Burley leaf — and that brisk, stick-step animation you puff through a pipe stem when "Tux" is in the bowl. And it's the right brand for the man who wants to smoke shorter than once in a while.

If you have difficulty with "Tux" create into it all the original "Tuxedo Process," used only in Tuxedo, takes all the bite and parch out of the leaf and leaves it mild, smooth and pleasant.
