HARD SCRIMMAGE RESULTS IN TIE BETWEEN ELEVENS

VARSITY AND SCRUBS EACH MAKE ONE TOUCHDOWN IN SHORT TUSSLE.

Mendenhall and Scott in Varsity Backfield Gain Most Ground and Davis Shows up for Seconds Both on Offensive and Defensive.

Real scrimmage, the first of the year, with the honors about even between the first team and the second was the workout which Coach Jones handed his football squad on Iowa field last evening. At the end of about fifteen minutes of rough work the men were thoroughly tired out and each team had scored one touchdown.

Dummy Line Scrimmage

The afternoon's work started with a promising drill for the forwards in dummy scrimmage. Most of the line candidates were given a chance to show what they could do, and Becker, from the second squad, was given a place at center with the varsity for several minutes. With the linemen engaged in tearing up each other and the varsity forwards opening up holes in the scrub line which were big enough to drive a wagon through, Jones got his halfbacks and behind-the-line candidates together for a drill in forward passing and grabbing the ball on the run.

After taking the dummy scrimmage as an appetizer, the men were sent through brisk signal practice, for which four full teams were lined up. The appearance of headguards put a little anticipation into the men and into the few spectators who had wiggled past Jimmy at the gate or who had climed over the fence, and shortly after 5 o'clock the varsity

ART EXHIBITION IS NOW ASSURED

WORK OF BEST ARTIST WILL BE SHOWN HERE IN MARCH OR APRIL

Iowa City will have an art exhibition again next spring.

This became assured when the executive board of the Iowa City Fine Arts association in a meeting last night at the home of Miss Mary E. Moon voted to close an arrangement with the American Federation of Arts for another collection of pictures.

The paintings to be brought here will be selected from a collection of the works of the best artists. They will come here after having been shown in Chicago during November and December.

The dates for the exhibition were not settled. They will be fixed in accordance with the general plan of the Federation for showing the pictures outside Chicago. It is likely, however, that the time will be in March or April.

Last year the pictures were shown in the rooms of the Commercial club, and the number of visits of Iowa City people and students established a new record for similar events. Officers of the association feel confident that the next exhibition will reveal even greater interst. They believe that their efforts to give the city the beneficial experience of seeing good pictures will have proved their value.

Definite plans for the important event are for the time being in the hands of the secretary, Prof. H. L. Dodge. More definite announcements will come from him later.

PAUL MEADE WINNER $100 COX PRIZE

Paul Meade of Iowa City wins this year the Cox prize of $100 on his thesis entitled, "The effect of power factor on the operation of the Tirill regulator." Announcement of the result was made yesterday by Dean W. C. Raymond of the college of engineering.

Mr. Meade was graduated from the course in engineering last spring. Before that he carried on an independent investigation in electrical engineering, which furnished the material for his prize-winning thesis. The thesis was presented last June. It was only recently, however, that the judges finished their comparison of the theses presented and decided that Mr. Meade's was the best.

The prize is given by Arthur J. Cox, civil engineer of the class of 1891 and a graduate of the law school in 1895. He established it as a memorial to his father, Thomas J. Cox.

NO IOWA STUDENT HAS WRITTEN SONG

CHICAGO ALUMNI ARE DISAPOINTED—COMPOSITIONS MUST BE IN BY OCT 1.

Chicago Alumni and officials at the University are disoppointed because among the dozen contestants entered in the University Song Contest there is not one of Iowa's 3,000 students. Most of the entrants are alumni and former students.

Compositions must be in the hands of President W. A. Jessup before October 1 if they are to be considered for the award of $250 which the University of Iowa Alumni Club of Chicago has offered to anyone who will produce a satisfactory Iowa song, including both words and music. The song will be used on general university occasions.

The winning song must be acceptable to a committee of the Chicago alumni, who reserve the right to reject any and all compositions. The committee also reserves the right to award a portion of the money for either the words or the music. Names of the judges have not yet been announced.

WAR SHOWS NEED FOR NEW COURSES

CHEMICAL AND MECHANICAL ENGINEERING MAY BE COMBINED IN FIVE YEARS.

To meet the needs shown by the European war, a new course in chemical engineering has been started this year in the college of applied science.

Four years are required to train a chemist and the same length of time is needed to train a mechanical engineer. The new course aims to combine the training so as to make the graduate both chemical engineer and mechanical engineer in five years. The students will make at least two trips of inspection to chemical or metallurigcal works and will do considerable summer reading and laboratory work.

The chemistry department has more calls for men than it can fill.

Hulda Robertson, who was called to her home in Hutchinson, Kansas, last week by the death of her brother, returned to school this week.

W. R. Boyd of Cedar Rapids and Thomas Lambert of Sabula, members of the financial committee of the state board of education, are in Iowa City today.

FOUR CONCERTS BY VAN DOREN'S MEN THIS YEAR

THREE WILL BE GIVEN BY THE BAND, THE OTHER BY THE ORCHESTRA.

Season Tickets Are Now on Sale at One-half the Price of Regular Admission—Best Material Ever, Says Van Doren.

Four concerts will be given during the coming winter by the University band and orchestra for which season tickets are now on sale at $1.00. Single admissions to these will be fifty cents each, so that holders of season tickets will be able to make a saving of one-half the regular price.

Three of the concerts will be given by the band and the other by the orchestra. The band concerts will come on Tuesday, November 21; Tuesday, January 23; and Thursday, March 27, and the orchestra entertainment on Thursday, March 1.

"The best material I have ever had is now trying out for positions on the band," said Prof. O. E. Van Doren yesterday. "There will be from fifty to sixty members chosen for the places, many of whom are musicians from last year's band. The orchestra will also be one upon which the student body may look with pride."

The concert which was given by the band last year in the natural science auditorium received much praise. In fact, it was so good that Professor Van Doren was asked to repeat the same program a few weeks later. At both concerts every seat in the auditorium was filled.

STUCKEY DISCOVERS MANY MORE MOUNDS

A proclivity to discover Indian mounds which has long been possessed by Prof. Lorin Stuckey, teacher of anthropology in the university, has blossomed once more—in this instance 400 times. Professor Stuckey has discovered 400 mounds situated in Johnson county not far from Lone Tree near the Iowa river. Many of them have never been opened and he expects to explore them to gather archeological material for use in anthropology work.

The mounds are located on a comparitively small area of high ground overlooking the river, and face to the east toward the rising sun. They were used for burial purposes, according to all exterior indications, and in them Professor Stuckey would expect to find some bones, household implements, weapons of war, and other things which the Indians buried with their dead. Across the river and on lower ground Professor Stuckey also found twenty or thirty fire mounds.

Prof. C. H. Weller, who was with Professor Stuckey when the discovery was made, is interesting himself in the find also, and expects to take some pictures of this unusually large group of mounds.

The southern part of the county is not the only place close to Iowa City where Indian mounds are found. Classes in anthropology have an excellent field in which to work just a short distance north of the city along the river bank on the high ground cross from the city park. Four or five miles farther north along the stream mounds also abound in considerable numbers. Most of these north of the city, if not all of them, have been opened, however.

Max Houghton, former Iowa football man, will be athletic coach and trainer at Caldwell, Idaho, this year.

Mary E. Rice, sophomore in liberal arts, is ill in her room at Currier hall.

ROOMS LEFT OVER TO HOUSE STUDENTS

In spite of the increase in attendance at the university this year of 200 men and women over the same time last year, students have not been pressed to find rooms in Iowa City homes and everyone coming to the university has been able to secure satisfactory rooming quarters. At least 200 rooms remain unoccupied and are listed at the Y. M. C. A. as still being for rent, according to Secretary Guy V. Aldrich.

Last year the students had arrived in Iowa City there were still quarters left to care for more. This year rooms were available for 900 men. Most of them were clean and desirable, while perhaps a fourth of them were found to have drawbacks of more or less consequence.

Houses close to the campus were the first to be filled and are crowded most, according to Mr. Aldrich.

Twelve new student houses which have been built this year account partially for the fact that there has been more than room enough for everyone.

MAY SEND RIFLE TEAM TO FLORIDA

CAPTAIN MUMMA TRYING TO GET CADET TEAM TO NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Efforts to send a rifle team from the University of Iowa to the national tournament to be held in Jacksonville, Florida, in October are being made by Capt. Morton C. Mumma, commandant of cadets. Captain Mumma recently conferred with Adjutant General Logan in Des Moines regarding the matter. A fund of $1,061 is available to send a team to represent Iowa. One team will be chosen from the militia on the border and the other will be either a civilian or cadet team. All expenses of the men except their sustenance will be borne by the government.

The trip would make it necessary for the men to be away for two weeks, and it might not be possible to get them released from their regular work for that length of time.

Iowa has long had exceptionally high standing on its rifle teams. A national championship came to the team when Captain Mumma was here as commandant before and in the following years the teams have been consistently in the first rank.

HARRIET TULLIS SERIOUSLY HURT

ACCIDENTALLY STUCK FOUNTAIN PEN IN HER OWN EYE YESTERDAY

Harriet F. Tullis of West Liberty, sophomore liberal arts student, is the victim of an extremely serious and painful accident inflicted by sticking a fountain pen in her own eye yesterday morning during one of her class periods. Examination by Dr. L. W. Dean at the University Hospital yesterday disclosed the fact that, had the wound been a very small fraction nearer the eye-ball, she would have been permanently blinded. Present indication are that sight will be restored, should no further complications arise.

Florence Lichty, Delta Zeta, has been compelled to quit school on account of ill health. She has returned to her home in Waterloo.

Walter Elliott, a student in the law college two years ago, has returned to complete his course here after a year in the University of Michigan.

SWIMMING POOLS OPENED TUESDAY AT GYMNASIUMS

EXAMINATION OF MEN TO START AT ONCE BY DIRECTOR SCHROEDER.

Instruction in Swimming Will Begin For Women at Soon as Physical and Medical Exams are Finished.

From today on swimming will be a much patronized form of exercise. Director E. G. Schroeder announced yesterday that the pool for men would be open from 2 to 6 today and each day hereafter. Alice Wilkinson Bates announced that swimmers would be admitted to the pool in the women's gymnasium promptly at 3:10 and 3:40 today and each day but Sunday hereafter.

In the men's gymnasium elementary swimming classe will be held from 2:30 to 3, and the experienced swimmers will be obliged to give up the shallow end of the pool to classes during this period.

Swimming examinations will begin today. Director Schroeder hopes to have a record by the end of the week of how many university men are able to swim forty yards. Swimmers will not be allowed to take swimming instead of physical training of the land kind.

In the women's gymnasium instruction in swimming will be sceduled for beginners as soon as medical and physical examinations are completed.

Mrs. Bates has called attention to the fact that the receipt for the gymnasium fee must be presented at the main office before a locker is assigned Swimmers must provide themselves with bathing caps. Plain caps are recommended as more serviceable. The gymnasium supplies suits, which are secured from the matron's office on the lower floor.

FLORENCE TEAGER CHOSEN ON BOARD

LEWIS P. HOLT ELECTED CIRCULATION MANAGER TO SUCCEED HAMIL, RESIGNED.

Florence Teager, senior liberal arts student, was nominated by the board of trustees of the Daily Iowan last evening to fill the vacancy left by Carroll Martin as senior member of the board. Mr. Martin resigned his position at the beginning of the school year, after having accepted a position with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company at Akron, Ohio, for the coming year.

Miss Teager was a candidate for the position at the election last fall, being defeated by a small margin. Her nomination was approved by President Walter A. Jessup last evening and she will take up her duties on the board at once.

Holt Circulation Manager.

Lewis P. Holt, junior in the school of commerce, was chosen as circulation manager to succeed W. Keith Hamill who resigned the position yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hamill was unable to find time for the work which he had, as well as his freshman law course. Mr. Holt has had a great deal of experience in newspaper work both on the editorial and circulation departments, having been connected with the Trenton (Missouri) Daily Tribune as city editor and circulation manager before entering the university.

Alpha Chi Omega will hold open house for all fraternities Sunday afternoon.

UP TO THE STUDENTS

The Daily Iowan admires Coach Jones for the way in which he has secured secret practice for the Hawkeye football team and yet at the same time has put the blame so squarely upon the shoulders of the students that there is no escaping it.

Coach Jones says that as soon as the Iowa students perfect an organizaion which will make their identification possible at the gate to the field, in order that none but students may get into the sacred precincts of the gridiron, then the field will be thrown open to them and they will be permitted to attend practice in force and cheer the team. However, in the present stage of practice, Jones can not permit the gates to the field to remain open to everyone.

Without aiming to cast and reflection on Coach Jones, the Iowan is still not sure but that he believes he will be safely rid of the students for the rest of the year and will not have to worry about them in the future; that he believes he has effectually secured secret practice and need concern himself no more about it; that Iowa students do not care enough about watching their football team to go to the trouble of organizing to get into practice.

Whether this be right or wrong, it is nevertheless up to the students at the university to indicate their loyalty to the new coach, or the team, and to the entire squad by showing that they are interested, now that they have been given the opportunity, in getting onto the football field and cheering the men in their work. A live bunch of rooters on hand each afternoon might prove the inspiration to the players that would mean the dicerence between a good football team and a bad one.

It has been said that "Iowa Fights;" that there is a great deal of school spirit at Iowa. On the other hand it is often alleged that when it comes to doing something for their school, students at the state university sidestep a chance just as quickly as they can.

This is an opportunity for Iowa students to indicate pretty clearly one way or the other.

MORE ABOUT YEAR TICKETS

It might be of interest to the students at the University to Iowa to know tha hey are he only ones in the conference who are favored by their athletic department with the first choice of reserved seats at the big football games of the year. In all other conference schools the students holding year tickets are compelled to take their seats in the poorer sections, or dig down in their pockets for the necessary two dollars to purchase a seat in the center sections.

In giving the students at Iowa the special privilege of having first choice before all others, Manager Kellogg believes he is merely doing his duty to the student body, upon whom he must depend for financial aid in carrying on the work of the athletic department. Most universities are situated in a large city where the support of athletics comes to a large extent from the residents. Here, however, where the students are the main support of the team, the price of the athletic tickets has been placed at a figure which will allow every student to attend every football game, track meet, wrestling match, and every baseball game at a price which is less than the football admissions alone would cost. Thus, it is expected that every student purchase a ticket and be on hand at every game with all the pep he can get together to help cheer the teams to victory.

With the first game less than two weeks away the entire student body should support a most worthy cause by purchasing a year ticket which will afford them more enjoyment for their money than any other thing which that same amount will purchase. Get your ticket today.

STUDENTS MAY HAVE MAIL AT POST OFFICE

Because of the great irregularity which some students experience early in the year in getting their mail, the Daily Iowan prints this week for their benefit the list of advertised letters made up at the post office. COMMERCIAL MUSEUM GETS GRAPE NUTS EXHIBITION

"There's a reason" grape-nuts are now exhibited in the University's commercial museum in all stages of manufacture.

The cereal begins as little grains of barley in their original state. A grain of each is ground up and put into the dough mixer with other grains. The dough is molded into loaves and baked in huge ovens with a capacity of 28,000 loaves a day. Slices of the bread are dried in ovens, then ground into small granules.

The exhibit comes from the largest pure food factory in the world.

TOWNSEND IS RETURNED

The Upper Iowa Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church held at Waterloo returned to the university Rev. L. F. Townsend, the present student pastor of that denomination at the university, and Rev. Townsend will continue during the present year in the service which he has been rendering to the Methodist members of the student body.

Enter the Rough Stuff

The game was run off with all the eclat of a championship contest. The umpire for the occasion was Mr. Nelson A. Kellogg, (trumpets sound off stage) and the head linesman was Mr. Earl W. Denio (more trumpets) Coach Jones permitted the varsity to receive the kickoff at the south end of the field.

Wyland gave the ball a good boot to Triplett, who didn't have much luck on the return and was downed about where the thirty yard line ought to be. Mendenhall pulled two good runs to start the action, but Hammond in trying to negotiate left end hit a tartar in Davis and lost ground. Laun was back to kick and booted a good one to Jenkins, who made a fair return and a fast one.

Seconds Have Success

The scrubs ripped things up momentarily, and with Wyland, Berrian, and Davis in action made first down once and almost another time. The ball was kicked short to Bannick, who fell on it at the forty yard line. Again the varsity failed to gain and Laun kicked high to Wyland, who made a fair catch on his own thirty-five yard line.

Varsity Makes Touchdown

Here the first team was given the ball in the center of the field and instructed to take it over. With Mendenhall and Scott gaining most of the ground and with the aid of a beautifully executed fake end run on which Scott bucked the line for twenty yards, the ball was put across the goal, and Kellogg held up his hands in big league style indicating the first score of the season.

It was then the turn of the seconds, and although it took them three or four more plays than it had the varsity, yet they were successful in a short space of time in ripping up the defense of the first eleven and crossing the goal line. Davis, who had starred on the defensive but a moment before, showed some skill in gaining ground and made trouble for the varsity ends from the first. It was Wyland who finally took the ball the last seven yards on a single play.

One forward pass enlivened the occasion. This was a short flip to Mendenhall who made a good grab but who was caught for no gain immediately after receiving the ball.

Keeps Men Out Late

With his first team and reserves all out of breath, Jones chased the two elevens to the gymnasium and spent fifteen minutes watching his third and fourth elevens go through a scrimmage. The third team was able to put over a touchdown, but the fourth eleven when on the offensive lost ground rather than gained it. Practice did not end until after 6 o'clock, the latest that Jones has kept his men on the field this year.

MARGUERITE CLARK A BRIDE

Marguerite Clark, the Famous Players-Paramount Star.

Thousands of times people have asked whether Marguerite Clark, star in Paramount Pictures produced by the Famous Players, is married.

Because of that she is herewith shown in her wedding gown.

But then the electrifying news that she is a bride should lose none of its effectiveness by the additional information that it pertains only to "Silks and Satins," her latest Paramount Picture, for there never was a bride more eligible for the "Isn't she sweet" chorus than dainty Miss Clark.
